New Quakes Ravage Three Greek Islands

Two Cities Destroyed; 120,000 Homeless

ATHENS, Greece, Aug. 12 (AP) — Two Ionian Sea island cities of ancient Greek memory were wiped out today by a series of nine new earthquakes that rocked and devastated three whole islands.

The destroyed cities were Argostolion, population 10,000 and Zakynthos, 11,315.

Flames in the wake of the quakes that began Sunday consumed what was left of Zakynthos. A member of Parliament, Kostas Voultsos of Zakynthos, reported the ruin of his home city late tonight in a radiogram from there.

Reports from the three wrecked islands of Ithaca, Kefallinia and Zakynthos said around 120,000 persons were left without shelter.

U. S. Britain Rush Aid

The U. S. Embassy sent its air attache on an air tour of the stricken islands during the day and reported to the State Department in Washington tonight "the enormity of the tragedy."

The United States, Britain and other foreign countries rushed to aid the Greek government in rescue work.

Messages were sent to Gen. David M. Schlatter, acting chief of the NATO southern command, and to the U. S. 6th Fleet advising of the need for help.

Reports to Athens said the earth shocks extended from the stricken west coast islands as far as Lamia in central Greece, but no damage was reported inland.

Hundreds Perish

Up to a late hour tonight there were no official estimates of casualties in the new wave of quakes. Unofficially, observers said the dead would total in the hundreds.

Many of the rescued stepped across the centuries on their arrival on the Greek mainland, never before having been away from the islands their ancestors had settled and fought over.

The Greek government, gravely concerned with providing aid for survivors, acknowledged the number of dead could not be reckoned yet.

Official reports Tuesday night had said 150 were dead. Survivors at that time estimated 400 were crushed to death and buried in debris.

600,000-Member Carpenter Union Quits AFL Ranks

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP) — The 600,000-member Brotherhood of Carpenters today withdrew from the American Federation of Labor.

The carpenters, one of the AFL's founding unions, quit the AFL ranks in an angry protest against the AFL Executive Council approving a "no-raiding" agreement with the CIO.

The council earlier had approved the "no raid" agreement designed to prohibit one union from seeking to take over membership of another union in a rival federation.

Union Boss Writes Meany

Notice of the carpenters' summary withdrawl from the AFL was served by Carpenters' Union President Maurice A. Hutcheson, in a letter to AFL President George Meany.

Meany, in making the letter public, said that the Executive Council on receiving the carpenters' withdrawal notice, had advanced other AFL vice presidents up a notch.

This means that the council considers that William A. Hutcheson, father of the president of the carpenters' union, and former head himself of the carpenters' union, is no longer the first vice president of the AFL.

Vice Presidents Advance

All executive Council members are AFL vice presidents. The AFL considers that the carpenter withdrawal means the withdrawal too, of Executive Council member Hutcheson and that all other AFL vice presidents would advance in line.

Meany said that the vacancy thus caused in the 13th vice presidency would be filled by selection of someone else at the present Executive Council meeting due to end Friday.

Carpenters' Union President Maurice Hutcheson, said in his letter to Meany that the union was immediately discontinuing its payment of per capital dues to the AFL.

Hundreds Join Hunt For Four Lost Boys

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 12 (AP)—Hundreds of volunteers scoured wooded Chesterfield County again tonight for four boys—one five and three seven—missing a day and a half.

The boys, barefooted and in play clothes, left their homes on the grounds of McGuire Veterans Administration Hospital about 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Soviet Air Force Evacuates Four E. German Bases

BERLIN, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Soviet Air Force has evacuated four important air bases in East Germany, it was confirmed tonight. Allied officers are temporarily baffled at how to analyze the move.

Carried out with startling speed, the withdrawal stripped Soviet airmen and warplanes from fields at Werneuchen, Neupetershain, Finsterwalde and Brand.

The Werneuchen base, 10 miles east of Berlin, has been largely dismantled. Installations, including reserve fuel tanks, have been shipped off by freight train in the direction of the Soviet Union, German underground informants disclosed.

Other Fields Intact

The other fields are still reported intact as far as ground facilities are concerned. But Soviet planes and personnel have been transferred elsewhere—"destination unknown."

The evacuation began secretly in July. It is now regarded as completed.

Pointing out that a score of Soviet bases and 600 single-jet fighters and twin-jet light bombers had been regularly maintained in East Germany since the outbreak of the Korean War, an Allied source commented:

"It's a cutdown, but the Russians still have lots of planes and fields on German territory between the Elbe and the Oder."

The evacuated fields have not been turned over to the East German luftpolizei (air police), a cadre of 10,000 for a future air force.

Luftpolizei Lacks Planes

Allied officers said this force is not yet trained or equipped to operate its own fields. It has received some schooling in Soviet MIGs, but the Russians have given it only a few old piston-engined aircraft to keep.

"Educated guesses" on the reasons behind the Soviet evacuation were ruled out by Allied officers until more information might be gathered.

Some of the transferred Soviet units possibly went to other bases inside East Germany. Some may have gone back to Russia on rotation, with replacements due here in the near future.

Fire Sweeps GM Plant, Kills Two

DETROIT, Aug. 12 (AP)—A 35 million dollar fire swept General Motors Corp.'s transmission plant in suburban Livonia late today, killing two men and injuring at least five other employes.

Set off by an explosion, the fire forced 3,500 workers to run for their lives. Some got out by smashing through windows.

Brought under control after a three hour battle, the fire left the huge plant a mass of smouldering debris.

The dead were identified as:

Lt. William G. Degner, 43, acting chief of the protection force of the plant's ternstedet division.

Dan Staley, of Inkster, Mich., whose body was recovered after rescue workers were able to get into the plant.

A spokesman for General Motors described the 4-year-old plant as almost a complete loss. James L. Hagen, Livonia's director of public safety, estimated the loss would run to 35 million dollars.

3 Demonstrators Killed

SRINAGAR, Kashmir, Aug. 12 (AP) — Three persons were killed today in demonstrations over the ouster of Premier Sheikh Abdullah last weekend.

Three others were killed last Sunday when news of the political upheaval spread through disputed Kashmir state.

E. German-China Pact

BERLIN, Aug. 12 (AP)—East Germany has signed an agreement to buy 50 million rubles ($12,500,000) worth of exports, including foodstuffs, from Red China during the remainder of 1953, it was announced tonight.

More Healthy Yanks Reach Freedom Gate

Driving Rainstorm Stops As Trucks Reach Panmunjom

PANMUNJOM, Thurs., Aug. 13 (AP) — A Communist truck carrying Americans and other Allied repatriates toward freedom overturned on the road from Kaesong today, injuring several men, but none seriously.

PANMUNJOM, Thursday, Aug. 13 (AP)—A reasonably healthy-looking mixed group of 100 Americans, British and South Korean war prisoners reached Freedom Gate today on the ninth day of Operation Big Switch.

Their repatriation trucks pulled in from Kaesong at 8:50 a. m. (6:50 p. m., Wednesday, EST) just as a driving rainstorm ended.

There were 25 Americans, 25 British and 50 South Koreans.

The heavy summer rain drove everyone to cover as the trucks neared the exchange point.

As they approached, American trucks carrying Red prisoners north passed. The Communists, classified as sick and injured, were singing in unison.

No Sick Or Injured

There were no sick and injured among the Allied group—at least by Communist standards.

The men climbed down the truck ladders quietly without help as their names were called.

The first American returned in today's exchange was Pfc. Clyde D. Boothe, U. S. 3rd Division, son of Mrs. Pearl Boothe, 1521 Water St., Brownsville, Pa.

During the heavy rain, one helicopter, with flying lights on, braved the storm to alight alongside the reception center.

Second Group Is Happy

The schedule today called for the return of 250 South Koreans, 75 Americans and 75 British.

At 9:45 a.m. (7:45 p.m. Wednesday, EST), 100 more happy, joking Allied prisoners were returned in the day's second delivery—25 Americans, 25 British and 50 South Koreans.

There were no sick and wounded in this group.

As the Communist trucks neared the U. N. reception center, one delighted American repatriate shouted "Look at that car." He pointed at a 1953 four-door sedan staff car parked in the area.

Dock Union Again Pledges Cleanup

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP) — The AFL's waterfront union today pledged anew to rid itself of hoodlums as President Eisenhower signed legislation establishing state control over New York and New Jersey piers.

The International Longshoremen's Association, (ILA), a 60,000-member AFL union accused of harboring racketeers and criminals, promised to do everything possible to stave off an imminent suspension from the AFL.

AFL President George Meany, however, indicated he was skeptical of the ILA's latest clean-up pledges, telling reporters:

"It's quite plain we want action and not promises of action."

Meanwhile, it was announced at President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in Denver that he has signed legislation setting up hiring and dock worker licensing powers for the states of New York and New Jersey.

Legislatures of the two states previously had adopted legislation creating a bi-state commission to handle pier controls. Congress approved the plan too, and it was this required sanction for bi-state cooperation on the problem that Eisenhower signed.

Refugee Boys' Camp

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Aug. 12 (AP)—More than 200 refugee boys will be flown from West Berlin to West Germany next week in U. S. Air Force planes for a vacation in a camp provided by the U. S. Army, it was announced today.

The refugees include Germans, Poles, Hungarians and Czechs. This is part of a scheme to give 1,000 West Berlin boys and girls a month's vacation in West Germany.

Marijuana Used To Bribe Prisoners, Returnee Says

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea, Thursday, Aug. 13 (AP)—A returned U. S. soldier said yesterday that Chinese captors sometimes bribed Americans with marijuana to get them to spy on their comrades in prison camps.

Most of the returning Americans bitterly denounced fellow prisoners who switched coats, turned pro-Communist and spied for Red camp bosses.

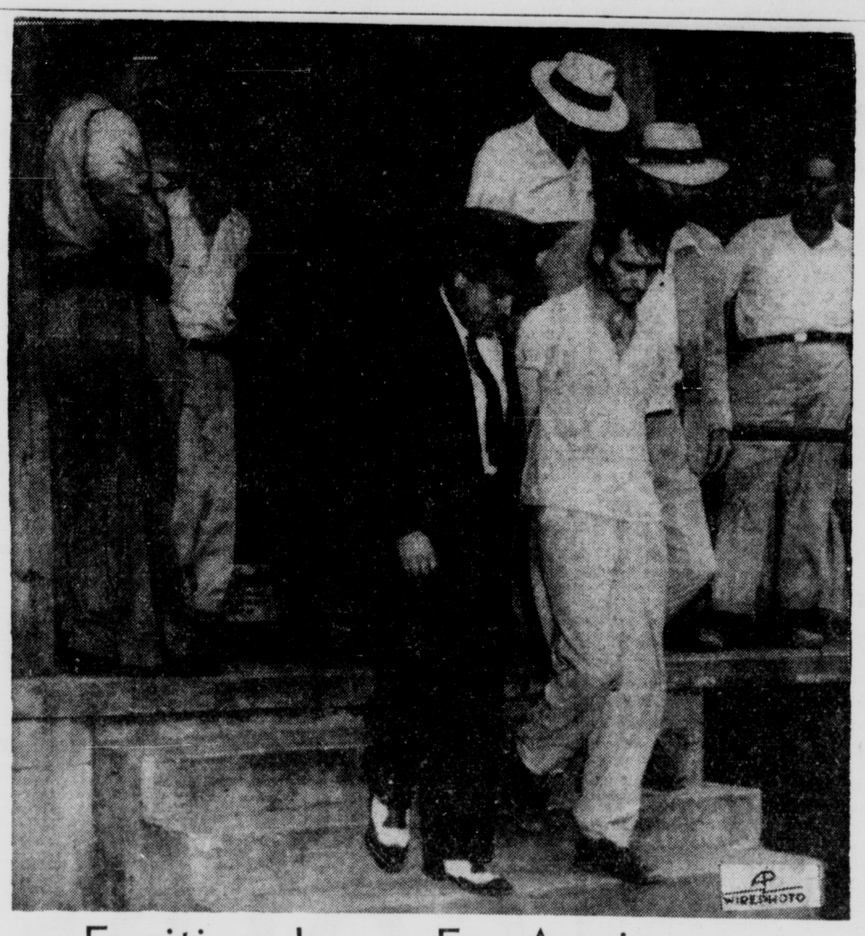
Another told of Allied airmen held in a "mystery" camp and their names never listed by Communist authorities.

Secretary of the Army Stevens, completing a tour of Korea, heard many of the stories. He promised a thorough investigation of the spy complaints and said "every conceivable effort" would be made to get back every U. S. prisoner.

Army authorities were getting a list of alleged pro-Communist Americans and those accused of spying. The returning Americans said they were eager to testify against the accused at courts-martial.

Pfc. Robert Chyers of Steele, Mo., said an American who was returned Wednesday "ratted" to the Chinese would pay him off in marijuana. He said he got 42 days in solitary because the informer "told the Chinese I was planning to kill Chinese."

"He is not a pro (progressive). He is a rat. He is in this group right here. Last night at Kaesong (where returning Allied prisoners are assembled) he was afraid to come into our room."



Fugitives Leave For Arraignment

Lewis Woodward Larson (bareheaded, on steps) and Eugene Juelich (bareheaded, rear) leave jail at Cartersville, Ga., yesterday for a trip to Rome, Ga., where they were arraigned in connection with the slaying of a U. S. deputy marshal four days ago. The pair was flushed from a ditch near Adairsville, Ga., yesterday by National Guardsmen who had been called in on the four-day manhunt.

Two Hunted In Killing Of Officer Surrender

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., Aug. 12 (AP) — Facing soldiers' rifles, two men hunted as desperate killers gave their pistols to a hostage today and surrendered meekly to answer charges of murdering a federal officer.

The men and their captive had lived through four days and nights, hungry, thirsty and miserable in a bush-shrouded ditch from which the outlaws were afraid to flee because of searching planes and prowling possemen.

Herbert Juelich, 25, and Lewis Larson, 31, two longtime lawbreakers from St. Paul, Minn., actually ventured only about two miles on foot into the northwest Georgia hills after abandoning a stolen car near Adairsville, Ga., Saturday afternoon.

Marshal Shot Five Times

Forced at pistol point to accompany them was George Hightower, 34, of Nashville, Tenn., deputized as a special guard to help Sam Vaughn, a U. S. deputy marshal from Murfreesboro, Tenn. to drive the two men from Nashville to Atlanta's federal penitentiary to start serving 5-year auto theft sentences.

Vaughn, 54-year-old father of 13 children, was killed by five bullets from his own pistol as the party drove along a highway near Adairsville in mid-afternoon Saturday. His body was kicked from the car and the fugitives drove away only to abandon the car a short distance away and take to the hills.

Alarm Spread By Farmer

A farmer saw the body dumped and spread the alarm that set off the biggest manhunt this area had seen. Two hundred and more FBI agents, state patrolmen and county officers searched the hills and fields fruitlessly while farmers and their families went about their chores with guns in hand or nearby.

The FBI office in Atlanta reported Larson and Hightower both named Juelich as the man who fired the shots which killed Vaughn. Juelich first denied recollection of what happened but later admitted the shooting, FBI agents said.

Grinning Churchill Pays Visit To Office

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill grinning and waving a cigar, paid an unexpected visit to his office at 10 Downing Street today. He had a three-hour chat with Foreign Office bigwigs.

The visit stirred immediate reports the 78-year-old statesman has fully recovered from his recent illness and is ready—if he has not done so already—to take over complete control of the government again.

The visit was Churchill's first to London since doctors announced June 27 that he had been ordered to take a month's rest or risk physical collapse. For the past two weeks he has been at Chequers, his country home, reportedly slowly getting his hands back on the helm of government.

Four Die In Crash Of Huge Transport

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass., Aug. 12 (AP)—A huge transport plane became a flaming cartwheel of death today when it crashed during a takeoff on a routine training flight, killing the Navy crew of four.

Witnesses said the four-engined R6D Douglas Liftmaster was about 200 feet above the runway when it went into a sideslip and crashed.

No other personnel than the crew was aboard the plane, which has a wing spread of 117 feet and can accommodate 64 passengers.

Hurricane Spotted Off Florida Coast

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 12 (AP) — The year's first hurricane formed in the Atlantic Ocean off the Florida east coast today and began moving slowly northward in the direction of the Carolinas.

Northeast storm warnings were hoisted on the Atlantic Coast from Myrtle Beach, S. C., to Cape Hatteras, N. C. The Miami Weather Bureau said winds would begin to increase on the Carolina coasts late tonight and reach gale force on the North Ctrolina coast tomorrow night.

The hurricane packed top winds of 85 to 90 miles per hour and was gaining power as it moved in a north-northwest direction at a forward speed of 8 to 10 m.p.h.

Communists Cite Geneva Convention

Claim "Criminals" Need Not Be Freed; Dulles Lambasted

TOKYO, Thursday, Aug. 13 (AP)—Peiping radio today claimed the Geneva Convention governing treatment of war prisoners gives the Communists the right to hold American and other Allied war prisoners awaiting Communist trial or already serving prison sentences.

The Red broadcast, heard in Tokyo, lambasted Secretary of State Dulles and accused him of "blackmail" in declaring yesterday the United States would take retaliatory steps if the Reds refuse to hand over all U. N. prisoners.

First Hint Of Red Attitude

Dulles said in Washington Tuesday that the U. N. Command would not return Chinese and North Korean Communist captives convicted of crimes "until we know the attitude of the Communists toward ours."

The Red broadcast today provided the first definite hint of the Red attitude toward an unknown number of captives being held back from exchange.

Scores of American prisoners reaching freedom at Panmunjom have revealed that many of their buddies were put on "trial" by the Reds and are being held back from repatriation.

Some GIs Given Three Years

Some have told of American soldiers getting up to three-year sentences for so-called crimes in the prisoner camps.

Peiping asserted that Dulles' demand that all POWs be released goes counter to the Geneva Convention.

The convention, said Peiping, provides that prisoners "against whom criminal proceedings for an indictable offense are pending may be detained until the end of such proceedings, and, if necessary, until the completion of the punishment. The same shall apply to prisoners of war already convicted for an indictable offense."

Laniel Declares He Will Oppose Strike To Finish

PARIS, Aug. 12 (AP) —Premier Joseph Laniel told French labor tonight he will not be pressured by any special interests into revoking his economy decrees and will oppose the nationwide strike movement to the finish.

In a radio address to the country on the seventh day of a strike wave which involves at least a million workers and threatens to send two million more out tomorrow in protest against his economy program, Laniel said:

"The organs of the state and the public services are sacred in the degree to which they symbolize the indispensable solidarity of the body social. Face to face with the strike which seeks to paralyze everything, I thus categorically answer, no. I say no to the strike, I say no to the pressure moves, direct or indirect, which have been imposed on the government; I say no to the accumulation of discomfort which those who are striking forget they are inflicting on the more numerous who are not on strike.

"I have, consequently, for the past two days, been putting everything in order so that defective services may be replaced where possible. We do not seek to win a trial by force. But the republican state has the duty to say no to the strike."

The strike wave was precipitated by the Laniel government's program of economizing through reductions in the public payrolls and extending the limit of retirement of civil servants—sore subjects in security—conscious France.

The strikes are crippling gas and electric supplies, railroads, coal mines, shipping, the health services, subway and municipal bus systems and postal, telegraph and telephone services. Air France planes, lacking service crews, failed to make some flights today.

Dulles Says Holdback Would Violate Truce

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles warned the Communists today that any retention of Allied prisoners will be regarded as a violation of the Korean armistice terms and the United Nations Command is prepared to take counter measures.

Dulles said the U. N. Command will hold back a large batch of Red prisoners, who committed crimes during their imprisonment, until the last phase of the current exchange of POWs—to make sure the Communists return Allied prisoners whom they have sentenced to prison.

The secretary told his news conference that an open violation of the truce terms would be grounds for raising the whole question of whether the armistice has broken down.

However, he cautioned against speculation that it might lead to a renewal of hostilities.

Editors Split On Whether Sen. McCarthy's Tactics Threatened Freedom Of Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP) — A special committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors split today on the question of whether tactics used by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) in the Wechsler case constituted a threat to U. S. freedom of the press.

The 11-man committee said in a report that opinion among its members ranged from the view that McCarthy infringed on press freedom by questioning Editor James A. Wechsler about editorial policies of the New York Post to the contrary view that the senator did no damage to this freedom.

"In between," the report added, "are committee members who were disturbed by the tenor of the investigation, but do not feel that this single interchange constituted a clear and present danger to freedom of the press justifying a specific challenge."

Four members of the committee, in a separate report, said flatly that McCarthy's methods did constitute a threat and "a peril to American freedom."

The full committee, which studied the case at Wechsler's request, said:

"If there is a genuine constitutional question here, then it should be raised and settled. Not being constitutional lawyers, the committee members obviously could offer only their several opinions, which would not provide any final answer.

"Since the committee is not in agreement on this crucial issue, it is the responsibility of every editor to read the transcript (of the Wechsler case) and decide for himself, and, if he likes, to try to convince the public his view is the correct one."

The case developed last spring when Wechsler testified at closed-door hearings before McCarthy's Senate investigations subcommittee.

The Senate group at the time was investigating charges of Communist infiltration in the U. S. overseas information program.

During the hearings, held last April 24 and May 5, McCarthy repeatedly questioned Wechsler about his acknowledged one-time Communist affiliations and about editorial policies of the New York Post.

Wechsler said he broke with the Reds in 1937 and became anti-Communist.

DETROIT, Aug. 12 (AP)—A 35 million dollar fire swept General Motors Corp.'s transmission plant in suburban Livonia late today, killing two men and injuring at least five other employes.

Set off by an explosion, the fire forced 3,500 workers to run for their lives. Some got out by smashing through windows.

Brought under control after a three hour battle, the fire left the huge plant a mass of smouldering debris.

The dead were identified as:

Lt. William G. Degner, 43, acting chief of the protection force of the plant's ternstedet division.

Dan Staley, of Inkster, Mich., whose body was recovered after rescue workers were able to get into the plant.

A spokesman for General Motors described the 4-year-old plant as almost a complete loss. James L. Hagen, Livohia's director of public safety, estimated the loss would run to 35 million dollars.

3 Demonstrators Killed

SRINAGAR, Kashmir, Aug. 12 (AP) — Three persons were killed today in demonstrations over the ouster of Premier Sheikh Abdullah last weekend.

Three others were killed last Sunday when news of the political upheaval spread through disputed Kashmir state.

Marijuana Used To Bribe Prisoners, Returnee Says

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea, Thursday, Aug. 13 (AP)—A returned U. S. soldier said yesterday that Chinese captors sometimes bribed Americans with marijuana to get them to spy on their comrades in prison camps.

Most of the returning Americans bitterly denounced fellow prisoners who switched coats, turned pro-Communist and spied for Red camp bosses.

Another told of Allied airmen held in a "mystery" camp and their names never listed by Communist authorities.

Secretary of the Army Stevens, completing a tour of Korea, heard many of the stories. He promised a thorough investigation of the spy complaints and said "every conceivable effort" would be made to get back every U. S. prisoner.

Army authorities were getting a list of alleged pro-Communist Americans and those accused of spying. The returning Americans said they were eager to testify against the accused at courts-martial.

Pfc. Robert Chyers of Steele, Mo., said an American who was returned Wednesday "ratted" to the Chinese would pay him off in marijuana. He said he got 42 days in solitary because the informer "told the Chinese I was planning to kill Chinese."

"He is not a pro (progressive). He is a rat. He is in this group right here. Last night at Kaesong (where returning Allied prisoners are assembled) he was afraid to come into our room."

More Healthy Yanks Reach Freedom Gate

Driving Rainstorm Stops As Trucks Reach Panmunjom

PANMUNJOM, Thurs., Aug. 13 (AP) — A Communist truck carrying Americans and other Allied repatriates toward freedom overturned on the road from Kaesong today, injuring several men, but none seriously.

PANMUNJOM, Thursday, Aug. 13 (AP)—A reasonably healthy-looking mixed group of 100 Americans, British and South Korean war prisoners reached Freedom Gate today on the ninth day of Operation Big Switch.

Their repatriation trucks pulled in from Kaesong at 8:50 a. m. (6:50 p. m., Wednesday, EST) just as a driving rainstorm ended.

There were 25 Americans, 25 British and 50 South Koreans.

The heavy summer rain drove everyone to cover as the trucks neared the exchange point.

As they approached, American trucks carrying Red prisoners north passed. The Communists, classified as sick and injured, were singing in unison.

No Sick Or Injured

There were no sick and injured among the Allied group—at least by Communist standards.

The men climbed down the truck ladders quietly without help as their names were called.

The first American returned in today's exchange was Pfc. Clyde D. Boothe, U. S. 3rd Division, son of Mrs. Pearl Boothe, 1521 Water St., Brownsville, Pa.

During the heavy rain, one helicopter, with flying lights on, braved the storm to alight alongside the reception center.

Second Group Is Happy

The schedule today called for the return of 250 South Koreans, 75 Americans and 75 British.

At 9:45 a.m. (7:45 p.m. Wednesday, EST), 100 more happy, joking Allied prisoners were returned in the day's second delivery—25 Americans, 25 British and 50 South Koreans.

There were no sick and wounded in this group.

As the Communist trucks neared the U. N. reception center, one delighted American repatriate shouted "Look at that car." He pointed at a 1953 four-door sedan staff car parked in the area.

Dock Union Again Pledges Cleanup

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP) — The AFL's waterfront union today pledged anew to rid itself of hoodlums as President Eisenhower signed legislation establishing state control over New York and New Jersey piers.

The International Longshoremen's Association, (ILA), a 60,000-member AFL union accused of harboring racketeers and criminals, promised to do everything possible to stave off an imminent suspension from the AFL.

AFL President George Meany, however, indicated he was skeptical of the ILA's latest clean-up pledges, telling reporters:

"It's quite plain we want action and not promises of action."

Meanwhile, it was announced at President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in Denver that he has signed legislation setting up hiring and dock worker licensing powers for the states of New York and New Jersey.

Legislatures of the two states previously had adopted legislation creating a bi-state commission to handle pier controls. Congress approved the plan too, and it was this required sanction for bi-state cooperation on the problem that Eisenhower signed.

Refugee Boys' Camp

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Aug. 12 (AP)—More than 200 refugee boys will be flown from West Berlin to West Germany next week in U. S. Air Force planes for a vacation in a camp provided by the U. S. Army, it was announced today.

The refugees include Germans, Poles, Hungarians and Czechs. This is part of a scheme to give 1,000 West Berlin boys and girls a month's vacation in West Germany.

Fugitives Leave For Arraignment

Lewis Woodward Larson (bareheaded, on steps) and Eugene Juelich (bareheaded, rear) leave jail at Cartersville, Ga., yesterday for a trip to Rome, Ga., where they were arraigned in connection with the slaying of a U. S. deputy marshal four days ago. The pair was flushed from a ditch near Adairsville, Ga., yesterday by National Guardsmen who had been called in on the four-day manhunt.

Two Hunted In Killing Of Officer Surrender

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., Aug. 12 (AP) — Facing soldiers' rifles, two men hunted as desperate killers gave their pistols to a hostage today and surrendered meekly to answer charges of murdering a federal officer.

The men and their captive had lived through four days and nights, hungry, thirsty and miserable in a bush-shrouded ditch from which the outlaws were afraid to flee because of searching planes and prowling possemen.

Herbert Juelich, 25, and Lewis Larson, 31, two longtime lawbreakers from St. Paul, Minn., actually ventured only about two miles on foot into the northwest Georgia hills after abandoning a stolen car near Adairsville, Ga., Saturday afternoon.

Marshal Shot Five Times

Forced at pistol point to accompany them was George Hightower, 34, of Nashville, Tenn., deputized as a special guard to help Sam Vaughn, a U. S. deputy marshal from Murfreesboro, Tenn. to drive the two men from Nashville to Atlanta's federal penitentiary to start serving 5-year auto theft sentences.

Vaughn, 54-year-old father of 13 children, was killed by five bullets from his own pistol as the party drove along a highway near Adairsville in mid-afternoon Saturday. His body was kicked from the car and the fugitives drove away only to abandon the car a short distance away and take to the hills.

Alarm Spread By Farmer

A farmer saw the body dumped and spread the alarm that set off the biggest manhunt this area had seen. Two hundred and more FBI agents, state patrolmen and county officers searched the hills and fields fruitlessly while farmers and their families went about their chores with guns in hand or nearby.

The FBI office in Atlanta reported Larson and Hightower both named Juelich as the man who fired the shots which killed Vaughn. Juelich first denied recollection of what happened but later admitted the shooting, FBI agents said.

Grinning Churchill Pays Visit To Office

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill grinning and waving a cigar, paid an unexpected visit to his office at 10 Downing Street today. He had a three-hour chat with Foreign Office bigwigs.

The visit stirred immediate reports the 78-year-old statesman has fully recovered from his recent illness and is ready—if he has not done so already—to take over complete control of the government again.

The visit was Churchill's first to London since doctors announced June 27 that he had been ordered to take a month's rest or risk physical collapse. For the past two weeks he has been at Chequers, his country home, reportedly slowly getting his hands back on the helm of government.

Four Die In Crash Of Huge Transport

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass., Aug. 12 (AP)—A huge transport plane became a flaming cartwheel of death today when it crashed during a takeoff on a routine training flight, killing the Navy crew of four.

Witnesses said the four-engined R6D Douglas Liftmaster was about 200 feet above the runway when it went into a sideslip and crashed.

No other personnel than the crew was aboard the plane, which has a wing spread of 117 feet and can accommodate 64 passengers.

Hurricane Spotted Off Florida Coast

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 12 (AP) — The year's first hurricane formed in the Atlantic Ocean off the Florida east coast today and began moving slowly northward in the direction of the Carolinas.

Northeast storm warnings were hoisted on the Atlantic Coast from Myrtle Beach, S. C., to Cape Hatteras, N. C. The Miami Weather Bureau said winds would begin to increase on the Carolina coasts late tonight and reach gale force on the North Ctrolina coast tomorrow night.

The hurricane packed top winds of 85 to 90 miles per hour and was gaining power as it moved in a north-northwest direction at a forward speed of 8 to 10 m.p.h.

Laniel Declares He Will Oppose Strike To Finish

PARIS, Aug. 12 (AP) —Premier Joseph Laniel told French labor tonight he will not be pressured by any special interests into revoking his economy decrees and will oppose the nationwide strike movement to the finish.

In a radio address to the country on the seventh day of a strike wave which involves at least a million workers and threatens to send two million more out tomorrow in protest against his economy program, Laniel said:

"The organs of the state and the public services are sacred in the degree to which they symbolize the indispensable solidarity of the body social. Face to face with the strike which seeks to paralyze everything, I thus categorically answer, no. I say no to the strike, I say no to the pressure moves, direct or indirect, which have been imposed on the government; I say no to the accumulation of discomfort which those who are striking forget they are inflicting on the more numerous who are not on strike.

"I have, consequently, for the past two days, been putting everything in order so that defective services may be replaced where possible. We do not seek to win a trial by force. But the republican state has the duty to say no to the strike."

The strike wave was precipitated by the Laniel government's program of economizing through reductions in the public payrolls and extending the limit of retirement of civil servants—sore subjects in security—conscious France.

The strikes are crippling gas and electric supplies, railroads, coal mines, shipping, the health services, subway and municipal bus systems and postal, telegraph and telephone services. Air France planes, lacking service crews, failed to make some flights today.

Communists Cite Geneva Convention

Claim "Criminals" Need Not Be Freed; Dulles Lambasted

TOKYO, Thursday, Aug. 13 (AP)—Peiping radio today claimed the Geneva Convention governing treatment of war prisoners gives the Communists the right to hold American and other Allied war prisoners awaiting Communist trial or already serving prison sentences.

The Red broadcast, heard in Tokyo, lambasted Secretary of State Dulles and accused him of "blackmail" in declaring yesterday the United States would take retaliatory steps if the Reds refuse to hand over all U. N. prisoners.

First Hint Of Red Attitude

Dulles said in Washington Tuesday that the U. N. Command would not return Chinese and North Korean Communist captives convicted of crimes "until we know the attitude of the Communists toward ours."

The Red broadcast today provided the first definite hint of the Red attitude toward an unknown number of captives being held back from exchange.

Scores of American prisoners reaching freedom at Panmunjom have revealed that many of their buddies were put on "trial" by the Reds and are being held back from repatriation.

Some GIs Given Three Years

Some have told of American soldiers getting up to three-year sentences for so-called crimes in the prisoner camps.

Peiping asserted that Dulles' demand that all POWs be released goes counter to the Geneva Convention.

The convention, said Peiping, provides that prisoners "against whom criminal proceedings for an indictable offense are pending may be detained until the end of such proceedings, and, if necessary, until the completion of the punishment. The same shall apply to prisoners of war already convicted for an indictable offense."

Dulles Says Holdback Would Violate Truce

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles warned the Communists today that any retention of Allied prisoners will be regarded as a violation of the Korean armistice terms and the United Nations Command is prepared to take counter measures.

Dulles said the U. N. Command will hold back a large batch of Red prisoners, who committed crimes during their imprisonment, until the last phase of the current exchange of POWs—to make sure the Communists return Allied prisoners whom they have sentenced to prison.

The secretary told his news conference that an open violation of the truce terms would be grounds for raising the whole question of whether the armistice has broken down.

However, he cautioned against speculation that it might lead to a renewal of hostilities.

Editors Split On Whether Sen. McCarthy's Tactics Threatened Freedom Of Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP) — A special committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors split today on the question of whether tactics used by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) in the Wechsler case constituted a threat to U. S. freedom of the press.

The 11-man committee said in a report that opinion among its members ranged from the view that McCarthy infringed on press freedom by questioning Editor James A. Wechsler about editorial policies of the New York Post to the contrary view that the senator did no damage to this freedom.

"In between," the report added, "are committee members who were disturbed by the tenor of the investigation, but do not feel that this single interchange constituted a clear and present danger to freedom of the press justifying a specific challenge."

Four members of the committee, in a separate report, said flatly that McCarthy's methods did constitute a threat and "a peril to American freedom."

The full committee, which studied the case at Wechsler's request, said:

"If there is a genuine constitutional question here, then it should be raised and settled. Not being constitutional lawyers, the committee members obviously could offer only their several opinions, which would not provide any final answer.

"Since the committee is not in agreement on this crucial issue, it is the responsibility of every editor to read the transcript (of the Wechsler case) and decide for himself, and, if he likes, to try to convince the public his view is the correct one."

The case developed last spring when Wechsler testified at closed-door hearings before McCarthy's Senate investigations subcommittee.

The Senate group at the time was investigating charges of Communist infiltration in the U. S. overseas information program.

During the hearings, held last April 24 and May 5, McCarthy repeatedly questioned Wechsler about his acknowledged one-time Communist affiliations and about editorial policies of the New York Post.

Wechsler said he broke with the Reds in 1937 and became anti-Communist.

AP Newsman Flies Over Greek Isles

Editor's Note: Paul Hurmuses of The Associated Press staff in Athens flew over the quake-stricken Ionian Sea islands by plane Wednesday to obtain this eyewitness account of the tragedy.

By PAUL HURMUSES

ABOARD A U. S. MILITARY PLANE OVER THE IONIAN SEA, Aug. 12 (AP)—Many Greeks were dead, nearly 120,000 were homeless and earthquakes continued to rip their ancient towns and dwellings apart today in three Ionian Sea islands off the west coast of Greece.

A pall of smoke and death hung over them.

The disaster started four days ago, in the Sunday morning quiet.

The strong earth shocks hit first on Ithaca, northernmost of the three islands. Yesterday and today they had struck Kefallinia (Cephalonia) and Zaykynthos to the south.

In the wake of the fearful tremors recorded in Athens, nearly all the 120,000 islanders were without shelter. Their homes were crushed to rubble.

Untold hundreds apparently lay dead or dying. Official reports of the death toll were lacking; the first consideration now was aid for the stricken.

Ships plied into the island's ports empty and came away full of human misery being ferried to the safety of the mainland.

Greece asked the United States to send a hospital ship and as many helicopters as possible. They are being sent from Mediterranean bases.

Below this plane, flying 100 feet over Kefallinia's treetops, hundreds of Greeks waved an SOS with blankets and pieces of tattered cloth and flashed mirrors reflecting the sun.

What homes or other structures remained upright in the ravaged villages stood at crazy angles.

A church spire was still recognizable, but it lay flat. A nearby flock of sheep scattered in all directions. We couldn't tell whether they were frightened by the roar of the plane or another sickening earth shock.

Along the steep mountains which plunge straight into the sea, great slabs fell off and stirred the muddy waters for miles around.

Argostolion once was a proud port. Now it is a complete wreck.

In the harbor tiny craft scurried around a Greek navy landing ship bringing food and supplies for the stricken population.

Across the harbor at Lixouri there was the same sight—a flattened town.

The real shock came 15 minutes later at Zakynthos. There was the awesome sight of smoke and flames shooting hundreds of feet in the air above the ghost town.

In the harbor there were three caiques (small boats) so overloaded with humanity they looked as though they would sink any minute.

Outside Zakynthos a small hillside was covered with fleeing townspeople, all waving at the plane.

Truman Says He Doesn't Expect To Head College

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—Former president Harry Truman said today he does "not expect to be a college president" and a regent of the University of Maryland said he will oppose such a nomination.

The Baltimore News-Post reported yesterday that Truman was being considered for the presidency of the University of Maryland.

The University presidency is to be open in January of 1955. Dr. H. C. Byrd, the incumbent, has asked the regents to replace him then. Dr. Byrd is considered a Democratic candidate for governor of Maryland who will take office in January, 1955.

A committee of the regents has been named to choose a successor.

Piccioni Fails In Cabinet Bid

ROME, Aug. 12 (AP)—Italy plunged deeper into political crisis tonight following collapse of Attilio Piccioni's efforts to patch together a new center bloc cabinet.

His surprise announcement of failure—at the hour when he had been expected to announce a new cabinet succeeding the fallen Christian Democratic government of ex-Premier Alcide De Gasperi—tossed the problem back to President Luigi Einaudi.

The President appeared to have only three choices:

1. Appeal to De Gasperi to try again to form a mid-road coalition.
2. Seek a new Centrist leader who could come to terms with either the Socialist left or the Monarchist right.
3. Call a new election in hopes that some one party would win a parliamentary majority.

Former Paratrooper Held On Rape Charge

WINCHESTER, Va., Aug. 12 (AP)—Commonwealth's Attorney Joseph A. Massie Jr. said today Joseph Edward Ogurcak, 24, of Lebanon, Pa. is in jail here on a charge of rape involving a 10-year-old Negro girl.

Ogurcak, father of a 3-year-old child, was arrested Sunday night in Martinsburg, W. Va., 22 miles north of here, and returned to Winchester. Massie said Ogurcak pleaded innocent at a preliminary hearing yesterday but later became so unruly the hearing was postponed until Monday.

Ogurcak, a former paratrooper, came to Winchester to participate in an air show which was rained out.

20 Bills Signed By Eisenhower

DENVER, Aug. 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed 20 bills today, made 12 appointments and then took off for the mountains for an afternoon of fishing.

He also announced that he will break his vacation for one day next week to go to New York to register for the city elections in the fall and dedicate a housing project.

Among the batch of bills, first to be signed since the President arrived here for his vacation, was one designed to bring an end to labor racketeering on the New York water front.

It provides a New York-New Jersey commission to control working and hiring conditions.

Most of the other bills covered claims of individuals against the government or matters which affect small regions of the country.

President Eisenhower will take action on the remaining bills by the weekend, James G. Hagerty, press secretary, said.

Ninety-seven of the bills, passed in the recent session of Congress, arrived in today's pouch from Washington.

The remaining 13 are expected here by tomorrow.

17 Sick And Weary Yanks, Former POWs, Flown Home

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Aug. 12 (AP)—Seventeen sick and weary Americans were flown here today, the first prisoners of war released since the Korean truce to reach the mainland.

Some of them smiled, because they were home at last.

And there were tears, too, as two mothers and a father awaited with their embraces.

Newsmen were not permitted to talk to the men. "Failure to grant interviews," said Col. William F. DeWitt, base hospital commander, "is based solely on medical grounds."

All of the men, 16 soldiers and a lone Marine, were carried on stretchers from the big C54 plane which flew them overnight from Hawaii.

Fourteen of them are active tuberculosis patients, said Col. DeWitt, and three are mental cases.

Many of the men still had flowered leis, given them in Hawaii, atop their blankets.

They were to be flown on as soon as possible to where they can get the best treatment nearest their homes. The first load was to go tonight.

The first man out of the plane was Marine Pfc. Alfred P. Graham Jr. His mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred P. Graham, of Arlington, Va., were there to comfort him for a sad and happy moment.

Graham was a prisoner of the Communists for 21 months and his parents received a dozen letters from him. Davis was reported missing in February, 1951, and his mother first heard from him a year ago.

Graham and another POW returnee from Virginia, Pvt. Willie B. Hatcher of Farmville, will recuperate at the U. S. Naval Hospital, St. Albans, N. Y.

Worker Saved Life Because He Dived

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—William Andrews lived today because he dived and didn't try to climb when five tons of dried coconut caved in on him.

The 40-year-old Negro climbed into a bin to see what had fouled up the flow of 10,000 pounds of copra onto a conveyor belt.

He was kicking away at the coconut jam when it started to fall on him. He plunged for a chute at the bottom and got his head and shoulders through so he could breathe while fellow workmen worked an hour and half to free him.

Among the batch of bills, first to be signed since the President arrived here for his vacation, was one designed to bring an end to labor racketeering on the New York water front.

It provides a New York-New Jersey commission to control working and hiring conditions.

Most of the other bills covered claims of individuals against the government or matters which affect small regions of the country.

President Eisenhower will take action on the remaining bills by the weekend, James G. Hagerty, press secretary, said.

Ninety-seven of the bills, passed in the recent session of Congress, arrived in today's pouch from Washington.

The remaining 13 are expected here by tomorrow.

17 Sick And Weary Yanks, Former POWs, Flown Home

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Aug. 12 (AP)—Seventeen sick and weary Americans were flown here today, the first prisoners of war released since the Korean truce to reach the mainland.

Some of them smiled, because they were home at last.

And there were tears, too, as two mothers and a father awaited with their embraces.

Newsmen were not permitted to talk to the men. "Failure to grant interviews," said Col. William F. DeWitt, base hospital commander, "is based solely on medical grounds."

All of the men, 16 soldiers and a lone Marine, were carried on stretchers from the big C54 plane which flew them overnight from Hawaii.

Fourteen of them are active tuberculosis patients, said Col. DeWitt, and three are mental cases.

Many of the men still had flowered leis, given them in Hawaii, atop their blankets.

They were to be flown on as soon as possible to where they can get the best treatment nearest their homes. The first load was to go tonight.

The first man out of the plane was Marine Pfc. Alfred P. Graham Jr. His mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred P. Graham, of Arlington, Va., were there to comfort him for a sad and happy moment.

Graham was a prisoner of the Communists for 21 months and his parents received a dozen letters from him. Davis was reported missing in February, 1951, and his mother first heard from him a year ago.

Graham and another POW returnee from Virginia, Pvt. Willie B. Hatcher of Farmville, will recuperate at the U. S. Naval Hospital, St. Albans, N. Y.

Worker Saved Life Because He Dived

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—William Andrews lived today because he dived and didn't try to climb when five tons of dried coconut caved in on him.

The 40-year-old Negro climbed into a bin to see what had fouled up the flow of 10,000 pounds of copra onto a conveyor belt.

He was kicking away at the coconut jam when it started to fall on him. He plunged for a chute at the bottom and got his head and shoulders through so he could breathe while fellow workmen worked an hour and half to free him.

Dulles Accepts Soviet H-Bomb Claim With Some Skepticism

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today American detection instruments have yet to pick up any trace of a hydrogen explosion in Soviet Russia—either before or after Moscow's boast of having solved the secret of the H-bomb. 6

"We can only accept with some skepticism the statement of the Soviet prime minister in that respect," Dulles told a news conference.

The United States, he said, has "no independent evidence to support the correctness" of Premier Georgi Malenkov's announcement last Saturday implying that Russia has broken the U. S. monopoly on H-bomb production.

Dulles did not elaborate on his mention of American detection apparatus, but it has been widely reported that such U. S. devices have picked up evidence of previous atomic explosions in Russia.

Dulles was the first top-ranking official in the Eisenhower administration to express somewhat cautious skepticism about the veracity of Malenkov's announcement last weekend, in which the Soviet leader declared:

"The Government deems it necessary to report to the Supreme Soviet that the United States has no monopoly in the production of the hydrogen bomb."

Few Eisenhower administration leaders have publicly commented on Malenkov's assertion. Lewis Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said Saturday that he believed Russia had the capability to produce the hydrogen bomb and this was the reason the United States launched its hydrogen development program three years ago.

Dulles talked only briefly about this development with reporters in discussing Malenkov's hydrogen bombspeech. He devoted most of his analysis to calling attention to Malenkov's announced decision to step up production of critically short consumers' goods with the Soviet Union.

Dulles called this "quite novel" and an admission that Russia in the past has failed to give adequate return to Soviet workers. Further, he said, Malenkov also admits that Russian "despotism is so absolute that the people themselves have no knowledge" of what their rulers intend to do.

The Secretary said he very much hoped Russian factories would turn out more consumer items because it would mean "a less percentage of Soviet effort will be diverted into the mechanisms of war."

Any move by the Kremlin to give the Russian people greater control over their own government, he said, would greatly ease world tensions.

Soviet Expert Thinks USSR Has H-Bomb

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP) — Harry Schwartz, analyst of Soviet affairs for the New York Times, said today "we should expect" that the Russians are producing all weapons, including the hydrogen bomb.

Schwartz addressed a Johns Hopkins University conference on Soviet imperialism, discussing the problem in economic terms.

The several hundred people at the meeting have been interested in expert estimates of Russia's hydrogen bomb potential because of Premier Malenkov's claim last week that the United States no longer has a monopoly of that weapon.

French Divers Break Record

TOULON, France, Aug. 12 (AP)—The French Navy Ministry announced today that two of its naval officers had descended nearly a mile below the surface of the ocean, the lowest point ever reached by man under water.

The ministry said the men, Capt. Houet and Engineer's Mate Willm, had plunged 1,550 meters, or 5,082 feet, in a French bathysphere.

The plunge lasted two hours and 34 minutes, with the descent taking an hour and a half and the return to the surface about an hour.

Capt. Houet plans to make a third plunge Friday during which he will try to reach 2,000 meters.

Auguste Piccard, the Swiss-Belgian stratosphere balloon scientist, also is planning a descent into the ocean depths. With his 28-year-old son, Jacques, he tried out a new bathysphere at Castellamare, Italy, today and descended to a depth of 48 feet to test the diving apparatus for leaks.

He said he hopes to descend to nearly three miles soon. Prof. Piccard made a similar attempt off the West African coast in 1948, but was defeated by damage to the equipment after a practice dip.

Wheat Marketing Quotas

The major wheat producers of the nation face a reduction of income next year. They have now to decide whether to accept government marketing quotas limiting the 1954 crop to 62 million acres, more than 20 per cent fewer than this year, or to sow wheat without government restrictions and accept much lower price supports.

If their decision is in favor of marketing quotas, price supports on wheat will continue at 90 per cent of parity. If they reject, price supports could drop to 50 per cent of parity. The latter level would mean a support price of as low as $1.23 a bushel, perhaps an even lower market price.

Only about 800,000 of the nation's 2,000,000 wheat growers will vote. The rest are small farmers, with less than 15 acres in wheat; together they produce less than 15 per cent of the wheat grown in this country. By law, two-thirds of the farmers participating must okay marketing quotas before the controls may be imposed.

Wheat price drops of almost seven cents a bushel in frenzied selling in recent days reflect fears of traders that farmers may vote against quotas. Large commercial growers west of the Mississippi are more likely to favor quotas than are small producers in Eastern states.

Despite severe drought in central and southern Great Plains states, the U. S. Department of Agriculture forecast for this year's wheat crop rises steadily. Winter wheat was above average; the spring crop was not far from a record high. As of May 1, the estimate was for 1,014,000,000 bushels, 31 per cent smaller than the 1952 record crop. On July 1 the forecast for this year had risen to 1,174,708,000 bushels.

The present wheat crop is above average, but the real cause of the present glut are a reserve or carry-over of about 580 million bushels in July—the third largest in history—and a falling off of wheat exports in the current marketing season. The prospect for July 1, 1954, is a carryover of 700 million bushels, exceeding the record carry-over of 631 million bushels in 1942.

Referenda on marketing quotas were held in 1941 and 1942. The votes then went heavily in favor of quotas.

In late June 1952 Secretary of Agriculture Brannan announced that uncertainty of world conditions justified the department in failing to impose acreage allotments and marketing quotas for the 1953 crop. The secretary has discretionary power to continue supports without wheat controls.

Now Secretary Benson says "all-out production was continued too long" after World War II, though he disclaims any intent to influence the August 14 vote. A sharp drop in the support price of wheat, according to the National Farmers Union, could set off "a succession of time bombs" that could push all farm prices drastically down.

Furor About Jerusalem

Almost all the non-Communist diplomatic missions in Israel have been boycotting that state's Foreign Ministry offices in Jerusalem since these were moved there from Tel Aviv on July 12. But Russia and its satellites, always eager to do what the non-Communist states don't do, have transferred their diplomats to Jerusalem.

The non-Communist states regard the shift of the Israeli Foreign Ministry as a slap in the face for the U.N. The U.N. General Assembly has twice voted, in 1947 and again in 1949, for internationalization of the Holy City.

Secretary of States Dulles disclosed on July 28 that the United States had asked the Israeli government not to make the shift. Dulles said that Israel's action had not only "embarrassed" the U.N., but had made even more bitter and dangerous the animosity between the Jews and the Arabs.

Israeli spokesmen unofficially called the Dulles statement just another indication that the Eisenhower administration was pro-Arab. On the other hand, the delegates to the U.N. from six Arab states jointly denounced the United States on August 4 for not actually preventing the transfer of the Israeli Foreign Ministry. Those Arab delegates are to meet on today steps to be taken in U.N. in opposition to the transfer.

Jerusalem today is divided between an Israel-held area, with about three-fourths of the city's population, and a Jordan-held area, containing many of the "Holy Places." The Jordanis, unlike the other Arabs, are opposed to internationalizing the city. The Israelis had located many of their government offices in Jerusalem before moving their Foreign Ministry there, and like to refer to it as their capital.

Russia Stalls

Russia has replied to the Western note of three weeks earlier proposing foreign ministers' talks on concrete issues relating to Germany and Austria, but what has she said? Nobody seems to know. A State Department spokesman of whom this question was asked merely compounded the confusion by his inconclusive answer. He said in part:

"The Soviet reply does not appear to reject the proposal of a four-power foreign ministers' meeting, but there is so much ambiguity in the language that a great deal more study, including consultation with the British and the French, must be given before a reply can be drafted."

Russia, in short, has been coy. She hasn't said yes and she hasn't said no. According to her note, she wants peace, but she doesn't like this approach to peace. She wants to hold some kind of conference, but not the kind the West proposed. She wants to talk things over, but not the same things the West wants to talk over. She would like to meet some time or other, but she has not accepted the West's invitation for a specific meeting at a specific time.

So Russia is obviously stalling. It is noteworthy that since Stalin's death the specific suggestions looking toward peace in Europe have all come from the West. Russia has replied with airy generalities, but has made no specific suggestions. Nobody is so hot for peace in the abstract and so coy about concrete proposals for peace as the Kremlin.

The Moscow Reds will meet with the West when they're good and ready, but it is plain that they are not ready now.

How To Keep Well

Accident Prevention Pays

Judy developed polio and after seven months of constant attention she was pronounced well. It had been a hectic convalescent period for her parents who left no stone unturned in their efforts to get her well. A year later she stumbled while going down the basement stairs, struck her spine, and was left paralyzed. It is easy to say that this was an ironical situation because she escaped paralysis from the disorder that has the worst reputation for producing it. But this story is not unlikely because accidents cripple more children under five than any other condition.

This fact was stressed recently by Lawrence J. Linck, executive director of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. He reported that accidents permanently cripple 48,000 American children annually and another 1½ million sustain injuries necessitating medical attention. This makes accidents the public enemy No. 1 of our boys and girls. Furthermore, accidents are the most common cause of death in the first 25 years of life and in the 15-20 age bracket are responsible for more deaths than appendicitis, tuberculosis, and heart disease combined. These figures are facts, not estimates. Doubting Thomases will learn something by sitting at the desk of the emergency entrance of any hospital for 48 to 72 hours.

There is no easy solution of the problem and anything I might say has been said a thousand times before. At present, our only way to strike back lies in the hope that repetition will make every one safety conscious. Parents also can help by supporting safety campaigns and other measures in the community and school.

How do we educate our children to be careful? This is best done by setting a good example and taking advantage of any occasion presented to teach safety. I know many parents who avoid accident scenes because they cannot stand to see blood or do not wish to be considered overly curious. On the other hand, there is no better time to show a child what happens to a playmate who fails to look in both directions before crossing the street. The sight leaves an impression that lectures and warnings never bring. The same can be said when drownings or fire occur or a playmate has a narrow escape with a BB gun or is cut with a knife. Take these opportunities to hammer away at accident prevention.

Some accidents cannot be helped but they are the exceptions. Injury resulting from a fall, for example, is a frequent mishap but falling downstairs, off porch railings, or out the window is more serious. Many of these misadventures would never happen if parents could realize that windows, stairs, and porches are hazardous places. Last year, 1,900 children died from burns. Poisoning also is high on the list. Every woman's magazine warns of the perils that lurk in the medicine cabinet and the consequences of putting cleaning solutions in pop bottles and lye in milk bottles. To the average child, a pop bottle contains pop and a milk bottle contains milk and he cannot be blamed for wanting a taste. Handling guns and firearms is another troublemaker, yet if every man, woman, and child considered that all guns are loaded, they would never point a gun at anyone, even in fun.

(We have additional suggestions for accident prevention among children. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for this leaflet).

SUFFERS FROM HEAT

Mrs. Y. writes: My 10-year-old boy suffers terribly from the heat, even when not out in the sun. He becomes weak, develops headache, and complains of stomach pains. His heart is O. K., the doctor says. Giving him salt and orange juice do no good. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

Some persons are born without a satisfactory air conditioning unit (heat regulating machinery). They do not sweat, consequently when the outside temperature goes up, the body cannot adjust to heat and fever ensues. If special tests verify this possibility, either the boy must be kept in an air conditioned room during the heat of the day or he should be taken to a cooler climate for the summer.

PORKWORM SYMPTOMS

B. G. writes: In trichinosis, how long after eating underdone, infected pork do symptoms appear?

REPLY

Nausea, vomiting, and diarrhea appear within one to four days; on the seventh day, migration of the larvae to the muscles begins and the individual develops fever and suffers from muscular weakness and pain. Puffiness of the eyelids and various other symptoms accompany this stage. After the organism becomes firmly embedded in the muscle fiber encystment) vague muscle ache may be noted.

(Editor's Note—Drew Person's brass ring, good for a free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, today goes to Generals Omar Bradley and J. Lawton Collins as they retire from the Joint Chiefs of Staff).

WASHINGTON—Two great Army officers with a long record of public service retire today. With their retirement may come a drastic change in military policy.

If I were to try to put my finger on the chief qualities of Gen. Omar Bradley and Gen. Joe Lawton Collins in their work as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and as Army Chief of Staff, I would summarize it:

Though great military men they are civilian-minded.

Thougs great combat soldiers the thing they hate most is to see men die. Though they dislike disagreemnt, they champion the right of others to disagree. Though trained to fight wars, they leaned over backward to prevent war.

In these days when Russia probably has the H-bomb and when wars can come at the drop of a hat, these qualities are vitally important.

Unfortunately the man who replaces Bradley as chairman of the Joint Chiefs, Adm. Arthur Radford, has not always shown these same qualities.

Ike's Strange Decision

And with the President of the United States having ordered the Joint Chiefs of Staff, at the recent Quantico conference, to bring him only unanimous decisions, the personality of the new chairman can influence the lives of millions.

Furthermore, the instruction of President Eisenhower that he wants no disagreement from his Joint Chiefs is one of the most important—and sobering—statements the new President has ever made. For it is the constitutional duty of the President as commander-in-chief to get all points of view among his military advisers, to review their agreements and disagreements, then make up his own mind.

However, the new President, himself a military man, told the Joint Chiefs he wanted no split decisions, no minority-majority reports. He instructed the Army, Navy and Air Force to be unanimous before bringing a decision to him.

NOTE—Generals Omar Bradley and Joe Collins have sat through plenty of tough debates on the Joint Chiefs of Staff and have not hesitated to tell their commander-in-chief that they could not agree. Usually Bradley and Collins have agreed as between each other. But they have frequently disagreed with the Navy over the importance of Formosa, the use of Chiang Kai-shek's troops in Korea or the use of super-airplane carriers against B-36's.

Two Types of Brass

There are two types of officers among the top brass of the Pentagon: 1, the humble, civilian type, GI type officer; 2, The aggressive, politically minded officer who likes to barge into the civilian field of government.

Bradley and Collins belong in the first group.

Joe Collins won fame as the general who captured one of the most difficult cities in the Normandy invasion—Cherbourg. He is one of the few Pentagon officers upon whose desk you will find a Bible. As head of the Army's Instruction and Education Division, he pushed the betterment of the enlisted man. Consistently he has preached the idea that the backbone of the Army is its non-coms and junior officers.

Omar Bradley is so mild-mannered you wonder how he could ever order troops into battle. Yet it was he who handled the combat strategy for Eisenhower during the historic invasion of France and Germany. And while the much-publicized Field Marshal Montgomery was still sitting at Caen near the Normandy coast, Bradley was romping up to the Rhine.

Bradley's only real differences with Eisenhower were:

1. When Ike diverted gasoline and men away from both Patton and Bradley to Montgomery at a time when Bradley and Patton were convinced they could have penetrated Germany and won the war before Christmas.

2. When Ike wanted to run for President in 1948. Bradley, as one of his oldest friends, helped argue him out of it, told him politics was no place for a military man, that he would be a fish out of water. Ike listened in '48. Bradley got no chance to talk in '52.

Dynamic Radford

The man who succeeds Omar Bradley as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff literally talked his way into the job. When the President-elect was en route to Korea last December, his plane stopped for one hour in Iwo Jima to refuel. During that hour, redheaded Adm. Arthur Radford took him on a leg-stretching workout around the island during which he talked brilliantly about using Chiang Kai-shek's navy against the China mainland, about using Chiangs troops in Korea.

At the end of that hour, Ike said to his pilot: "Can't we make room for Admiral Radford on the plane?"

After that, the stormy petrel of the Navy was as good as in. Returning on the cruiser Helena, he got to know the new secretary of Defense, Charlie Wilson, and having persuaded Ike to play golf in Honolulu, Radford put him up in his own quarters and, like the busy bee, improved each shining hour.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Speaker Martin and those who helped him prepare the television script on the first six months of the Eisenhower administration and the record of the Republican Congress certainly could not have been reading the "London Times"—the great daily which influences European opinion.

For, had the speaker of the House and some of the Democratic party spokesmen read what the Washington correspondent of the "London Times" said in an article featured a few days ago with a two-column, display heading—the largest emphasis normally given any news—he would have found no awareness of any such changes as supporters or critics have perceived. Indeed, they would have read a long article declaring that things hadn't changed much at all and that for all practical purposes the Truman-Acheson administration still lives on in America. The "London Times" correspondent says:

Okayed Democrat "Deals"

"The most important achievement of the first session of the 83rd Congress — the first Republican Congress to share power with a Republican President for 20 years —has been, paradoxically enough to give the stamp of permanency to the achievements of the New and Fair Deals.

"The first session of a Republican Congress and the first six months of a Republican President have come and gone—and the basic patterns imposed on American life in the last 20 years have been preserved intact and the blessings brought to the underprivileged remain in force. Certainly economic controls have been largely relaxed and an anti-inflationary pattern set, but to the ordinary voter the difference is scarcely noticeable. In the only field where the New Deal would have crumbled without controls, agriculture, they have been scrupulously maintained. As a result, the New Deal is now no longer the precious fruit of one party and one class, endangered by the hostility of another party and another class. It is part and parcel of the American system initiated by Roosevelt, strengthened by Truman, and conserved by President Eisenhower.

"The significance of the last six months of the Republican partnership therefore lies not in its legislative programme, which has been slight, or in any startling and striking innovations, but in its interment —more by accident than design— of the great bone of contention which for two decades has divided American opinion between those who blessed and those who cursed the New and Fair Deals. This session of Congress proves conclusively that with either party in power the New Deal has come to stay."

On the subject of foreign policy, the "London Times" writer didn't see anything very significant in the attitude of Congress in voting to warn against admission of Red China to the U. N. He thought the "only sizeable demand" was that Americans felt they should have "the dominant say in the councils of the world," and that, for this reason, Congress felt foreign aid should be under the immediate control of the State Department.

Even more interesting, however, was the correspondent's advice to Europeans on the subject of Senator McCarthy's activites. He adds:

Like American Dollars

"As this session of Congress began to reach its close the shadow of Senator McCarthy, which at one time seemed to darken the face of the whole continent, at least began to resume its proper size. Any tendency to judge the Republican partnership, now rounding its first lap, within the context of the McCarthy problem alone would seem foolishly short-sighted."

This will be interesting news to those Americans who have been worried about European reaction to the Wisconsin senator, especially those who have been going up and down the land crying out that American "prestige" abroad has been reduced by Senator McCarthy. The truth is American "prestige," like a fluctuating common stock in the market, goes up or down depending on the dividend paid out by American taxpayers—that is, whether the executive or Congress or both happen to reduce or continue the amount of money loaned or granted to foreign countries.

Now that the foreign aid is continuing in rather substantial quantities, all's well insofar as friendliness toward America is concerned — including Eisenhower's stock, which went down very low indeed in Europe during the 1952 presidential campaign when it was feared his election might mean substantial curtailment of foreign aid. Stevenson was popular then and "Ike" was unpopular. Things have changed now and, as long as the American dollars flow freely, America will continue to be in high favor abroad.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Cost Of Espionage

Malenkov's assurance that Russia has the hydrogen bomb cannot be taken as a bluff. We cannot afford to risk being wrong about that. If he is not bluffing and we acted on the assumption that he is, we may be fooled. It would be a disaster of the greatest magnitude.

Dr. Klaus Fuchs and Dr. Bruno Pontecorvo knew about the hydrogen bomb. Pontecorvo actually vanished into Russia with his family, and has probably been working on the hydrogen bomb in Russia. Fuchs was a Communist before he came to this country for the Manhattan Project and was not properly screened because he was recommended by the British, who did no screening against Communists.

This is a good moment for the 2,500 American clergymen who signed the petition for clemency for the Rosenbergs to search their consciences. Fuchs was a member of the Rosenberg apparatus.

The Pontecorvo story is not clear. This Italian-born scientist was a British subject. He is one of the top men in the field of atomic fission. Whether he is a Communist or not, I do not know. However, he was in a $10,000,000 suit against the United States Government in 1950, involving patents on the atomic bomb process. It was claimed that the process was invented by Drs. Enrico Fermi, Edoardo Amaldi, Bruno Pontecorvo, Franco Rasetti and Emilio Segre in Rome. A United States patent was granted in 1940 and was assigned to G. M. Giannini & Co., who was a party to the suit.

I have been told that when the matter came up before the Atomic Energy Commission, the commissioner in charge took the position that the entire matter was top secret and therefore the suit could not be considered. If Pontecorvo got sore because he could not get his share of $10,000,000, we have indeed paid a terrific price for an official's bad judgment. If, on the other hand, he was, even in 1946, a Soviet spy, how did we become involved with him?

The disgusting thing about this whole atomic spy business is that, despite the Rosenberg, Gold, Greenglass, etc., trials, we still do not know who let these obscure people into the Manhattan Project. What kind of security system does this country have that in an enterprise so secret, Russia could plant an apparatus inside the Manhattan Project?

Who got them in? It makes no difference whether he is alive or dead, we ought to know who got them into the Manhattan Project. We do know that the Atomic Energy Committee of the Congress was set up as a watch-dog committee to see to it that the Atomic Energy Commission acted properly. The chairman of this committee was usually Brien McMahon of Connecticut. He is dead and cannot speak. During the 80th Congress, Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa was chairman of this committee. He is alive and should tell all that he knows. General Leslie Groves, David Lilienthal, Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer are alive; they ran the Manhattan Project and the Atomic Energy Commission. They should be required to answer the questions: How did the spies get in? Who got them in?

In fact, a thorough investigation should go back to Arthur Adams, the Russian spy, who traveled about this country freely, setting up the apparatus which eventually turned over the atomic and hydrogen bombs to the Russians. The FBI kept a constant vigil over Adams, but they were forbidden to arrest him and he finally was permitted to leave this country with a sample of plutonium.

Who protected Adams? Who stopped the FBI from arresting him? The FBI files are sealed, but the attorney general can make this data available. The President can order that it be made available.

Dr. Klaus Fuchs and Julius Rosenberg knocked the props from under our security. What else have they stolen? What have others stolen? Why not tell the American people the whole truth, however bad it is?

The various committees, of Congress, investigating espionage, are given a bad name by those who fear their disclosures and by many honest men who dislike suspicions about other Americans. But the fact is that both our atom bomb and hydrogen bomb have been stolen by spies, most of whom were American citizens. Shouting down Joe McCarthy does not solve our tragic problem — the spy continues to steal. We need to know why spies are protected.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Malenkov's Power Machine

WASHINGTON

The right way to understand Georgi Malenkov's claim to know the secret of the hydrogen bomb, is as part of a much larger whole. Even a Soviet hydrogen bomb would not be a danger to this country, all by itself. But it is a very great danger indeed, as one part in a gigantic machine of Soviet power which is now nearing completion.

As to the specific problem of the bomb, it now seems to be fairly well established that no Soviet test explosion has occurred as yet. According to reliable report, at any rate, no sign of an explosion has yet been picked up by the American long range detection system.

What is now expected, therefore, is a Soviet repetition of our own Eniwetok test of 1951. Before very long, if the forecasters are correct, they will try out a weapon like the chief bomb of our 1951 Eniwetok series. This bomb had a power of more than 200 kilotons—more than the explosive force of 200,000 tons of TNT—and it contained a small quantity of the heavy hydrogen mixture which forms the core of a true hydrogen bomb.

Our Eniwetok tests had a double purpose—to experiment with one of the very powerful atomic bombs that are needed as triggers for hydrogen bombs, and to gain data on the hydrogen fusion reaction. A similar bomb test will justify Malenkov's boast. It is in order for the Soviets, whose biggest bomb to date had a power under eighty kilotons. And such a test will not delay the Soviet over-all atomic build-up, by requiring conversion of plutonium reactors to produce large quantities of tritium, the fantastically costly very heavy hydrogen that is the most important component of a true hydrogen bomb.

Air Army Build Up

If this is the sort of thing Malenkov was talking about, there is no reason to adjust past estimates of the Soviet atomic progress, which placed the beginning of the time of real danger toward the end of next year. Unfortunately, however, there are excellent reasons to adjust past estimates of a related Soviet effort—the build-up of the Soviet Long Range Air Army, which gives meaning to Soviet atomic power.

In brief, it is now confirmed that the Soviets have started quantity production of the TU-31—a big turbo-jet bomber comparable in range and other characteristics to our own B-36. The TU-31 will give the long range air army what it has heretofore lacked, the capability to make round-trip attacks on American targets from bases on Soviet territory.

In addition, there are good reasons to believe that the Soviets now have the prototype of a giant jet bomber comparable to our B-52—the most advanced bomber we possess. The new plane was expected to be shown, in fact, at the Moscow air show that was cancelled by bad weather. If weather permits, the showing may well have taken place before these words can be printed. In any case this new plane, if its existence is confirmed, will put Soviet strategic air development almost on a par with our own.

Finally, to complete this pattern of growing Soviet air-atomic strength, there are the marked peculiarities of the new Soviet budget, which Malenkov announced with such a flourish.

Malenkov chiefly emphasized the larger share of the Russian national income that is now to be allocated to the consumer. In view of the extraordinary rise of Soviet national income and productivity since the end of the war, greater generosity to the mass of the population is certainly overdue. It should not be difficult to finance, either, since the Soviets have largely completed their most massive military program, the re-equipment of their huge ground forces.

Stalin's Projects Cancelled

Meanwhile Malenkov made no mention whatever of two features of the budget which are deeply disquieting. On the one hand, all the grandiose capital projects of Stalin's old age have now been cancelled. For instance, the dead dictator's heirs have stopped construction of the canal from the Aral Sea to the Caspian Sea, and the tunnel from Sakhalin, under the the Straits of Tartary, to the Siberian mainland. By so doing, they have proportionally increased the already enormous capital funds available for more immediately useful purposes, such as the expansion of aircraft production.

On the other hand, "residual" expenditures have also been enormously increased, from 28.5 billion rubles in the 1952 budget, to no less than 73.9 billion rubles in this year's budget. This special category of outlays is never itemized in the Soviet budget. It is generally believed to provide most of the financing for the Soviet atomic effort, the guided missile development program, and the like. The meaning of such an increase, coming at this time, should not require further comment.

The likelihood is strong that the Soviet annual investment in the atomic program, guided missile development and other special weapon projects, now considerably exceeds our own investments. Add the progress of Soviet strategic air. Add, further, the Soviet build-up which our own chiefs of staff have held will reach a stage of acute danger in 1954. The sum of all the evidence is a future danger for which, at present, this country is making no adequate preparation.

Wheat Marketing Quotas

The major wheat producers of the nation face a reduction of income next year. They have now to decide whether to accept government marketing quotas limiting the 1954 crop to 62 million acres, more than 20 per cent fewer than this year, or to sow wheat without government restrictions and accept much lower price supports.

If their decision is in favor of marketing quotas, price supports on wheat will continue at 90 per cent of parity. If they reject, price supports could drop to 50 per cent of parity. The latter level would mean a support price of as low as $1.23 a bushel, perhaps an even lower market price.

Only about 800,000 of the nation's 2,000,000 wheat growers will vote. The rest are small farmers, with less than 15 acres in wheat; together they produce less than 15 per cent of the wheat grown in this country. By law, two-thirds of the farmers participating must okay marketing quotas before the controls may be imposed.

Wheat price drops of almost seven cents a bushel in frenzied selling in recent days reflect fears of traders that farmers may vote against quotas. Large commercial growers west of the Mississippi are more likely to favor quotas than are small producers in Eastern states.

Despite severe drought in central and southern Great Plains states, the U. S. Department of Agriculture forecast for this year's wheat crop rises steadily. Winter wheat was above average; the spring crop was not far from a record high. As of May 1, the estimate was for 1,014,000,000 bushels, 31 per cent smaller than the 1952 record crop. On July 1 the forecast for this year had risen to 1,174,708,000 bushels.

The present wheat crop is above average, but the real cause of the present glut are a reserve or carryover of about 580 million bushels in July—the third largest in history—and a falling off of wheat exports in the current marketing season. The prospect for July 1, 1954, is a carryover of 700 million bushels, exceeding the record carry-over of 631 million bushels in 1942.

Referenda on marketing quotas were held in 1941 and 1942. The votes then went heavily in favor of quotas.

In late June 1952 Secretary of Agriculture Brannan announced that uncertainty of world conditions justified the department in failing to impose acreage allotments and marketing quotas for the 1953 crop. The secretary has discretionary power to continue supports without wheat controls.

Now Secretary Benson says "all-out production was continued too long" after World War II, though he disclaims any intent to influence the August 14 vote. A sharp drop in the support price of wheat, according to the National Farmers Union, could set off "a succession of time bombs" that could push all farm prices drastically down.

Furor About Jerusalem

Almost all the non-Communist diplomatic missions in Israel have been boycotting that state's Foreign Ministry offices in Jerusalem since these were moved there from Tel Aviv on July 12. But Russia and its satellites, always eager to do what the non-Communist states don't do, have transferred their diplomats to Jerusalem.

The non-Communist states regard the shift of the Israeli Foreign Ministry as a slap in the face for the U.N. The U.N. General Assembly has twice voted, in 1947 and again in 1949, for internationalization of the Holy City.

Secretary of States Dulles disclosed on July 28 that the United States had asked the Israeli government not to make the shift. Dulles said that Israel's action had not only "embarrassed" the U.N., but had made even more bitter and dangerous the animosity between the Jews and the Arabs.

Israeli spokesmen unofficially called the Dulles statement just another indication that the Eisenhower administration was pro-Arab. On the other hand, the delegates to the U.N. from six Arab states jointly denounced the United States on August 4 for not actually preventing the transfer of the Israeli Foreign Ministry. Those Arab delegates are to meet on today steps to be taken in U.N. in opposition to the transfer.

Jerusalem today is divided between an Israel-held area, with about three-fourths of the city's population, and a Jordan-held area, containing many of the "Holy Places." The Jordanis, unlike the other Arabs, are opposed to internationalizing the city. The Israelis had located many of their government offices in Jerusalem before moving their Foreign Ministry there, and like to refer to it as their capital.

Russia Stalls

Russia has replied to the Western note of three weeks earlier proposing foreign ministers' talks on concrete issues relating to Germany and Austria, but what has she said? Nobody seems to know. A State Department spokesman of whom this question was asked merely compounded the confusion by his inconclusive answer. He said in part:

"The Soviet reply does not appear to reject the proposal of a four-power foreign ministers' meeting, but there is so much ambiguity in the language that a great deal more study, including consultation with the British and the French, must be given before a reply can be drafted."

Russia, in short, has been coy. She hasn't said yes and she hasn't said no. According to her note, she wants peace, but she doesn't like this approach to peace. She wants to hold some kind of conference, but not the kind the West proposed. She wants to talk things over, but not the same things the West wants to talk over. She would like to meet some time or other, but she has not accepted the West's invitation for a specific meeting at a specific time.

So Russia is obviously stalling. It is noteworthy that since Stalin's death the specific suggestions looking toward peace in Europe have all come from the West. Russia has replied with airy generalities, but has made no specific suggestions. Nobody is so hot for peace in the abstract and so coy about concrete proposals for peace as the Kremlin.

The Moscow Reds will meet with the West when they're good and ready, but it is plain that they are not ready now.

Accident Prevention Pays

Judy developed polio and after seven months of constant attention she was pronounced well. It had been a hectic convalescent period for her parents who left no stone unturned in their efforts to get her well. A year later she stumbled while going down the basement stairs, struck her spine, and was left paralyzed. It is easy to say that this was an ironical situation because she escaped paralysis from the disorder that has the worst reputation for producing it. But this story is not unlikely because accidents cripple more children under five than any other condition.

This fact was stressed recently by Lawrence J. Linck, executive director of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. He reported that accidents permanently cripple 48,000 American children annually and another 1½ million sustain injuries necessitating medical attention. This makes accidents the public enemy No. 1 of our boys and girls. Furthermore, accidents are the most common cause of death in the first 25 years of life and in the 15-20 age bracket are responsible for more deaths than appendicitis, tuberculosis, and heart disease combined. These figures are facts, not estimates. Doubting Thomases will learn something by sitting at the desk of the emergency entrance of any hospital for 48 to 72 hours.

There is no easy solution of the problem and anything I might say has been said a thousand times before. At present, our only way to strike back lies in the hope that repetition will make every one safety conscious. Parents also can help by supporting safety campaigns and other measures in the community and school.

How do we educate our children to be careful? This is best done by setting a good example and taking advantage of any occasion presented to teach safety. I know many parents who avoid accident scenes because they cannot stand to see blood or do not wish to be considered overly curious. On the other hand, there is no better time to show a child what happens to a playmate who fails to look in both directions before crossing the street. The sight leaves an impression that lectures and warnings never bring. The same can be said when drownings or fire occur or a playmate has a narrow escape with a BB gun or is cut with a knife. Take these opportunities to hammer away at accident prevention.

Some accidents cannot be helped but they are the exceptions. Injury resulting from a fall, for example, is a frequent mishap but falling downstairs, off porch railings, or out the window is more serious. Many of these misadventures would never happen if parents could realize that windows, stairs, and porches are hazardous places. Last year, 1,900 children died from burns. Poisoning also is high on the list. Every woman's magazine warns of the perils that lurk in the medicine cabinet and the consequences of putting cleaning solutions in pop bottles and lye in milk bottles. To the average child, a pop bottle contains pop and a milk bottle contains milk and he cannot be blamed for wanting a taste. Handling guns and firearms is another troublemaker, yet if every man, woman, and child considered that all guns are loaded, they would never point a gun at anyone, even in fun.

(We have additional suggestions for accident prevention among children. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for this leaflet).

SUFFERS FROM HEAT

Mrs. Y. writes: My 10-year-old boy suffers terribly from the heat, even when not out in the sun. He becomes weak, develops headache, and complains of stomach pains. His heart is O. K., the doctor says. Giving him salt and orange juice do no good. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

Some persons are born without a satisfactory air conditioning unit (heat regulating machinery). They do not sweat, consequently when the outside temperature goes up, the body cannot adjust to heat and fever ensues. If special tests verify this possibility, either the boy must be kept in an air conditioned room during the heat of the day or he should be taken to a cooler climate for the summer.

PORKWORM SYMPTOMS

B. G. writes: In trichinosis, how long after eating underdone, infected pork do symptoms appear?

REPLY

Nausea, vomiting, and diarrhea appear within one to four days; on the seventh day, migration of the larvae to the muscles begins and the individual develops fever and suffers from muscular weakness and pain. Puffiness of the eyelids and various other symptoms accompany this stage. After the organism becomes firmly embedded in the muscle fiber encystment) vague muscle ache may be noted.

Generals Bradley And Collins Retire As Great Public Servants; Drastic Changes In Military Policy May Follow Their Retirement

(Editor's Note—Drew Person's brass ring, good for a free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, today goes to Generals Omar Bradley and J. Lawton Collins as they retire from the Joint Chiefs of Staff).

WASHINGTON—Two great Army officers with a long record of public service retire today. With their retirement may come a drastic change in military policy.

If I were to try to put my finger on the chief qualities of Gen. Omar Bradley and Gen. Joe Lawton Collins in their work as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and as Army Chief of Staff, I would summarize it:

Though great military men they are civilian-minded. Thougs great combat soldiers the thing they hate most is to see men die. Though they dislike disagreemnt, they champion the right of others to disagree. Though trained to fight wars, they leaned over backward to prevent war.

In these days when Russia probably has the H-bomb and when wars can come at the drop of a hat, these qualities are vitally important.

Unfortunately the man who replaces Bradley as chairman of the Joint Chiefs, Adm. Arthur Radford, has not always shown these same qualities.

Ike's Strange Decision

And with the President of the United States having ordered the Joint Chiefs of Staff, at the recent Quantico conference, to bring him only unanimous decisions, the personality of the new chairman can influence the lives of millions.

Furthermore, the instruction of President Eisenhower that he wants no disagreement from his Joint Chiefs is one of the most important—and sobering—statements the new President has ever made. For it is the constitutional duty of the President as commander-in-chief to get all points of view among his military advisers, to review their agreements and disagreements, then make up his own mind.

However, the new President, himself a military man, told the Joint Chiefs he wanted no split decisions, no minority-majority reports. He instructed the Army, Navy and Air Force to be unanimous before bringing a decision to him.

NOTE—Generals Omar Bradley and Joe Collins have sat through plenty of tough debates on the Joint Chiefs of Staff and have not hesitated to tell their commander-in-chief that they could not agree. Usually Bradley and Collins have agreed as between each other. But they have frequently disagreed with the Navy over the importance of Formosa, the use of Chiang Kai-shek's troops in Korea or the use of super-airplane carriers against B-36's.

Two Types of Brass

There are two types of officers among the top brass of the Pentagon: 1, the humble, civilian type, GI type officer; 2, The aggressive, politically minded officer who likes to barge into the civilian field of government.

Bradley and Collins belong in the first group.

Joe Collins won fame as the general who captured one of the most difficult cities in the Normandy invasion—Cherbourg. He is one of the few Pentagon officers upon whose desk you will find a Bible. As head of the Army's Instruction and Education Division, he pushed the betterment of the enlisted man. Omar Bradley is so mild-mannered you wonder how he could ever order troops into battle. Yet it was he who handled the combat strategy for Eisenhower during the historic invasion of France and Germany. And while the much-publicized Field Marshal Montgomery was still sitting at Caen near the Normandy coast, Bradley was romping up to the Rhine.

Bradley's only real differences with Eisenhower were:

1. When Ike diverted gasoline and men away from both Patton and Bradley to Montgomery at a time when Bradley and Patton were convinced they could have penetrated Germany and won the war before Christmas.

2. When Ike wanted to run for President in 1948. Bradley, as one of his oldest friends, helped argue him out of it, told him politics was no place for a military man, that he would be a fish out of water. Ike listened in '48. Bradley got no chance to talk in '52.

The man who succeeds Omar Bradley as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff literally talked his way into the job. When the President-elect was en route to Korea last December, his plane stopped for one hour in Iwo Jima to refuel. During that hour, redheaded Adm. Arthur Radford took him on a leg-stretching workout around the island during which he talked brilliantly about using Chiang Kai-shek's navy against the China mainland, about using Chiangs troops in Korea.

At the end of that hour, Ike said to his pilot: "Can't we make room for Admiral Radford on the plane?"

After that, the stormy petrel of the Navy was as good as in. Returning on the cruiser Helena, he got to know the new secretary of Defense, Charlie Wilson, and having persuaded Ike to play golf in Honolulu, Radford put him up in his own quarters and, like the busy bee, improved each shining hour.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Speaker Martin and those who helped him prepare the television script on the first six months of the Eisenhower administration and the record of the Republican Congress certainly could not have been reading the "London Times"—the great daily which influences European opinion.

For, had the speaker of the House and some of the Democratic party spokesmen read what the Washington correspondent of the "London Times" said in an article featured a few days ago with a two-column, display heading—the largest emphasis normally given any news—he would have found no awareness of any such changes as supporters or critics have perceived. Indeed, they would have read a long article declaring that things hadn't changed much at all and that for all practical purposes the Truman-Acheson administration still lives on in America. The "London Times" correspondent says:

Okayed Democrat "Deals"

"The most important achievement of the first session of the 83rd Congress — the first Republican Congress to share power with a Republican President for 20 years —has been, paradoxically enough to give the stamp of permanency to the achievements of the New and Fair Deals.

"The first session of a Republican Congress and the first six months of a Republican President have come and gone—and the basic patterns imposed on American life in the last 20 years have been preserved intact and the blessings brought to the underprivileged remain in force. Certainly economic controls have been largely relaxed and an anti-inflationary pattern set, but to the ordinary voter the difference is scarcely noticeable. In the only field where the New Deal would have crumbled without controls, agriculture, they have been scrupulously maintained. As a result, the New Deal is now no longer the precious fruit of one party and one class, endangered by the hostility of another party and another class. It is part and parcel of the American system initiated by Roosevelt, strengthened by Truman, and conserved by President Eisenhower.

"The significance of the last six months of the Republican partnership therefore lies not in its legislative programme, which has been slight, or in any startling and striking innovations, but in its interment —more by accident than design— of the great bone of contention which for two decades has divided American opinion between those who blessed and those who cursed the New and Fair Deals. This session of Congress proves conclusively that with either party in power the New Deal has come to stay."

On the subject of foreign policy, the "London Times" writer didn't see anything very significant in the attitude of Congress in voting to warn against admission of Red China to the U. N. He thought the "only sizeable demand" was that Americans felt they should have "the dominant say in the councils of the world," and that, for this reason, Congress felt foreign aid should be under the immediate control of the State Department.

Even more interesting, however, was the correspondent's advice to Europeans on the subject of Senator McCarthy's activites. He adds:

Like American Dollars

"As this session of Congress began to reach its close the shadow of Senator McCarthy, which at one time seemed to darken the face of the whole continent, at least began to resume its proper size. Any tendency to judge the Republican partnership, now rounding its first lap, within the context of the McCarthy problem alone would seem foolishly short-sighted."

This will be interesting news to those Americans who have been worried about European reaction to the Wisconsin senator, especially those who have been going up and down the land crying out that American "prestige" abroad has been reduced by Senator McCarthy. The truth is American "prestige," like a fluctuating common stock in the market, goes up or down depending on the dividend paid out by American taxpayers—that is, whether the executive or Congress or both happen to reduce or continue the amount of money loaned or granted to foreign countries.

Now that the foreign aid is continuing in rather substantial quantities, all's well insofar as friendliness toward America is concerned — including Eisenhower's stock, which went down very low indeed in Europe during the 1952 presidential campaign when it was feared his election might mean substantial curtailment of foreign aid. Stevenson was popular then and "Ike" was unpopular. Things have changed now and, as long as the American dollars flow freely, America will continue to be in high favor abroad.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Cost Of Espionage

Malenkov's assurance that Russia has the hydrogen bomb cannot be taken as a bluff. We cannot afford to risk being wrong about that. If he is not bluffing and we acted on the assumption that he is, we may be fooled. It would be a disaster of the greatest magnitude.

Dr. Klaus Fuchs and Dr. Bruno Pontecorvo knew about the hydrogen bomb. Pontecorvo actually vanished into Russia with his family, and has probably been working on the hydrogen bomb in Russia. Fuchs was a Communist before he came to this country for the Manhattan Project and was not properly screened because he was recommended by the British, who did no screening against Communists.

This is a good moment for the 2,500 American clergymen who signed the petition for clemency for the Rosenbergs to search their consciences. Fuchs was a member of the Rosenberg apparatus.

The Pontecorvo story is not clear. This Italian-born scientist was a British subject. He is one of the top men in the field of atomic fission. Whether he is a Communist or not, I do not know. However, he was in a $10,000,000 suit against the United States Government in 1950, involving patents on the atomic bomb process. It was claimed that the process was invented by Drs. Enrico Fermi, Edoardo Amaldi, Bruno Pontecorvo, Franco Rasetti and Emilio Segre in Rome. A United States patent was granted in 1940 and was assigned to G. M. Giannini & Co., who was a party to the suit.

I have been told that when the matter came up before the Atomic Energy Commission, the commissioner in charge took the position that the entire matter was top secret and therefore the suit could not be considered. If Pontecorvo got sore because he could not get his share of $10,000,000, we have indeed paid a terrific price for an official's bad judgment. If, on the other hand, he was, even in 1946, a Soviet spy, how did we become involved with him?

The disgusting thing about this whole atomic spy business is that, despite the Rosenberg, Gold, Greenglass, etc., trials, we still do not know who let these obscure people into the Manhattan Project. What kind of security system does this country have that in an enterprise so secret, Russia could plant an apparatus inside the Manhattan Project?

Who got them in? It makes no difference whether he is alive or dead, we ought to know who got them into the Manhattan Project. We do know that the Atomic Energy Committee of the Congress was set up as a watch-dog committee to see to it that the Atomic Energy Commission acted properly. The chairman of this committee was usually Brien McMahon of Connecticut. He is dead and cannot speak. During the 80th Congress, Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa was chairman of this committee. He is alive and should tell all that he knows. General Leslie Groves, David Lilienthal, Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer are alive; they ran the Manhattan Project and the Atomic Energy Commission. They should be required to answer the questions: How did the spies get in? Who got them in?

In fact, a thorough investigation should go back to Arthur Adams, the Russian spy, who traveled about this country freely, setting up the apparatus which eventually turned over the atomic and hydrogen bombs to the Russians. The FBI kept a constant vigil over Adams, but they were forbidden to arrest him and he finally was permitted to leave this country with a sample of plutonium.

Who protected Adams? Who stopped the FBI from arresting him? The FBI files are sealed, but the attorney general can make this data available. The President can order that it be made available.

Dr. Klaus Fuchs and Julius Rosenberg knocked the props from under our security. What else have they stolen? What have others stolen? Why not tell the American people the whole truth, however bad it is?

The various committees, of Congress, investigating espionage, are given a bad name by those who fear their disclosures and by many honest men who dislike suspicions about other Americans. But the fact is that both our atom bomb and hydrogen bomb have been stolen by spies, most of whom were American citizens. Shouting down Joe McCarthy does not solve our tragic problem — the spy continues to steal. We need to know why spies are protected.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Malenkov's Power Machine

WASHINGTON

The right way to understand Georgi Malenkov's claim to know the secret of the hydrogen bomb, is as part of a much larger whole. Even a Soviet hydrogen bomb would not be a danger to this country, all by itself. But it is a very great danger indeed, as one part in a gigantic machine of Soviet power which is now nearing completion.

As to the specific problem of the bomb, it now seems to be fairly well established that no Soviet test explosion has occurred as yet. According to reliable report, at any rate, no sign of an explosion has yet been picked up by the American long range detection system.

What is now expected, therefore, is a Soviet repetition of our own Eniwetok test of 1951. Before very long, if the forecasters are correct, they will try out a weapon like the chief bomb of our 1951 Eniwetok series. This bomb had a power of more than 200 kilotons—more than the explosive force of 200,000 tons of TNT—and it contained a small quantity of the heavy hydrogen mixture which forms the core of a true hydrogen bomb.

Our Eniwetok tests had a double purpose—to experiment with one of the very powerful atomic bombs that are needed as triggers for hydrogen bombs, and to gain data on the hydrogen fusion reaction. A similar bomb test will justify Malenkov's boast. It is in order for the Soviets, whose biggest bomb to date had a power under eighty kilotons. And such a test will not delay the Soviet over-all atomic build-up, by requiring conversion of plutonium reactors to produce large quantities of tritium, the fantastically costly very heavy hydrogen that is the most important component of a true hydrogen bomb.

Air Army Build Up

If this is the sort of thing Malenkov was talking about, there is no reason to adjust past estimates of the Soviet atomic progress, which placed the beginning of the time of real danger toward the end of next year. Unfortunately, however, there are excellent reasons to adjust past estimates of a related Soviet effort—the build-up of the Soviet Long Range Air Army, which gives meaning to Soviet atomic power.

In brief, it is now confirmed that the Soviets have started quantity production of the TU-31—a big turbo-jet bomber comparable in range and other characteristics to our own B-36. The TU-31 will give the long range air army what it has heretofore lacked, the capability to make round-trip attacks on American targets from bases on Soviet territory.

In addition, there are good reasons to believe that the Soviets now have the prototype of a giant jet bomber comparable to our B-52—the most advanced bomber we possess. The new plane was expected to be shown, in fact, at the Moscow air show that was cancelled by bad weather. If weather permits, the showing may well have taken place before these words can be printed. In any case this new plane, if its existence is confirmed, will put Soviet strategic air development almost on a par with our own.

Finally, to complete this pattern of growing Soviet air-atomic strength, there are the marked peculiarities of the new Soviet budget, which Malenkov announced with such a flourish.

Malenkov chiefly emphasized the larger share of the Russian national income that is now to be allocated to the consumer. In view of the extraordinary rise of Soviet national income and productivity since the end of the war, greater generosity to the mass of the population is certainly overdue. It should not be difficult to finance, either, since the Soviets have largely completed their most massive military program, the re-equipment of their huge ground forces.

Stalin's Projects Cancelled

Meanwhile Malenkov made no mention whatever of two features of the budget which are deeply disquieting. On the one hand, all the grandiose capital projects of Stalin's old age have now been cancelled. For instance, the dead dictator's heirs have stopped construction of the canal from the Aral Sea to the Caspian Sea, and the tunnel from Sakhalin, under the the Straits of Tartary, to the Siberian mainland. By so doing, they have proportionally increased the already enormous capital funds available for more immediately useful purposes, such as the expansion of aircraft production.

On the other hand, "residual" expenditures have also been enormously increased, from 28.5 billion rubles in the 1952 budget, to no less than 73.9 billion rubles in this year's budget. This special category of outlays is never itemized in the Soviet budget. It is generally believed to provide most of the financing for the Soviet atomic effort, the guided missile development program, and the like. The meaning of such an increase, coming at this time, should not require further comment.

The likelihood is strong that the Soviet annual investment in the atomic program, guided missile development and other special weapon projects, now considerably exceeds our own investments. Add the progress of Soviet strategic air. Add, further, the Soviet build-up which our own chiefs of staff have held will reach a stage of acute danger in 1954. The sum of all the evidence is a future danger for which, at present, this country is making no adequate preparation.

Huge Holy Land Reproduction To Be Constructed In Florida

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—Plans for building in Florida a mile-square reproduction of the Holy Land, complete with camels, street bazaars and ancient buildings and terrain, were disclosed today.

An initial cost of two million dollars has been set for the project, organized by Broadway Producer Eddie Dowling and associates.

Called Holy Land, Inc., the plans were announced in the September issue of the Catholic Digest, out today. The magazine said:

"It will be no cardboard city and countryside. It will be an exact, in-scale reproduction of the hills, the wayside, and the urban architecture of ancient Judea. It will be a permanent, gigantic mile-square Holy Land, complete to the camel, donkey and oxcart transport."

Site for the project, now being negotiated, will be either in the vicinity of Jacksonville, or near Palm Beach, on Highway No. 1.

The plans include:

1. A walled city composite reproduction of Bethlehem, Jerusalem and Nazareth, with winding, narrow streets, primitive stone-like, sod-roof buildings like those of 2,000 years ago, and a "native" population of carpenters, masons, fishermen and others.

2. A bazaar, like the shopping centers of Jesus' time, where handicraft products will be sold.

3. An amphitheater, seating 5,000, with a mammoth stage setting, where 120 performances of the story of Christ's birth and death will be presented from Christmas to Easter each year.

Blueprints for the city call for in-scale reproductions of the Lake of Galilee, the Garden of Gethsemane, the palaces of the High Priest Caiphas and Procurator Pontius Pilate, the Hill of Golgotha, the Tyropean Bridge, the tomb where Jesus was buried, and other key spots.

The magazine said backers of the project, led by F. Brandon Smith Jr., a South Carolina textile man, include Jews, Baptists, Presbyterians, Catholics and others. Principal associate with Dowling is Howard B. Kreitsek.

Dowling already has chosen the dramas to be presented at the amphitheater—Vittorio Gianini's "Emanuel" as the nativity play, and Marcus', "The Dark Hours" for the passion play.

"A man and his family will not merely be going to a theater when they see the nativity or passion play," he said. "They will have spent hours in the city and bazaar, steeping themselves in the sight, sounds and smells of Judea in the time of Christ."

No indication was given of when construction of the project would begin.

Randall May Head Foreign Trade Study

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported today to be planning to choose Clarence B. Randall, steel executive, to head the new Foreign Economic Commission, which will make a sweeping study of this country's foreign trade policies.

Randall, 62-year-old chairman of the board of the Inland Steel Co., was a central figure in last year's steel strike controversy. He led the fight against President Truman's seizure of the steel industry to halt a strike by the CIO Steel Workers.

David J. McDonald, now president of the Steel Workers union, is also reported in line for a job on the Foreign Economic Commission.

Government officials said the President is expected to announce Randall's selection within a few days from his temporary headquarters in Denver.

Randall lunched with President Eisenhower at the White House two weeks ago. Other guests indicated the subject discussed was foreign economic policy and Randall's availability to head the new commission. The commission will frame recommendations for U. S. trade policies in view of the fact that the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act is due to expire next summer. It is expected to probe all aspects of foreign trade and perhaps come up with proposals for a major overhaul of the present act, which was first passed in 1934. Under the act the United States grants tariff concessions to foreign nations in return for concessions from them.

Improved Farm Props Are Urged

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 12 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said tonight the government must improve farm price support programs to provide producers both adequate protection against low prices and adequate incentives to meet food demands.

But such improvements, he said, must be accompanied by further reductions in farm production costs, better quality products, and greater efforts to expand farm markets.

"To accomplish these things," Benson said, "nothing can take the place of research and education.

"The agriculture of the future," he added, "must be able to use the practices best adapted to the land and its products. It must produce what is adapted to the market. It must market more effectively with less waste."

AMMAN, Jordan, Aug. 12 (AP)—King Feisal II of Iraq arrived by air at Amman today to visit his cousin, King Hussein of Jordan.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Sweeping North Korea Red Purge Reported

SEOUL, Thursday, Aug. 13 (AP)—South Korean observers yesterday pictured Premier Kim Il Sung of North Korea as a "moderate pro-Russian" Communist who was winning a struggle for power with a sweeping purge.

Already 12 North Korean Red leaders have been shot or imprisoned and seven—including some of those purged—have been kicked off the Central Committee of the North Korean Communist party.

Only last month, South Korean Intelligence sources were saying almost the opposite—that Kim Il Sung was a pro-Chinese Communist and was lopping off the heads of the pro-Russians.

Randall May Head Foreign Trade Study

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported today to be planning to choose Clarence B. Randall, steel executive, to head the new Foreign Economic Commission, which will make a sweeping study of this country's foreign trade policies.

Randall, 62-year-old chairman of the board of the Inland Steel Co., was a central figure in last year's steel strike controversy. He led the fight against President Truman's seizure of the steel industry to halt a strike by the CIO Steel Workers.

David J. McDonald, now president of the Steel Workers union, is also reported in line for a job on the Foreign Economic Commission.

Government officials said the President is expected to announce Randall's selection within a few days from his temporary headquarters in Denver.

Randall lunched with President Eisenhower at the White House two weeks ago. Other guests indicated the subject discussed was foreign economic policy and Randall's availability to head the new commission. The commission will frame recommendations for U. S. trade policies in view of the fact that the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act is due to expire next summer. It is expected to probe all aspects of foreign trade and perhaps come up with proposals for a major overhaul of the present act, which was first passed in 1934. Under the act the United States grants tariff concessions to foreign nations in return for concessions from them.

Improved Farm Props Are Urged

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 12 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said tonight the government must improve farm price support programs to provide producers both adequate protection against low prices and adequate incentives to meet food demands.

But such improvements, he said, must be accompanied by further reductions in farm production costs, better quality products, and greater efforts to expand farm markets.

"To accomplish these things," Benson said, "nothing can take the place of research and education.

"The agriculture of the future," he added, "must be able to use the practices best adapted to the land and its products. It must produce what is adapted to the market. It must market more effectively with less waste."

AMMAN, Jordan, Aug. 12 (AP)—King Feisal II of Iraq arrived by air at Amman today to visit his cousin, King Hussein of Jordan.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Sweeping North Korea Red Purge Reported

SEOUL, Thursday, Aug. 13 (AP)—South Korean observers yesterday pictured Premier Kim Il Sung of North Korea as a "moderate pro-Russian" Communist who was winning a struggle for power with a sweeping purge.

Already 12 North Korean Red leaders have been shot or imprisoned and seven—including some of those purged—have been kicked off the Central Committee of the North Korean Communist party.

Only last month, South Korean Intelligence sources were saying almost the opposite—that Kim Il Sung was a pro-Chinese Communist and was lopping off the heads of the pro-Russians.

Grace C. VanMeter Becomes Bride Of Donald E. Crabtree

Miss Grace Catherine VanMeter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin F. F. VanMeter, 136 Independence Street, became the bride of Donald E. Crabtree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Crabtree, Oldtown, August 1.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized in the parsonage of First Methodist Church, with Rev. William Elliott officiating.

Miss JoAnne Mullenax was the bride's maid of honor and only attendant, while Kenneth Crabtree, served as his brother's best man.

The bride was attired in a champagne colored nylon, pleated dress featuring buttons down the front. With it she wore a pink hat, trimmed in multi-colored flowers, pink gloves and turf and tan slippers and bag. A corsage of pink rosebuds completed her costume.

Her attendant wore a blue and white nylon dress, with white hat and accessories and had a corsage of white rosebuds.

The bride attended Allegany High School, where she was a member of the Glee Club, and until her recent resignation was employed by Rosenbaum Brothers.

The bridegroom attended Oldtown High School and is a veteran of World War II, having served 22 months in the Army in the Phillipines and Korea. He is employed by Fairchild Aircraft Corporation, Hagerstown.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the Flintstone fire hall. The bridal motif was carried out in the decorations and the tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

For their wedding trip the bride chose a blue organdy dress trimmed in white. With it she wore her turf and tan accessories and pin rosebud corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Crabtree will reside in Oldtown.

Homemakers To Entertain Visitors

Maryland State Council of Homemakers Clubs are being represented by three members at the seventh triennial conference of the Associated Country Women of the World in Toronto, Canada, August 12-23.

They are Mrs. Carl Feucht, Sr., Elkton, president of the Maryland State Council of Homemakers' Clubs; Mrs. Nellie Hearne, Salisbury and Mrs. W. Earle Gosweiler, Aberdeen.

How country women all over the world can take a more active part in international work is the theme of the ACWW meeting, which is being attended by members from more than 25 countries. The agenda for the conference spotlights the role of ACWW as spokesman at the United Nations for the members the world over.

Round-table discussions will deal with the problems and programs of rural women, education of rural youth to a better world understanding, and ways and means of spreading information about the UN and its agencies.

Delegates also will study economic problems of people living on the land, conservation, adult education programs and special international programs fostered by the ACWW.

During the tour of the United States following the conference, the visitors will be guests of the Prince Georges county Homemakers Council, August 30 at a tea at the University of Maryland; and of the Washington County Homemakers Council, August 31.

Fairview Avenue WSCS will hold a festival at 6 tomorrow in front of the church.

VFW Auxiliary Collects Clothes For Korean Orphans

Group To Tour VA Hospital

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Henry Hart Post, 1411 Veterans of Foreign Wars collected clothing for Korean war orphans at the meeting Tuesday evening, and made tentative plans for marking VFW night.

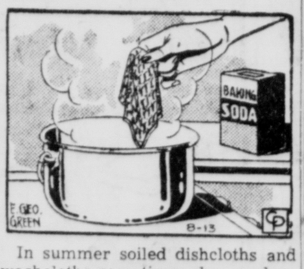
In response to a request from a local soldier stationed in Korea to send clothing to him to distribute to the children orphaned in the Korean war, the members brought about 60 pounds of clothing to the meeting. Mrs. Goldie Speis presided and appointed Mrs. Helene Bujac, Rehabilitation chairman, to arrange for shipping the clothing to Korea.

Tentative plans were discussed for visiting the Veterans Administration hospital in Baltimore September 9 at 7 p. m. The visit is marking VFW night, and besides the tour of the hospital there will be an advisory committee meeting in the hospital auditorium, followed by a discussion period. Members planning to attend are asked to call Mrs. Speis.

Plans were started for card parties in September at the post home. Mrs. Lillian Zimmerman and Mrs. Zellene Norris comprise the committee in charge of arrangements. The weekly Wednesday night games parties also were discussed.

Mrs. Speis announced that a social will be held following the next meeting, August 25 and cards are to be played. She appointed Mrs. Elizabeth Freeland and Mrs. Elizabeth Nave cochairmen of arrangements.

WIFE PRESERVERS



In summer soiled dishcloths and washcloths sometimes dry so slowly that they mildew, or become sour and musty smelling—a sign of mold growth. Boil them for a few minutes in water to which baking soda (two teaspoons to one quart of water) has been added, then launder as usual.

Society Has Mission Program

Members of the Vera Blinn Women's Society of World Service held its annual summer Christmas tree service at the monthly meeting and outing, Tuesday at the summer cottage of Mrs. John S. Cook, Patterson Creek.

A devotional program was led by Mrs. Robert Baker. Her subject was, "Christ Calls to Stewardship, therefore We Share the Good News in New Ways." Taking part were Miss Mary Everline, Mrs. Harrison Trenton, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Helen Nesbitt and Mrs. John Brotemarkle.

The children's summer Christmas tree program opened with Carol Isiminger and Carol Long reading the Scripture and offering prayer. The children sang a song and Mrs. Charles Long read a story to them. Each placed a stocking of money on the tree, the proceeds to be used towards the support of a missionary in Sierra Leona, North Africa. The program closed with the children singing, "Fairest Lord Jesus."

Other children taking part were Ann Quatse, Mary Ann Hoelzer, Sandra Long, Michael Cook, Richard Cook, Gus Cook, Herbert Nesbitt, Roger Nesbitt, Carrie Deffinbaugh, Dianne Deffinbaugh, John Isiminger, Kay Baker, John House, Dian Brotemarkle, Edna Brotemarkle, and James Brotemarkle.

There were 35 adults present also.

The next meeting of the society will be held September 8 at the home of Mrs. Ralph Isiminger, Arnett Terrace, with Mrs. Ethel Cook as cohostess.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized in the parsonage of First Methodist Church, with Rev. William Elliott officiating.

Miss JoAnne Mullenax was the bride's maid of honor and only attendant, while Kenneth Crabtree, served as his brother's best man.

The bride was attired in a champagne colored nylon, pleated dress featuring buttons down the front. With it she wore a pink hat, trimmed in multi-colored flowers, pink gloves and turf and tan slippers and bag. A corsage of pink rosebuds completed her costume.

Her attendant wore a blue and white nylon dress, with white hat and accessories and had a corsage of white rosebuds.

The bride attended Allegany High School, where she was a member of the Glee Club, and until her recent resignation was employed by Rosenbaum Brothers.

The bridegroom attended Oldtown High School and is a veteran of World War II, having served 22 months in the Army in the Philipines and Korea. He is employed by Fairchild Aircraft Corporation, Hagerstown.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the Flintstone fire hall. The bridal motif was carried out in the decorations and the tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

For their wedding trip the bride chose a blue organdy dress trimmed in white. With it she wore her turf and tan accessories and pin rosebud corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Crabtree will reside in Oldtown.

Homemakers To Entertain Visitors

Maryland State Council of Homemakers Clubs are being represented by three members at the seventh triennial conference of the Associated Country Women of the World in Toronto, Canada, August 12-23.

They are Mrs. Carl Feucht, Sr., Elkton, president of the Maryland State Council of Homemakers' Clubs; Mrs. Nellie Hearne, Salisbury and Mrs. W. Earle Gosweiler, Aberdeen.

How country women all over the world can take a more active part in international work is the theme of the ACWW meeting, which is being attended by members from more than 25 countries. The agenda for the conference spotlights the role of ACWW as spokesman at the United Nations for the members the world over.

Round-table discussions will deal with the problems and programs of rural women, education of rural youth to a better world understanding, and ways and means of spreading information about the UN and its agencies.

Delegates also will study economic problems of people living on the land, conservation, adult education programs and special international programs fostered by the ACWW.

During the tour of the United States following the conference, the visitors will be guests of the Prince Georges county Homemakers Council, August 30 at a tea at the University of Maryland; and of the Washington County Homemakers Council, August 31.

Fairview Avenue WSCS will hold a festival at 6 tomorrow in front of the church.

VFW Auxiliary Collects Clothes For Korean Orphans

Group To Tour VA Hospital

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Henry Hart Post, 1411 Veterans of Foreign Wars collected clothing for Korean war orphans at the meeting Tuesday evening, and made tentative plans for marking VFW night.

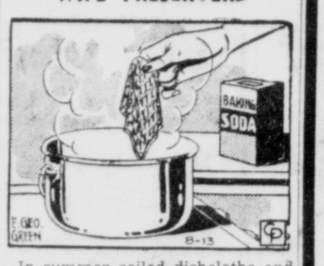
In response to a request from a local soldier stationed in Korea to send clothing to him to distribute to the children orphaned in the Korean war, the members brought about 60 pounds of clothing to the meeting. Mrs. Goldie Speis presided and appointed Mrs. Helene Bujac, Rehabilitation chairman, to arrange for shipping the clothing to Korea.

Tentative plans were discussed for visiting the Veterans Administration hospital in Baltimore September 9 at 7 p. m. The visit is marking VFW night, and besides the tour of the hospital there will be an advisory committee meeting in the hospital auditorium, followed by a discussion period. Members planning to attend are asked to call Mrs. Speis.

Plans were started for card parties in September at the post home. Mrs. Lillian Zimmerman and Mrs. Zellene Norris comprise the committee in charge of arrangements. The weekly Wednesday night games parties also were discussed.

Mrs. Speis announced that a social will be held following the next meeting, August 25 and cards are to be played. She appointed Mrs. Elizabeth Freeland and Mrs. Elizabeth Nave cochairmen of arrangements.

WIFE PRESERVERS



In summer soiled dishcloths and washcloths sometimes dry so slowly that they mildew, or become sour and musty smelling—a sign of mold growth. Boil them for a few minutes in water to which baking soda (two teaspoons to one quart of water) has been added, then launder as usual.

Christy E. Stoner, Jr., Weds Myrtle Jeanne Fait Here

Miss Myrtle Jeanne Fait, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fait, Buffalo Mills, Pa., became the bride of Christy E. Stoner, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Christy E. Stoner, Sr., Verona, Pa., August 9.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized in the First Baptist Church, Cumberland, with Rev. O. Afton Linger officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Mattlick, uncle and aunt of the bride, were the couple's only attendants.

The bride is a graduate of Hyndman High School, Hyndman; Potomac State College, Keyser, W. Va., and the Barbizon School of Fashion, New York City.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Verona High School, Verona. He attended Pittsburgh University and received his Bachelor of Science degree from Slippery Rock State Teachers' College. For the past two years he has been a member of the faculty of Hyndman Londonderry High School. He is the mathematics teacher and basketball coach.

Attending the ceremony were Lawrence Fait, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stoner, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lohr, Constance Lohr, Raymond Lohr, Jr., Robert Stoner, Miss Martha Croft, Miss Charlotte Costella, Mrs. Wilma Alderton and Mrs. O. A. Linger.

Society Has Mission Program

Members of the Vera Blinn Women's Society of World Service held its annual summer Christmas tree service at the monthly meeting and outing, Tuesday at the summer cottage of Mrs. John S. Cook, Patterson Creek.

A devotional program was led by Mrs. Robert Baker. Her subject was, "Christ Calls to Stewardship, therefore We Share the Good News in New Ways." Taking part were Miss Mary Everline, Mrs. Harrison Trenton, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Helen Nesbitt and Mrs. John Brotemarkle.

The children's summer Christmas tree program opened with Carol Isiminger and Carol Long reading the Scripture and offering prayer. The children sang a song and Mrs. Charles Long read a story to them. Each placed a stocking of money on the tree, the proceeds to be used towards the support of a missionary in Sierra Leona, North Africa. The program closed with the children singing, "Fairest Lord Jesus."

Other children taking part were Ann Quatse, Mary Ann Hoelzer, Sandra Long, Michael Cook, Richard Cook, Gus Cook, Herbert Nesbitt, Roger Nesbitt, Carrie Deffinbaugh, Dianne Deffinbaugh, John Isiminger, Kay Baker, John House, Dian Brotemarkle, Edna Brotemarkle, and James Brotemarkle.

There were 35 adults present also.

The next meeting of the society will be held September 8 at the home of Mrs. Ralph Isiminger, Arnett Terrace, with Mrs. Ethel Cook as cohostess.

Accepts Baltimore Position

Ralph E. Kessler, 846 Gephart Drive, who has been supervisor of special education for Allegany County for six years, has accepted a similar position in Baltimore County, it was announced yesterday by Ralph R. Webster, county superintendent of schools.

Kessler received a doctor of education degree from Pennsylvania State College last Saturday.

Under its new supervisor Baltimore County expects to expand its program covering remedial speech, conservation of hearing, sight-saving, the education of the slow-learning child and home teaching of the physically handicapped.

Webster said a successor is being sought and that Dr. Kessler will remain here for about a month to assist the new supervisor.

Dr. Kessler attended the public schools in McKees Rocks, Pa., and was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh with an A. B. degree in 1938. He attended Pennsylvania State College and received his master's degree in education in 1940.

He has served as teacher and area speech correctionist for the McKees Rocks Public Schools for four years, as an enlisted man and officer in the Navy for three and one-half years, as a guidance counselor at Greenville (Pa.) High School, and as chief of advisement for the Wheeling (W. Va.) subregional office, Veterans Administration.

He has had bulletins published in the fields of hearing, vision, and speech.

Dr. Kessler is a clinical member of the American Speech and Hearing Association, member of the Phi Delta Kappa, honorary Educational Fraternity, and is serving as chairman of the Special Education Section of the Maryland State Teachers Association.

Air Force Promotes Bedford Rd. Youth

William B. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilson, Bedford Road, was recently promoted to staff sergeant in the Air Force.

Sgt. Wilson, a graduate of Fort Hill High School, is assigned to the Continental Air Command, Mitchel Air Force Base, New York. An accounting clerk, he will report to Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colo., in September to attend a technical school.

Cumberland Thanked For Equipment Loan

The Mayor and Council received a letter of thanks from the Town of Westernport for the use of this city's street oiling equipment.

William M. LaFon, street commissioner, said the use of the equipment helped Westernport crews do an efficient job of oiling the streets of that town.

Confusion Is Cited By Bus Company Counsel

Replying to the claim of counsel for the Peoples Transit Company that Cumberland Transit Lines, in its application before the Maryland Public Service Commission to take over operations of the Cumberland and Westernport Transit Company, would provide "completely inadequate" schedules, Judge William C. Walsh and William A. Gunter, attorneys for Cumberland Transit, yesterday charged opposing counsel with attempting to "confuse matters" by discussing the intricacies of bus schedules instead of calling attention to more pertinent factors in the case.

Both Cumberland Transit, which operates in Cumberland and vicinity, and the Peoples Transit Company, organized by present employes of the C&W Company, are seeking PSC permission to operate the C&W system.

Judge Walsh and Gunter, in their letter yesterday, point out that "counsel for Peoples Transit have not in any way challenged the figures of Cumberland Transit showing that the latter concern can operate the C&W routes a from $60,000 to $70,000 a year less than can Peoples Transit."

No Desire For Contest

The letter to the PSC follows:

"We have no desire to engage in a letter writing contest with counsel for Peoples Transit, but the question involved in the present situation is so serious to the people of Allegany county, and the attempt of Peoples' counsel to confuse matters by discussing the intricacies of bus schedules is so obvious, that we think we should make some comment on their letter to you of August 10, 1953.

"Counsel for Peoples Transit must have looked at the wrong schedules. There will be a bus leaving Bloomington at 1 o'clock which will reach Frostburg at 2 o'clock, and thus enable 3 o'clock shift workers to reach their work at the proper time. In addition, Cumberland Transit will definitely provide proper transportation for all the shifts at the major plants in Cumberland without any delays in Frostburg. Cumberland Transit again respectfully urges the Commission to have its traffic department make a survey of the present C&W routes and establish a proper schedule for these routes.

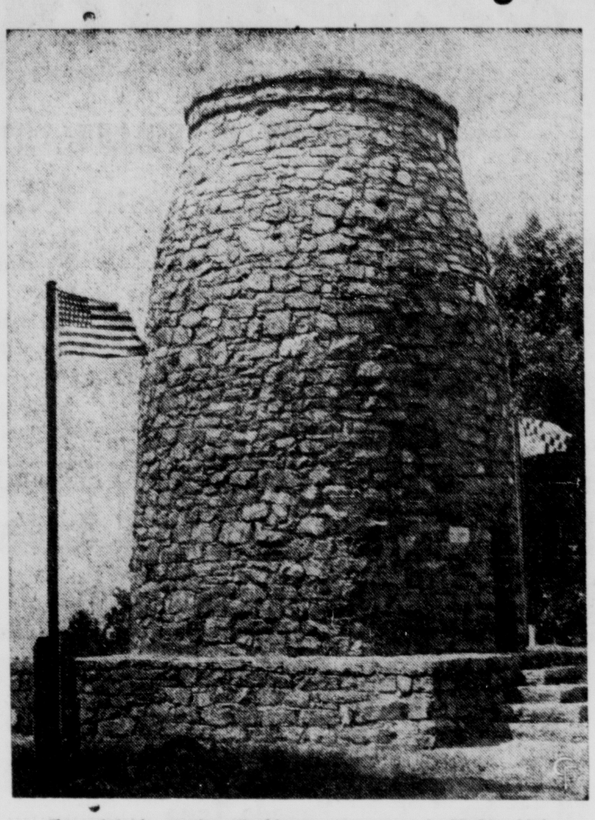
"Every bus operator is naturally interested in securing as many riders as possible, and Cumberland Transit would arrange its schedules with a view to accomplishing this, and should any of its proposed schedules not work out satisfactorily, they would be changed to suit the public convenience just as all transportation schedules are constantly being changed for the same purpose.

Losses Continue

"It should be noted that counsel for Peoples Transit have not in any way challenged the figures of Cumberland Transit showing that the latter concern can operate the C & W routes at from $60,000 to $70,000 less a year than can Peoples Transit, and we respectfully submit that the economic situation with regard to public bus transportation in this county presents the real problem before the Commission, and that the continuance of proper public transportation in the county depends upon a sound solution to this problem. C & W has not yet filed a report of its operations for July, but we are reliably informed that its revenues for the month were below $12,000, and that its loss in July was over $100 a day, and its records before the Commission showed that it was almost that much for each day in May and June of this year. Under these circumstances, it seems clear to us that the relative cost of operation between the two applicants should be the deciding factor.

"The question of adequate schedules is a matter which is always subject to the control of the Commission. Cumberland Transit is willing to follow the recommendations of the Commission's traffic department on this matter, and it again earnestly requests that a traffic survey be made, and that the adequacy of its equipment also be determined. On the other hand, the Commission cannot of its own motion increase the number of bus riders. The only way in which it can increase revenues is by raising fares, and where it is presented with a situation in which the present operator of a bus system wishes to abandon it because of the tremendous losses being incurred, and one of the two applicants for the operation could carry it on for between $60,000 and $70,000 less than can the other one, it would seem, and we are certain that the Commission will take such steps as it deems proper to assure adequate service and at the same time preserve the operation from bankruptcy."

Genuine Washington Monument Is 50 Miles From Washington



The original, genuine Washington Monument is 30 feet high.

By HARRY WARNER, JR.
Central Press Correspondent

BOONSBORO, Md. — Tourists who fight Washington's traffic and suffer a stiff neck from gawking at the Washington Monument aren't seeing the genuine article for all their pains.

The tall, slender shaft in the nation's capital couldn't call itself by that name, logically, if people around here complained too strongly. Because standing atop South mountain, 50 miles from Washington, is the genuine article—the first monument to be completed in honor of the first President.

It took decades to complete the famous Washington Monument. It took just one day for people around here to construct the original. In a burst of Independence Day patriotism, residents of the area gathered up rough mountain stone and built the edifice on July 4, 1827.

The original Washington Monument is only about 30 feet high. But paradoxically, it's taller than the one in Washington, as far as height above sea level goes. That's because it stands atop the mountain, some 1,500 feet above sea level.

Unfortunately, the engineering of the people wasn't quite as strong as their enthusiasm back in 1827. The monument already was toppling in 1862, when it was patched up with logs and used as a signal station by Union forces during the fighting at Antietam creek. However, the structure was restored with native stone in 1936, and now has all the sturdiness of its slimmer competitor.

No auto road reaches the Washington Monument on South mountain, but annually some 80,000 persons visit it. The area is a state park, with parking facilities and picnic equipment. A 500-foot hike up a footpath leads to the structure itself. It's also a familiar sight to hikers on the Appalachian trail, which runs alongside.

The first Washington Monument doesn't enjoy the elevator service of its younger contemporary. But there aren't as many steps inside, either, and the view from the top provides a spectacular view of generous portions of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Barn Is Destroyed By Morning Blaze

The Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company was called to the home of Sol Anzell, Rawlings, early yesterday when fire broke out in his barn.

The barn was destroyed, but the firemen were able to prevent the blaze spreading to nearby buildings. The Keyser Fire Company and McCoole Volunteer Firemen also answered the alarm.

Tipsy Celebrater Draws $55 Fine

"Celebrating" proved costly yesterday morning in Police Court for a 28-year-old Mt. Savage Road man.

The defendant was fined $50 after he pleaded guilty to discharging a firecracker within the city limits. He also paid $5 on a tipsy charge.

Officer Donald Smith testified he saw the prisoner set off the noise maker early yesterday near the Blue Ridge Bus Terminal on North Mechanic Street.

The repentful man blamed drink for the fireworks episode and asked for clemency from Magistrate Donald W. Mason. He got the minimum fine on both charges and spent a short time in jail before a friend "bailed him out."

Police said the defendant failed to explain what he was celebrating.

Former WM Railway Official Dies

John Alfred Abbott, 66, who for three years held the position of superintendent for the Elkins Division of the Western Maryland Railway Company, died Tuesday night in the Washington County Hospital.

Abbott had been admitted to the hospital four days ago after complications developed from a kidney ailment.

He served in his position as head of the Elkins Division from June 25, 1934, to May of 1937 when he was transferred to Hagerstown to take the position as head of the Hagerstown Division, a post he held for 15 years.

He retired September 1, 1951, from the Western Maryland, completing 47 years of work with the system.

He began his railroad career as a telegrapher with the West Virginia, Central and Pittsburgh Railroad, November 23, 1904. At that time he was drawing $20 a month for an 80-hour week.

Two years later the Western Maryland took over the line for which Abbott was working, and he was employed by the new company. He held several positions before assuming the post as head of the Elkins Division. He advanced from telegrapher to night chief dispatcher, then became day chief dispatcher. Later he was given the job of assistant trainmaster and then became trainmaster. Finally, in 1934, he became superintendent of the Elkins Division.

Abbott was born at Everett, Pa., a son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Abbott.

In Cumberland he belonged to a number of organizations including Ohr Lodge 131, AF and AM; Salem Chapter 18, RAM, Antioch Commandery 6, Knights Templar; AAONMS Ali Ghan Temple, Royal Order of Jesters, and BPO Elks 63.

In Hagerstown he was a member of the Conococheague Sportsman's Club, Traffic Club, and St. Paul's Methodist Church.

His wife, Sara (Kelly), a native of Saxton, Pa., died several months ago while returning with Abbott from a motor trip to Florida. A daughter, Sara, died in 1942.

Survivors include two sons, John A. Abbott Jr., and James L. Abbott, both of Hagerstown; two sisters, Mrs. Arley Kein, Clarksburg, W. Va.; and Mrs. Harry Hobson, Roanoke, Va., and two grandchildren.

The body is at the residence, 1414 Oakhill Avenue, Hagerstown, where it will remain until noon tomorrow. It will then be taken to St. Paul's Methodist Church where it will lie in state until 3 p. m. (EDT) when services will be conducted by Rev. J. E. Kemp Horn, pastor. Interment will be in Rest Haven Cemetery.

Final Concrete For North End Water Tank To Be Poured Today

The preliminary work on the erection of a large water tank on Wills Mountain for the purpose of boosting water pressure in the North End is expected to be completed today, according to Water Department officials.

George M. Hitchcock, superintendent of the Evitts Creek Water Company, who has been supervising the work, said cement for the valve box, the seat for the stand pipe of the tank, will be poured today. The cemet being used is of a special mixture and "cures" more rapidly than that which was used for the supports of the tank, Hitchcock stated.

Criticism had previously been directed at the department because of an apparent delay in the construction work.

There has been no deliberate hold-up in the work, Hitchcock stressed, and there have been many smaller, time-consuming details to be completed before the erection of the tank could be begun. Great care has been taken, he added to see that all preparations have been adequate for taking care of the weight of the tank.

The weight of the tank alone is 30 tons, according to Hitchcock, and this will increase to 330 tons when filled with water, he added.

Unofficial temperature readings of 180 degrees in the sun have been recorded along the Persian gulf coast of Iran.

Md. Grain Crops Harder Hit By Drought Than Expected

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 12 (AP)—Agricultural economists reported today the drought dealt Maryland's grain crops a more serious blow than had been expected a month ago.

As of Aug. 1, estimates by the U. S. Department of Agriculture showed the state would produce less grain than last year.

Principal reason for the decline was listed as "deterioration of the corn crop" because of dryness and above normal temperatures.

It also was pointed out that less acreage of corn, winter wheat, oats and barley was planted this year. Only soybean and rye acreages were up from a year ago.

The Federal Crop Reporting Service said that before dry weather arrived most of the smaller grains had already been harvested and promise to show a greater yield than in 1952.

Dry weather produced a sound winter wheat crop, low in moisture and in maturity shrinkage. It's expected to yield 20.5 bushels per acre, one bushel per acre more than was estimated last month.

Although damage to the oat crop was expected, indications point to a 34 bushel per acre yield, a bushel per acre more than last month's estimate, the report said.

The barley crop, nearly completed by July 1, yielded 33.5 bushels per acre, half a bushel more than last year's crop.

Soybeans were damaged by dry weather and the yield fell off two bushels per acre from last year's harvest.

The crop reporters said pasture growth was practically stopped by the six-week period of dry weather in June and July. A heavy rain July 22 did much to revive browning pastures, but the experts say it will take considerably more rain to bring pastures to a condition normal for this time of year.

The hot, dry weather caused tobacco to be uneven and to flower prematurely. Agriculturists say a yield of 800 pounds per acre is in prospect at this time.

Both the apple and peach crops will be down from last year. At 1,163,000 bushels, the apple crop is 2 per cent less than in 1952, while the peach crop at 404,000 bushels is down 11 per cent from the previous year.

More Phone Workers Walk Off Their Jobs

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—Telephone repair workers in three more Maryland areas stopped work today to attend meetings protesting "lack of progress" in negotiations for a new contract.

Similar action was taken yesterday by employes of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. in four Eastern Shore counties.

In a surprise development, telephone operators in Prince Georges and Montgomery counties attended the meeting in Silver Spring armory.

The meetings are supposed to be only for repairmen who belong to the Communications Workers of America (CIO). The operators belong to another union which is negotiating separately.

The other mass meetings were held in Baltimore and Hughesville.

Five-Legged Calf Shows Up At Sale

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 12 (AP)—A five-legged calf was unloaded today at the Four-State Livestock Sales yards.

It had four normal legs and another, about a foot and a half in length, growing out of the back of its neck, stockyard employes said. It was an otherwise normal animal and was put up for sale.

Another Farm In State To Get Its Face Lifted

CHOPTANK, Md., Aug. 12 (AP)—Another Maryland farm gets its face lifted Friday in connection with the annual celebration of Maryland Land Week.

The conservation work will be done on the farm of ex-GI Norris W. Coulbourne near Choptank in Caroline County.

Dr. H. C. Byrd, president of the University of Maryland, will speak.

The Committee for Conservation now said the farm's fertility is 70 per cent gone, its fields are badly in need of drainage and most of its buildings are in a state of disrepair.

The farm, the committee said, has had several periods of tenant operation during which little was done to conserve its resources.

Its owner now, the committee notes, is an energetic, ambitious ex-GI "who wants to do a good job of farming." He's already done much work on the place and has restored some of the land's productivity since taking over the farm in 1949. At that time none of the 113 acres was fit for productive use, the committee said.

The Caroline Soil Conservation District was asked to help and a conservation plan was mapped. But "so much renovation was needed that the farm was an ideal selection for demonstration purposes," the committee said.

Work to be started will include nearly four miles of ditches, work on subsoiling, liming, fertilizing, land clearing, obstruction removal, fencing and seeding new grasses and pastures.

A spectacular job will be the building of a million gallon capacity farm pond covering an acre in a natural depression where a small stream runs through the farm.

The State Game and Inland Fish commission will cooperate in planting a mile of rose hedges and in setting up two acres of wildlife borders.

Merchants, implement firms and farm equipment companies are cooperating by supplying much of the material needed for the farm's rehabilitation.

D'Alesandro Cancels Insurance Policy

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro today ordered cancellation of a policy held by his insurance firm on a city-financed parking garage.

Existence of the policy came to light recently during a controversy of the city-financed garages while the mayor was away in Europe. He disclaimed any knowledge of the policy upon his return.

The $400,000 policy carried a premium of $1,300 on which the commission to Mayor D'Alesandro's insurance firm was $260 a year.

Wheat Growers Vote On Quotas

COLLEGE PARK, Md. Aug. 12 (AP)—Maryland wheat growers vote Friday in a national referendum on marketing quotas.

Department of Agriculture officials report there are about 9,000 eligible voters in Maryland but are not expecting a heavy turnout.

Wheat growers with allotments of 15 acres or more are subject to marketing quotas and eligible to vote. Voting places have been set up in local communities.

If more than two-thirds of the growers voting in the national referendum in favor quotas, farmers planting within their acreage allotment will be eligible for price supports at 90 per cent of parity. Farmers over-planting their acreage allotment would be subject to marketing penalties amounting to 45 per cent of parity.

If the quotas are rejected, those holding to allotments will be eligible for price supports at 50 per cent of parity. Over-plantings will not be eligible for supports but growers will not be penalized.

George J. Martin, Chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing Administration state committee explained growers have received allotment notices on their 1945 crop and these will be in effect regardless of the outcome of Friday's voting. Growers may appeal the allotments to their county PMA committee.

Two Youths Get Trapped In Baltimore Shot Tower

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—Two boys who "always wanted to see" Baltimore's historic Shot Tower, got in and then couldn't get out. Somebody fixed the lock.

Police had to use a hammer and file to break the new lock and free 18-year-old Eugene Foster and 16-year-old Frank Brashears.

The tower in downtown Baltimore was used years ago to make shot for firearms.

"For ten years I've lived a block away from the tower," Brashears said, "and always wanted to go inside and explore it."

When he and Foster passed the tower yesterday and saw the lock was broken they "couldn't pass up the chance."

They went inside. But as they climbed the steps to the top a city employe arrived with the replacement lock and snapped it into place.

The boys hurried downstairs, banged on the door and finally attracted passersby who called the cops.

State Standard Of Living Aided By Credit Usage

98 Per Cent Of People Good Risks

Sound use of consumer instalment credit is responsible for Maryland's high standard of living a special survey just completed indicates.

The state's 704,100 families with an average annual income of $5,300 own 656,800 automobiles and trucks, more than 564,000 refrigerators, some 573,900 radios, 478,900 television sets and almost 364,400 vacuum cleaners, the report showed.

Taking automobiles as an example the study revealed that 98 out of 100 Free Staters are excellent credit risks, making their payments on time and completing obligations on their contracts promptly.

The survey was conducted by CIT Financial Corporation, with principal subsidiaries in the fields of automotive and industrial financing. Several CIT officers serve Maryland.

Arthur O. Dietz, president of CIT stated the study "emphasizes the fact that mass financing is the fundamental support of the American system of mass production and distribution.

"If markets were restricted only to customers who could pay cash the economies of mass production would largely disappear," he concluded.

The study pointed out that in 1952 American families used about $50,000,000,000 of consumer credit in buying the $216,000,000,000 worth of goods and services used. This is nearly 25 per cent of estimated consumer expenditures of all types.

Council Faces

Repairs Are Needed

Nuzum pointed out that projects estimated to cost $11,050 are necessary to make actual repairs needed at City Hall and City Hall Annex. This may be considered as a separate item in the budget.

For Civil Defense, $2,000 was requested. Gibson said this is planned to cover the cost of operation of the city's CD alarm system.

Plans were made to try to trim a bit from the Civil Service Commission budget request of $3,725. The budget included $1,200 for a part-time clerk to help set up personnel records. It was felt there was a possibility of reducing that figure.

The Constitution Park budget request of $28,232.94, is about $7,000 over last year's expenditures.

Will Cut Contingencies

This includes $575 for the rehabilitation of filters at the park pool, $2,000 for a new workshop and repair of roads, which must be sealed if the surface is to be preserved, officials said.

Funds for maintenance of the park pool, which is to be done by park personnel, could be transferred from the Recreation budget, which will be responsible only for the operation of the pool.

Sure to be decreased is the Contingent Fund, which was set at the $25,000 legal limit. Last year, only $8,050 was budgeted, and only the sale of city-owned lots kept the item from ending in the red. Gibson said the council could drop the item to what it wanted.

For Engineering, $45,709 was asked. This sum, the council was told, can be dropped $8,000 to $9,000 by charging departments for work done.

The Fire Department budget request submitted by Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long totaled $191,367.97. This, he said, was pared down from the $236,540 requested by Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker.

Asks Same Staff

He said the budget does not include any addition to the present 53 man force. The chief had asked six more men at a cost of $17,028.

Long said the increase over last year's $189,100 request, is less than increases in salaries to meet the full impact of the 10 per cent boost. He said the budget is "rock bottom."

The Health Department budget has not been submitted, due to uncertainty about putting two city employes on the state salary scale.

It was pointed out that the city, a number of years ago, agreed to pay the state wage scale for city health workers on the understanding the county would follow suit. The county has refused to do so, but has given its health workers regular increases granted to other county workers.

Attempts will be made to trim the $4,000 increase asked for the Cumberland Free Public Library by asking the county, which owns the building, to provide a heating plant and help with shelving costs.

Plans Same Staff

The Police Department budget submitted by Long does not include funds for additional men, which means that if a five-day week is to be adopted for police and firemen, it will have to be done with present working staffs.

Long said requests of $212,209 were pared down to $200,857.78, with provisions made for necessary salary increases, and other expenditures reduced. It provides, he said, for 50 men, and not the additional four asked by Chief R. Emmett Flynn.

May Sell Bonds

For Recreation, $50,000 was asked, including $10,000 for capital improvements. Council agreed tentatively to eliminate the $10,000 by selling the $150,000 bond issue which was authorized for recreation several years ago.

At the same time, the city would sell the $350,000 bond issue authorized for traffic improvements and a $150,000 water bond issue.

A deficit of about $800 for the July 4 fireworks display may be charged to Recreation, since it will about equal the sum set aside for maintenance of the park pool, which will be done by the park staff.

Keegan said the Recreation Department should handle the fireworks from now on.

Smoke Abatement

The Smoke Abatement Department asked $8,180, down from last year's $10,500 appropriation. Mayor Roy W. Eves said he did not favor the employment of a $10,000 smoke engineer, since the city could get needed technical advice from an air pollution service. He suggested that $7,700 be put down for smoke abatement.

No question was raised by city officials on the increased budget for Elections and Registration, which totals $17,800. This includes the usual amount to operate the registration system and a mandatory $15,000 for city elections planned next spring.

Plans must also be made, Mrs. Roeder said, to provide about $1,800 to operate the Bedford Street sewage ejector station, and about $12,000 for maintaining siphons and regulators on the Flood Control pressure conduits here.

Last year, the city set a tax rate of $1.28, including 95 cents for operating expenses, and 33 cents for debt service.

Local Man, Woman Get One-Year Terms

A local woman and a local man were given one-year jail sentences to the Maryland Reformatory for Women and the Maryland House of Correction respectively yesterday in Allegany County Juvenile Court on charges of contributing to the delinquency of two minor children.

Magistrate Alban C. Thompson said the two children were 13 and nine years old.

Area Teamsters Win 12½ Cent Increase

About 200 members of Local 453, Teamsters Union (AFL), won 12½ cent an hour wage increases as a result of a new contract ratified recently by the Western Pennsylvania Motor Carriers Association and the Pittsburgh Area Teamsters Council.

The new rates for the drivers now range from $1.80½ to $2 an hour.

C. E. Stutzman, business agent of the local, said the men are employed by the Continental and Royal freight lines, of Bedford, and the Eastern Freight Lines, Somerset, all of which were covered by the Pennsylvania agreement.

Suspect In Robbery Released By Police

City police yesterday morning released a young West Side man who was being held as a suspect in the armed robbery of $73 on July 2 from Harold L. Sherwood, 46, of 629 Yale Street.

The suspect was taken into custody on Sunday morning and gave his address as McKeesport, Pa.

Sherwood told police he was walking out Goethe Street about 12:20 a. m. July 2 when a man walked up behind him, stuck a gun in his back and ordered him to hand over his money.

Investigation of the case is in charge of Lt. James E. Van of the City Detective Bureau.

Livestock Losses From Lightning Can Be Lightened

Livestock losses in pastures and damage or loss of farm buildings during the lightning storm season are largely preventable, advises A. V. Krewatch, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Maryland.

Here's how to go about it:

Wire fences on wood posts should be grounded at regular intervals of 10 rods or so by means of No. 10 or heavier wire thrust into the ground at least to post depth. Staple the ground wire tightly across each intersecting wire on the post.

Trees that cows like to gather under during storms can be protected with lightning rods extending to the top of the tree and having the usual ground to constantly moist earth.

Correctly rodded buildings are seldom struck and rarely destroyed by lightning, according to the engineer. But installation calls for technical information, and Krewatch advises entrusting the job to reputable and experienced workers. Check your system periodically and keep it in top condition for good performance.

Mark Anniversary

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wisman was observed at a family dinner last evening at their home, Decatur Street.

Natives of Shenandoah county, Va., the former Miss Sarah Elizabeth Hite, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hite became the bride of Mr. Wisman, son of Mrs. Luella Wisman and the late Joseph Kranklin Wisman, August 12, 1903.

The couple have three children, Mrs. Ernest E. McCullough, Mrs. William C. Straw and Franklin O. Wisman, South Bend, Ind.

Mrs. Wisman collects antiques and does needlework and crocheting. Mr. Wisman operated the Wisman Market until his recent illness. He now reads, and listens to the radio and television.

A golden color scheme was carried out in the decorations in the house and table.

Ralph L. Lewis Honored By YMCA

Ralph L. Lewis last night received a copy of the Methodist Discipline from Winfield H. Adam, general secretary of Central YMCA, during a going away party for Lewis at the "Y".

Lewis, program secretary for the "Y", will take up duties as associate pastor in charge of youth work at St. Paul's Methodist Church in Lincoln, Neb. He has been a member of the "Y" staff for two years, coming here from New Jersey. In addition to the book, Lewis was presented a traveling clock. Other members of the staff who attended the party yere Mrs. Mary Koegel, Mrs. Mae Klein, Mrs. Edith Largent, John Chisholm Jr., Mrs. Marshall Twigg, Mrs. Clara Farrin, Mrs. A. E. Kesecker, A. Gerald Arthur, Miss Lucille Schultz, Charles Welch, Mrs. Thelma Swartzwelder, Charles E. Miller Sr., Miss Lena Ruppert, Mrs. Clara Green and Frank Jones.

PSC Urged To Favor Peoples Request For Area Bus Franchise

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP) — A Cumberland union today urged that a company of employes be granted the bus franchise of the Cumberland and Westernport Transit Co.

Local 1874 of the Textile Workers Union telegraphed the Public Service Commission asking that the franchise be granted to Peoples Transit Co.

Peoples and Cumberland Transit Lines have asked to take over the lines which Cumberland and Westernport want to abandon. Peoples is a new company formed by present employes of C & W.

The PSC has heard all sides in the case and is pondering a decision.

Frostburg Police Start Radio Use

A new two-way radio, installed in the Frostburg police car at a cost of $525, was placed in operation for the first time at 4 p. m. yesterday.

This new radio will operate through the State Police Barracks at LaVale. When police headquarters has a call for the police car, the message will be telephoned to the LaVale barracks and then relayed by radio to the car. Similarly messages from the car will be relayed from the barracks by phone to Frostburg police headquarters.

The Frostburg Mayor and City Council authorized this improvement, which was completed under the direction of Police and Fire Commissioner Perry W. Myers.

State Standard Of Living Aided By Credit Usage

98 Per Cent Of People Good Risks

Sound use of consumer instalment credit is responsible for Maryland's high standard of living a special survey just completed indicates.

The state's 704,100 families with an average annual income of $5,300 own 656,800 automobiles and trucks, more than 564,000 refrigerators, some 573,900 radios, 478,900 television sets and almost 364,400 vacuum cleaners, the report showed.

Taking automobiles as an example the study revealed that 98 out of 100 Free Staters are excellent credit risks, making their payments on time and completing obligations on their contracts promptly.

The survey was conducted by CIT Financial Corporation, with principal subsidiaries in the fields of automotive and industrial financing. Several CIT officers serve Maryland.

Arthur O. Dietz, president of CIT stated the study "emphasizes the fact that mass financing is the fundamental support of the American system of mass production and distribution.

"If markets were restricted only to customers who could pay cash the economies of mass production would largely disappear," he concluded.

The study pointed out that in 1952 American families used about $50,000,000,000 of consumer credit in buying the $216,000,000,000 worth of goods and services used. This is nearly 25 per cent of estimated consumer expenditures of all types.

Council Faces

Repairs Are Needed

Nuzum pointed out that projects estimated to cost $11,050 are necessary to make actual repairs needed at City Hall and City Hall Annex. This may be considered as a separate item in the budget.

For Civil Defense, $2,000 was requested. Gibson said this is planned to cover the cost of operation of the city's CD alarm system.

Plans were made to try to trim a bit from the Civil Service Commission budget request of $3,725. The budget included $1,200 for a part-time clerk to help set up personnel records. It was felt there was a possibility of reducing that figure.

The Constitution Park budget request of $28,232.94, is about $7,000 over last year's expenditures.

Will Cut Contingencies

This includes $575 for the rehabilitation of filters at the park pool, $2,000 for a new workshop and repair of roads, which must be sealed if the surface is to be preserved, officials said.

Funds for maintenance of the park pool, which is to be done by park personnel, could be transferred from the Recreation budget, which will be responsible only for the operation of the pool.

Sure to be decreased is the Contingent Fund, which was set at the $25,000 legal limit. Last year, only $8,050 was budgeted, and only the sale of city-owned lots kept the item from ending in the red. Gibson said the council could drop the item to what it wanted.

For Engineering, $45,709 was asked. This sum, the council was told, can be dropped $8,000 to $9,000 by charging departments for work done.

The Fire Department budget request submitted by Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long totaled $191,367.97. This, he said, was pared down from the $236,540 requested by Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker.

Asks Same Staff

He said the budget does not include any addition to the present 53 man force. The chief had asked six more men at a cost of $17,028.

Long said the increase over last year's $189,100 request, is less than increases in salaries to meet the full impact of the 10 per cent boost. He said the budget is "rock bottom."

The Health Department budget has not been submitted, due to uncertainty about putting two city employes on the state salary scale.

It was pointed out that the city, a number of years ago, agreed to pay the state wage scale for city health workers on the understanding the county would follow suit. The county has refused to do so, but has given its health workers regular increases granted to other county workers.

Attempts will be made to trim the $4,000 increase asked for the Cumberland Free Public Library by asking the county, which owns the building, to provide a heating plant and help with shelving costs.

Plans Same Staff

The Police Department budget submitted by Long does not include funds for additional men, which means that if a five-day week is to be adopted for police and firemen, it will have to be done with present working staffs.

Long said requests of $212,209 were pared down to $200,857.78, with provisions made for necessary salary increases, and other expenditures reduced. It provides, he said, for 50 men, and not the additional four asked by Chief R. Emmett Flynn.

May Sell Bonds

For Recreation, $50,000 was asked, including $10,000 for capital improvements. Council agreed tentatively to eliminate the $10,000 by selling the $150,000 bond issue which was authorized for recreation several years ago.

At the same time, the city would sell the $350,000 bond issue authorized for traffic improvements and a $150,000 water bond issue.

A deficit of about $800 for the July 4 fireworks display may be charged to Recreation, since it will about equal the sum set aside for maintenance of the park pool, which will be done by the park staff.

Keegan said the Recreation Department should handle the fireworks from now on.

Smoke Abatement

The Smoke Abatement Department asked $8,180, down from last year's $10,500 appropriation. Mayor Roy W. Eves said he did not favor the employment of a $10,000 smoke engineer, since the city could get needed technical advice from an air pollution service. He suggested that $7,700 be put down for smoke abatement.

No question was raised by city officials on the increased budget for Elections and Registration, which totals $17,800. This includes the usual amount to operate the registration system and a mandatory $15,000 for city elections planned next spring.

Plans must also be made, Mrs. Roeder said, to provide about $1,800 to operate the Bedford Street sewage ejector station, and about $12,000 for maintaining siphons and regulators on the Flood Control pressure conduits here.

Last year, the city set a tax rate of $1.28, including 95 cents for operating expenses, and 33 cents for debt service.

Local Man, Woman Get One-Year Terms

A local woman and a local man were given one-year jail sentences to the Maryland Reformatory for Women and the Maryland House of Correction respectively yesterday in Allegany County Juvenile Court on charges of contributing to the delinquency of two minor children.

Magistrate Alban C. Thompson said the two children were 13 and nine years old.

Area Teamsters Win 12½ Cent Increase

About 200 members of Local 453, Teamsters Union (AFL), won 12½ cent an hour wage increases as a result of a new contract ratified recently by the Western Pennsylvania Motor Carriers Association and the Pittsburgh Area Teamsters Council.

The new rates for the drivers now range from $1.80½ to $2 an hour.

C. E. Stutzman, business agent of the local, said the men are employed by the Continental and Royal freight lines, of Bedford, and the Eastern Freight Lines, Somerset, all of which were covered by the Pennsylvania agreement.

Suspect In Robbery Released By Police

City police yesterday morning released a young West Side man who was being held as a suspect in the armed robbery of $73 on July 2 from Harold L. Sherwood, 46, of 629 Yale Street.

The suspect was taken into custody on Sunday morning and gave his address as McKeesport, Pa.

Sherwood told police he was walking out Goethe Street about 12:20 a. m. July 2 when a man walked up behind him, stuck a gun in his back and ordered him to hand over his money.

Yankees Win, 22-1, White Sox Lose, 7-4

New Yorkers Trounce Nats, Get 28 Hits

Champs Boost Lead To 7 Games As Tribe Wins Over Chicago

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—The New York Yankees socked Washington pitching all over the lot tonight, clubbing the Senators with 28 hits, the most piled up by any major league team this year, and romping home with a 22-1 victory. The triumph pulled the Yankees seven games ahead of second place Chicago.

Whitey Ford coasted to his 14th victory against four setbacks for the season and chipped in four hits. He undoubtedly set an all-time mark when he was lifted for a pinch hitter when his team was ahead 22 to 0.

Rookie Steve Kraly, just up from Binghamton, pitched the last two innings and gave up the only Senator run.

Yogi Berra and Billy Martin drove in five runs apiece for the Yanks. Berra's three-run homer in the first got the Yankees off to a flying start and they scored almost automatically after that, hitting safely in every inning.

New York	403	230	550—22 28 1

Cubs, Reds Split

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP)—Bob Rush fanned 10 and gave up only nine hits to salvage the second game of a doubleheader today as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Cincinnati Redlegs, 3-1, after the Redlegs beat the Cubs in the opener 10-6, on Andy Seminick's ninth-inning grand slam home run.

Veteran Kenny Raffensberger was the Cub victim. It marked the third time this season the lefthander had been defeated by the Cubs in four decisions. Seminick's homer, his 14th of the year and seventh with the bases loaded in his 11 year career, was off reliefer Johnny Klippstein.

Lions-Newsies, Jaycees-Rotary Tangle Friday

The Lions Club defeated B'nai B'rith last night at Penn Avenue Field, 9-4, and will play the Times-News in the opening round of the Hot Stove Baseball League playoffs Friday at 8:30 p. m. at Penn Avenue.

Jaycees and Rotary Club will clash in the first game of their best-of-three playoff series Friday at 6:30 p. m. at Penn Field.

The second games in each series are set for next Tuesday and third games, if necessary, will be staged Friday.

Playoffs in the Dapper Dan League tonight at Penn Field bring together the Cardinals and Braves at 6:30 and the Tigers and Red Sox at 8:30. These are openers of three-game series. The second games are billed for Monday and the third games, if necessary, on Thursday.

Harry Keister's Homer Wins For Keyser's Ridge

3-Run Clout In 9th Sinks Salisbury, 8-6

Harry Keister belted a home run over the left field fence with two mates aboard in the ninth inning to give Keyser Ridge an 8-6 decision over Salisbury (Pa.) in a Penn-Mar Baseball League thriller yesterday at Keyser Ridge.

The wallop by Harry Keister won the ball game for his brother Bobby, southpaw relief twirler, who supplanted George Richards in the top of the ninth when Salisbury rallied for three runs to take a 6-5 lead.

With two out in the last of the ninth, Bobby Keister and Jack Mort singled. Then Harry Keister teed off to break up the game.

Tommy Dunn and Mort led the Keyser Ridge hitters with two blows each. Thomas with three hits and Reckner and Walker with two each paced Salisbury.

The win enabled Keyser Ridge to increase its league lead to one full game over Meyersdale.

Wellersburg and Barrelville battled nine innings to a 4-4 deadlock, halted by darkness.

Aldridge led Barrelville's hitters with three singles while Iser tripled and singled and starred in right field. Charley O'Baker smacked a double and single and Eirich banged a triple for Wellersburg. Scores:

Richards Tosses Demons To 6-1 Win Over Germans

Defeats Norman Geatz Westvaco Winner, 3-1

Tommy Richards snapped the seven-game winning streak of Cumberland's Old Germans yesterday at Frostburg as the Demons chalked up their eighth consecutive triumph in the Bi-State Baseball League. The score was 6-1.

The youthful Richards, ace of Beall High's Bi-State Conference co-champions this year, held the league leaders to seven hits, struck out six in posting his third straight victory against four losses. He has yielded only three runs in his last three starts, beating Westvaco, 6-1, and Mt. Savage 4-1 before taming the Brewers. Norman Geatz, who started the game with an 8-0 record, suffered his first defeat. He was relieved by George Geatz in the 7th.

Richards was accorded stellar support afield by second sacker Rickey Harris, who made an unassisted double play and figured in another twin killing, and Denny Shuck who excelled at short.

Seven of Frostburg's 13 hits went for extra bases. Bill McProuty, Harris and Richards belted triples while McProuty, "Bubbles" Thompson and Bill Murray had two hits each for Manager Lou Baker's aggregation.

The win gave Frostburg a one-game advantage over Mt. Savage in the battle for third place. Cumberland's lead over Westvaco was shaved to two full games.

Hubert Nicol outpitched Mel Nee as the Westvaco Papermakers defeated the Mt. Savage Braves at Westernport by the score of 3-1.

Westvaco won the game in the first inning when Inskeep walked, Leo Ryan singled and Tommy "Grumbles" Michael drove home both runners with a timely two-bagger. Frank Patrone made it 3-0 in the second when he slammed a homer over the right field barrier. Comer's single, Cunningham's walk and Deffenbaugh's base hit produced the Braves' tally in the fourth.

Nicol struck out seven and posted his fourth win against a single defeat. Nee suffered his second loss. He has won four. Michael and Inskeep had three hits each for Westvaco while Nolan collected two of the Braves' six blows. Scores:

When 2 brands of gasoline cost you about the same . . .

how much difference can there be?

Both come from fine petroleum families, bearing well-respected names. You could find them across the street from one another, and a tankful of either will make about the same size dent in your pocketbook.

BUT . . . if one of them is Esso Extra, the overall difference between it and the other is apt to be surprisingly great. The difference between what you and your engine get for what you pay in the course of a year can be a very big difference, indeed.

We don't mean, of course, that the difference in Esso Extra will knock your hat off in 100 yards, or that it will make a tired old engine kick its heels like a lamb in the spring. Nor do we mean the other gasoline isn't good. It is good.

But we do mean that the man who always stops to see his Esso Dealer will get in Esso Extra a gasoline that meets the highest all-round, year-round standard of performance quality to be found.

If you'd like to have some proof, here it is:

We take eight qualities which automotive engineers have agreed are important in a gasoline, and which can be scientifically measured.

1. Sheer Power; 2. High Anti-Knock; 3. Long Mileage; 4. Clean Engine Operation; 5. Quick Starting; 6. Fast Warm-up; 7. Hot Weather Anti-Vapor-Lock; 8. Cool Weather Anti-Stalling.

Then we measure Esso Extra against competing brands for these performance qualities. And time after time in these tests Esso Extra meets the highest standard of overall year-round performance quality.

So it's not surprising . . . is it? . . . that Esso Extra is by far the most popular of all premium fuels in the area served by Esso Dealers!

And it wouldn't be surprising . . . would it? . . . if you and your own faithful engine would have Happier Motoring if your tank always contained Esso Extra!

Esso Extra meets today's highest standard of year-round gasoline performance!

Champs Boost Lead To 7 Games As Tribe Wins Over Chicago

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—The New York Yankees socked Washington pitching all over the lot tonight, clubbing the Senators with 28 hits, the most piled up by any major league team this year, and romping home with a 22-1 victory. The triumph pulled the Yankees seven games ahead of second place Chicago.

Whitey Ford coasted to his 14th victory against four setbacks for the season and chipped in four hits. He undoubtedly set an all-time mark when he was lifted for a pinch hitter when his team was ahead 22 to 0.

Rookie Steve Kraly, just up from Binghamton, pitched the last two innings and gave up the only Senator run.

Yogi Berra and Billy Martin drove in five runs apiece for the Yanks. Berra's three-run homer in the first got the Yankees off to a flying start and they scored almost automatically after that, hitting safely in every inning.

New York	403	230	550—22 28 1
Washington	000	000	010— 1 5 1

Ford, Kraly (8) and Berra, Triandos (9); Shea, Sima (1), Dixon (3), Lane (6) and Sacka.

Cleveland Wins, 7-4

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12 (AP)—Cleveland's Indians came from behind with four runs in the eighth inning tonight to defeat the Chicago White Sox 7-4 in a wild affair in which two players were ejected and two others nearly came to blows.

Cubs, Reds Split

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP)—Bob Rush fanned 10 and gave up only nine hits to salvage the second game of a doubleheader today as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Cincinnati Redlegs, 3-1, after the Redlegs beat the Cubs in the opener 10-6, on Andy Seminick's ninth-inning grand slam home run.

Veteran Kenny Raffensberger was the Cub victim. It marked the third time this season the lefthander had been defeated by the Cubs in four decisions. Seminick's homer, his 14th of the year and seventh with the bases loaded in his 11 year career, was off reliefer Johnny Klippstein.

Both come from fine petroleum families, bearing well-respected names. You could find them across the street from one another, and a tankful of either will make about the same size dent in your pocketbook.
BUT . . . if one of them is Esso Extra, the overall difference between it and the other is apt to be surprisingly great. The difference between what you and your engine get for what you pay in the course of a year can be a very big difference, indeed.
We don't mean, of course, that the difference in Esso Extra will knock your hat off in 100 yards, or that it will make a tired old engine kick its heels like a lamb in the spring. Nor do we mean the other gasoline isn't good. It is good.
But we do mean that the man who always stops to see his Esso Dealer will get in Esso Extra a gasoline that meets the highest all-round, year-round standard of performance quality to be found.
If you'd like to have some proof, here it is:
We take eight qualities which automotive engineers have agreed are important in a gasoline, and which can be scientifically measured.
1. Sheer Power; 2. High Anti-Knock; 3. Long Mileage; 4. Clean Engine Operation; 5. Quick Starting; 6. Fast Warm-up; 7. Hot Weather Anti-Vapor-Lock; 8. Cool Weather Anti-Stalling.
Then we measure Esso Extra against competing brands for these performance qualities. And time after time in these tests Esso Extra meets the highest standard of overall year-round performance quality.
So it's not surprising . . . is it? . . . that Esso Extra is by far the most popular of all premium fuels in the area served by Esso Dealers!
And it wouldn't be surprising . . . would it? . . . if you and your own faithful engine would have Happier Motoring if your tank always contained Esso Extra!
Esso Extra meets today's highest standard of year-round gasoline performance!

Helicopter, Canadian-Owned Filly, Wins Trotting Derby

Daughter Of Hoot Mon Takes Hambletonian, Earns $63,126 Purse

GOSHEN N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—Helicopter, a fleet Canadian-owned filly won the richest of all Hambletonian stakes today when she captured the last two heats of the $117,117.98 trotting derby at Good Time Park before a screaming crowd of some 20,000 persons.

It was the first time a foreign-owned horse had won the world famous race for 3-year-old trotters since it was inaugurated in 1926. The proud owners are two Brampton, Ont., brothers, J. Elgin and C. E. Armstrong, road builders.

The sleek brown daughter of Hoot Mon, himself winner of this colorful sulky classic in 1947, was driven by 29-year-old Harry Harvey, who became the youngest driver ever to capture the race.

Sired By Winner

It also marked the first time that a Hambletonian winner had sired another winner of the great Goshen race, made famous by 79-year-old Bill Cane, Mr. Trotting.

Lady luck was riding with Harvey, however, for Helicopter finished 17th in the first heat won by Morse Hanover, from the Milky Way Stable of Willet C. Evans, Rockville Centre, N. Y.

Furthermore, Kimberly Kid, from the Allwood Stable, Far Hills, N. J., and driven by 71-year-old Tom Berry, was leading by about two lengths in the third and final heat when he broke stride and was just nipped by the fast closing Helicopter.

Had Kimberly Kid won, a fourth heat would have been required, with Morse Hanover, Helicopter and Kimberly Kid fighting it out for the big prize. Berry had won the 1930 Hambletonian with Hanover's Bertha and in 1946 with Chestertown.

Win Worth $63,126

The victory was worth $63,126.59 to the owners of Helicopter, who showed her heels to 22 other sophomore trotters—largest field ever to start in the Hambletonian.

Newport Star, the pre-race favorite from the Newport stock farm of Octave Blake, South Plainfield, N. J., was the big disappointment, finishing third in the first heat as Morse Hanover, driven by Jimmy Wingfield, defeated Singing Sword, owned by Margaret N. Critchfield, Wooster, Ohio, by half a length. Third, another half length back, was Newport Star, the 6-5 favorite, with his two stablemates, Newport Mascot and Newport Champ.

Time for the first heat, fastest of the three, was 2:01 3-5, over a fast track baked by a hot sun. This compared with the Hambletonian record of 2:00 flat made by Hoot Mon.

Helicopter stepped the second dash in 2:02 4-5, and was clocked in 2:02 3-5 for the third and deciding heat.

Bowers Wins 11th As Central Lunch Beats Maids, 10-1

Rosalie Bowers posted her 11th win of the season yesterday when she pitched Central Quick Lunch to a 10-1 victory over the East Side Maids at East Side Field.

The triumph enabled Central, first half champs, to increase its lead to two full games over East Side in the second half race of the Queens Softball League.

During a five-run explosion in the third inning, Bowers singled with the bases loaded for two runs, Clara Kreigline tripled in two more and Jo Anne Dickle singled home the fifth marker.

Brooklyn Hands New York Fifth Straight Defeat

Snider Hits Four-Run Homer In 6-5 Contest

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—Leo Durocher signed a new two-year contract to manage the New York Giants today and then watched his charges blow a five-run lead to lose their fifth straight, 6-5, to Brooklyn. Duke Snider's grand slam home run tied the score in the seventh and Bobby Morgan's single drove in the winning run in the eighth.

The defeat, the Giants' 11th in their last 12 starts, dropped them deeper into fifth place, 18½ games behind the leading Dodgers and one game below the .500 mark.

Ruben Gomez, facing Brooklyn as a starter for the first time, blew up in the seventh after shutting out the Dodgers for six innings on three singles. He walked three in a row following a single and then threw the ball that Snider hit for his 24th home run into the upper deck in right field. Hoyt Wilhelm came to the rescue, too late to save it but in time to take his sixth loss.

Carl Furillo, whose single opened the seventh, topped a ball down the third base line and beat it out for a single to lead off the eighth. George Shuba sacrificed and Wilhelm walked Clem Labine and Junior Gilliam, loading the bases. Morgan's single to short right drove in Furillo with the winning run.

The Giants seemed determined to show their boss that they also wanted to give him a vote of confidence as they ripped into Johnny Podres for five quick runs in the first two innings. They couldn't find the combination after that against Bob Milliken, Jim Hughes and Clem Labine, who was the winner.

To Retire Wilwyn

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP) — Wilwyn, winner of the $50,000 International race at Laurel Park, Md. last October, is probably in his last season of racing and will not visit the United States this fall.

Owner Robert Boucher said the brown speedster, winner of 20 out of 30 races, will be retired to stud after the 1953 flat season.

Gil Turner KOs Fuentes In 5th

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—(INS)—Gil Turner, 151¾, second ranking welterweight contender from Philadelphia, knocked out Ramon Fuentes, 151, of Los Angeles tonight in 2:49 of the fifth round of a scheduled ten round bout at Madison Square Garden.

The heavily-favored Turner, seeking a return go with champion Kid Gavilan, sent Fuentes to the canvas with a right to the jaw and Referee Ruby Goldstein counted the Californian out.

When Mount Katmai erupted in 1912, the noise was heard 750 miles away from the Alaskan volcano.

Helicopter, Canadian-Owned Filly, Wins Trotting Derby

Daughter Of Hoot Mon Takes Hambletonian, Earns $63,126 Purse

GOSHEN N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—Helicopter, a fleet Canadian-owned filly won the richest of all Hambletonian stakes today when she captured the last two heats of the $117,117.98 trotting derby at Good Time Park before a screaming crowd of some 20,000 persons.

It was the first time a foreign-owned horse had won the world famous race for 3-year-old trotters since it was inaugurated in 1926. The proud owners are two Brampton, Ont., brothers, J. Elgin and C. E. Armstrong, road builders.

The sleek brown daughter of Hoot Mon, himself winner of this colorful sulky classic in 1947, was driven by 29-year-old Harry Harvey, who became the youngest driver ever to capture the race.

Sired By Winner

It also marked the first time that a Hambletonian winner had sired another winner of the great Goshen race, made famous by 79-year-old Bill Cane, Mr. Trotting.

Lady luck was riding with Harvey, however, for Helicopter finished 17th in the first heat won by Morse Hanover, from the Milky Way Stable of Willet C. Evans, Rockville Centre, N. Y.

Furthermore, Kimberly Kid, from the Allwood Stable, Far Hills, N. J., and driven by 71-year-old Tom Berry, was leading by about two lengths in the third and final heat when he broke stride and was just nipped by the fast closing Helicopter.

Had Kimberly Kid won, a fourth heat would have been required, with Morse Hanover, Helicopter and Kimberly Kid fighting it out for the big prize. Berry had won the 1930 Hambletonian with Hanover's Bertha and in 1946 with Chestertown.

Win Worth $63,126

The victory was worth $63,126.59 to the owners of Helicopter, who showed her heels to 22 other sophomore trotters—largest field ever to start in the Hambletonian.

Newport Star, the pre-race favorite from the Newport stock farm of Octave Blake, South Plainfield, N. J., was the big disappointment, finishing third in the first heat as Morse Hanover, driven by Jimmy Wingfield, defeated Singing Sword, owned by Margaret N. Critchfield, Wooster, Ohio, by half a length. Third, another half length back, was Newport Star, the 6-5 favorite, with his two stablemates, Newport Mascot and Newport Champ.

Time for the first heat, fastest of the three, was 2:01 3-5, over a fast track baked by a hot sun. This compared with the Hambletonian record of 2:00 flat made by Hoot Mon.

Helicopter stepped the second dash in 2:02 4-5, and was clocked in 2:02 3-5 for the third and deciding heat.

To Retire Wilwyn

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP) — Wilwyn, winner of the $50,000 International race at Laurel Park, Md. last October, is probably in his last season of racing and will not visit the United States this fall.

Owner Robert Boucher said the brown speedster, winner of 20 out of 30 races, will be retired to stud after the 1953 flat season.

Gil Turner KOs Fuentes In 5th

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—(INS)—Gil Turner, 151¾, second ranking welterweight contender from Philadelphia, knocked out Ramon Fuentes, 151, of Los Angeles tonight in 2:49 of the fifth round of a scheduled ten round bout at Madison Square Garden.

The heavily-favored Turner, seeking a return go with champion Kid Gavilan, sent Fuentes to the canvas with a right to the jaw and Referee Ruby Goldstein counted the Californian out.

When Mount Katmai erupted in 1912, the noise was heard 750 miles away from the Alaskan volcano.

Williams To Seek Active Navy Duty

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 12 (AP) — Bob Williams, former Notre Dame All-America quarterback, today sought active Navy duty which would deprive the Baltimore Colts of his services.

Williams went to the Anacostia Naval Station in Washington to volunteer. He already has a notice from his draft board to report for a physical examination Aug. 27.

Williams had been a member of the Naval Reserve for the two years he played with the Chicago Bears after graduation from Notre Dame.

He was traded by the Bears this season for one of Baltimore's picks next year in the National Football League draft. But the deal doesn't count unless Williams is on deck for the first game of the season here Sept. 27 with the Bears.

Tigers Get Pitcher

DETROIT, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers today signed Ray Scarborough, veteran American League pitcher who was given an unconditional release by the New York Yankees.

Scarborough, 35-year-old right-hander, will report here Friday in time for the opening of the Tigers' series with the Chicago White Sox.

Browns Can't Prevent Kissell From Playing

TORONTO, Aug. 12 (AP) — Chief Justice J. C. McRuer today turned down a motion by the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League to prohibit tackle John Kissell from playing with the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four.

The justice ruled that the Browns could not obtain an injunction that would have prevented Kissell from earning his living.

The case sets a precedent for Canadian football and in effect means that NFL contracts have no effect in Canada. Kissell was signed by Ottawa for a reported $10,000. The Browns claimed he had signed a previous contract with them for the 1953 season.

Plaque Will Be Unveiled At Gehrig's Birthplace

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP) — A plaque identifying Lou Gehrig's birthplace will be unveiled at 300 East 94th St. in Manhattan on Friday, Aug. 21. The site of the former Gehrig home now is occupied by a laundry.

Mrs. Christine Gehrig, mother of the late New York Yankee hitter, will attend. The ceremony is part of New York's 300th birthday celebration. It also precedes by a day the Yankees' old-timers reunion and baseball game which this year is dedicated to Gehrig's memory.

Williams To Seek Active Navy Duty

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 12 (AP) — Bob Williams, former Notre Dame All-America quarterback, today sought active Navy duty which would deprive the Baltimore Colts of his services.

Williams went to the Anacostia Naval Station in Washington to volunteer. He already has a notice from his draft board to report for a physical examination Aug. 27.

Williams had been a member of the Naval Reserve for the two years he played with the Chicago Bears after graduation from Notre Dame.

He was traded by the Bears this season for one of Baltimore's picks next year in the National Football League draft. But the deal doesn't count unless Williams is on deck for the first game of the season here Sept. 27 with the Bears.

Tigers Get Pitcher

DETROIT, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers today signed Ray Scarborough, veteran American League pitcher who was given an unconditional release by the New York Yankees.

Scarborough, 35-year-old right-hander, will report here Friday in time for the opening of the Tigers' series with the Chicago White Sox.

Browns Can't Prevent Kissell From Playing

TORONTO, Aug. 12 (AP) — Chief Justice J. C. McRuer today turned down a motion by the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League to prohibit tackle John Kissell from playing with the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four.

The justice ruled that the Browns could not obtain an injunction that would have prevented Kissell from earning his living.

The case sets a precedent for Canadian football and in effect means that NFL contracts have no effect in Canada. Kissell was signed by Ottawa for a reported $10,000. The Browns claimed he had signed a previous contract with them for the 1953 season.

Plaque Will Be Unveiled At Gehrig's Birthplace

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP) — A plaque identifying Lou Gehrig's birthplace will be unveiled at 300 East 94th St. in Manhattan on Friday, Aug. 21. The site of the former Gehrig home now is occupied by a laundry.

Mrs. Christine Gehrig, mother of the late New York Yankee hitter, will attend. The ceremony is part of New York's 300th birthday celebration. It also precedes by a day the Yankees' old-timers reunion and baseball game which this year is dedicated to Gehrig's memory.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

MRS. RAYMOND L. DONAHUE

Mrs. Pearl Rose Donahue, 57, wife of Raymond L. Donahue, died yesterday morning at her home on Bedford Road following a lengthy illness.

A native of Bedford County, Pa., she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ruby. Mrs. Donahue had resided 18 years on Bedford Road and was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church and the Christian Mothers of that parish.

Surviving, besides her husband, are six sons, Bernard, Joseph, Louis, Robert, William and Ralph E. Donahue; three daughters, Mrs. Ralph Martin and Mrs. Bernard Borgman, all of this city, and Miss Virginia Donahue, at home; a brother, Irvin Ruby, Bean's Cove, Pa.; three sisters, Mrs. Edward Mullen, Manns Choice, Pa.; Mrs. Lina Dicken, Flintstone, and Mrs. Richard Sourbrine, Corriganville, and six grandchildren.

The body will remain at the Hafer Funeral Home. A requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the Catholic Church of the Seven Dolors, Bean's Cove. Rev. John C. Lipinski, OFM, Cap., of SS. Peter and Paul Church, will officiate and interment will be in the church cemetery.

The Christian Mothers will recite the rosary today at 8 p. m. at the funeral home.

ROBERT EARL HASKELL

GRAFTON—Robert Earl Haskell, 57, of 613 Walnut Avenue, died Monday while at work at the Monongahela Power Company where he was a commercial supervisor.

Haskell had been employed by the power company for 24 years.

Haskell was born August 12, 1895, at Thomas, a son of the late Hiram S. and Margaret Russell Haskell. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and of the Grafton Elks.

Survivors include his widow, the former Nellie Kimmell; two daughters, Mrs. Pearl Lewis, Fairmont, and Mrs. John T. Schwartz, Corpus Christi, Texas; a sister, Mrs. O. J. Doughman, Westernport, Md., and a brother, Russell Haskell, Fairmont.

The body is at the R. C. Jones Funeral Home, Grafton, where it will remain until today when it will be taken to First Presbyterian Church at 2 p. m. for services. Dr. David K. Allen will officiate with interment in the Masonic Cemetery at Shinnston.

RAYMOND B. WELLS

Raymond B. Wells, 63, of 137 North Mechanic Street, died yesterday in Memorial Hospital where he was admitted August 4.

He was a son of the late Harem and Anna (Wise) Wells. He was a former employe of the Star Dye Works. He served from April 21, 1919 to January 31, 1922 with the Marine Corps, being discharged a sergeant.

The body is at the George Funeral Home.

A service will be conducted tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. in the funeral home with Rev. Owen Arrington, associate pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church, officiating.

Interment will be in Allegany County Cemetery.

THOMAS S. RITCHIE

HUNTINGTON, W. Va.—Services for Thomas S. Ritchie, 75, of 524 Thirtieth Street, who died Saturday following a short illness, were conducted Tuesday at the Beard-Fisher Funeral Home. Interment was in Woodmere Cemetery.

Ritchie was a native of Lonaconing, Md. He was a retired employee of the Appalachian Electric Ohio Power Company, a member of the Highlawn Methodist Church of Huntington, the Grand Aeries of the Order of Eagles and a member of the AF and AM of Huntington.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Florence Hatfield, Pensacola, Fla.; Mrs. Martha Hagley and Mrs. Margaret McCulgan, both of Huntington; and Ella May Ritchie, at home; a son, D. Wallace Ritchie, Huntington; three brothers, John L. and Robert R., both of Lonaconing, Md., and David Ritchie, McKeesport, Pa.; four sisters, Mrs. Isabelle Williams, Cumberland, Md.; Mrs. Alex Gowans and Mrs. Alban Bishop, both of Baltimore, Md.; two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

MRS. ISABEL CARNELIA BERG

BURLINGTON — Mrs. Isabel Carnelia Berg, 40, of Burlington, died Tuesday night at Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, where she had been a patient for four weeks. She had been in ill health for several years.

She was a daughter of Mrs. Ina Victoria (Rotruck) Hughes and the late Charles Hartman. She was a member of the WSCS of Markwood Methodist Church and a member of Knobley Church of the Brethren.

Survivors include her husband, Robert Edward Berg, Burlington; her mother, Mrs. Hughes; her stepfather, Charles R. Hughes Sr.; a son, Moncelle Larraine Berg, Burlington; two sisters, Mrs. Geraldine Sullivan, Antioch, and Mrs. Helen Baker, Keyser; a brother, Theodore Hartman, Miami, Fla.; two half-brothers, Charles R. Hughes Jr., with the Navy in Africa, and Eugene Hughes, Antioch, and a half-sister, Alreda Whittaker, Philadelphia.

Services will be conducted tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. (DST) at the Knobley Church of the Brethren with Rev. Norman L. Harsh, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. Lowell R. Rogers, Burlington. Interment will be in Knobley Cemetery.

LAWRENCE W. KASECAMP

FROSTBURG — A funeral service for Lawrence W. Kasecamp, 41, of 131 Centre Street, who died Tuesday, will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. in the Congregational Church.

Rev. J. F. Zimmerman, will officiate and interment will be in Frostburg Memorial Park. The body is at the residence.

Mt. Carmel Lodge Will Conduct Outing

WESTERNPORT — Mt. Carmel Encampment 7, of the IOOF Lodge will hold a family night outing at Reese's Park on New Creek Drive Friday.

Cars will leave the Odd Fellow's Hall at 5:45 p. m. Refreshments will be furnished by the encampment. Games will be provided for the children and a program will be presented.

A. T. White Encampment 47 of Mt. Lake Park, and Encampment 23 of Cumberland, have been invited to attend.

Bicycle Hits Child

Charles Snyder, 3, of 12 Central Avenue, Ridgeley, who was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital Monday night after being struck by a bicycle, has returned to his home. Attaches said he sustained lacerations of the head and bruises.

Legion To Picnic

BARTON—The American Legion Post 189 of Barton will hold its annual picnic Sunday at Big Run. All members are invited to attend. Tickets for non-members may be purchased at the Legion Home.

The short hair cut can be most versatile, practical and becoming when expertly cut!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Short, shorter and shortest runs the story of current hair styles. And the flattery of your coiffure depends on the expertness of its cut. It's the cutting that gives your hair both line and contour and that largely determines how manageable it will be.

Gamin is the word that best describes the character of current cuts. They are sleeker than last year's poodle and more versatile. They may be parted, brushed back in a smooth line or forward in a fringed halo to give you one look by day and another by night.

To set such a cut, use the "up" technique, pulling each strand straight up from your scalp and then winding it toward your face and in the back toward your ears. Set the top front hair in two rows of three standup curls. To insure large curls, roll each strand loosely around two fingers instead of one. The second row of curls should be over the intervals between the curls in the front row.

For More Luster

The next step is to make large pin curls irregulary all over your head. The curls should be as large as possible for the length of the hair.

Do not set your hair in a dripping wet condition. You will achieve more luster for your coiffure by dampening each strand as you roll it.

When your set has dried, apply a dressing of your favorite type for grooming purposes. To put your hair into place, always use a brush rather than a comb as the latter has a tendency to make hair appear coarser. Purse-sized brushes are available so that you can give your hair the benefit of this type of grooming when you are away from home.

Brush Dressing

To achieve the height-over-head, "stand-up" effect that is much in current favor, always brush the hair up and away from the scalp vigorously. Then brush the curls into a wide standing curve. This manner of brushing supports the hair to give the desired effect. When you want a cap or halo bang effect, skip the brushing up and away from the scalp, simply brushing the bangs into place.

To give your personality a new accent, I know of nothing quicker or easier than working out a new and becoming coiffure!

DEATHS and FUNERALS

MRS. RAYMOND L. DONAHUE

Mrs. Pearl Rose Donahue, 57, wife of Raymond L. Donahue, died yesterday morning at her home on Bedford Road following a lengthy illness.

A native of Bedford County, Pa., she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ruby. Mrs. Donahue had resided 18 years on Bedford Road and was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church and the Christian Mothers of that parish.

Surviving, besides her husband, are six sons, Bernard, Joseph, Louis, Robert, William and Ralph E. Donahue; three daughters, Mrs. Ralph Martin and Mrs. Bernard Borgman, all of this city, and Miss Virginia Donahue, at home; a brother, Irvin Ruby, Bean's Cove, Pa.; three sisters, Mrs. Edward Mullen, Manns Choice, Pa.; Mrs. Lina Dicken, Flintstone, and Mrs. Richard Sourbrine, Corriganville, and six grandchildren.

The body will remain at the Hafer Funeral Home. A requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the Catholic Church of the Seven Dolors, Bean's Cove. Rev. John C. Lipinski, OFM, Cap., of SS. Peter and Paul Church, will officiate and interment will be in the church cemetery.

The Christian Mothers will recite the rosary today at 8 p. m. at the funeral home.

ROBERT EARL HASKELL

GRAFTON—Robert Earl Haskell, 57, of 613 Walnut Avenue, died Monday while at work at the Monongahela Power Company where he was a commercial supervisor.

Haskell had been employed by the power company for 24 years.

Haskell was born August 12, 1895, at Thomas, a son of the late Hiram S. and Margaret Russell Haskell. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and of the Grafton Elks.

Survivors include his widow, the former Nellie Kimmell; two daughters, Mrs. Pearl Lewis, Fairmont, and Mrs. John T. Schwartz, Corpus Christi, Texas; a sister, Mrs. O. J. Doughman, Westernport, Md., and a brother, Russell Haskell, Fairmont.

The body is at the R. C. Jones Funeral Home, Grafton, where it will remain until today when it will be taken to First Presbyterian Church at 2 p. m. for services. Dr. David K. Allen will officiate with interment in the Masonic Cemetery at Shinnston.

RAYMOND B. WELLS

Raymond B. Wells, 63, of 137 North Mechanic Street, died yesterday in Memorial Hospital where he was admitted August 4.

He was a son of the late Harem and Anna (Wise) Wells. He was a former employe of the Star Dye Works. He served from April 21, 1919 to January 31, 1922 with the Marine Corps, being discharged a sergeant.

The body is at the George Funeral Home.

A service will be conducted tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. in the funeral home with Rev. Owen Arrington, associate pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church, officiating.

Interment will be in Allegany County Cemetery.

THOMAS S. RITCHIE

HUNTINGTON, W. Va.—Services for Thomas S. Ritchie, 75, of 524 Thirtieth Street, who died Saturday following a short illness, were conducted Tuesday at the Beard-Fisher Funeral Home. Interment was in Woodmere Cemetery.

Ritchie was a native of Lonaconing, Md. He was a retired employee of the Appalachian Electric Ohio Power Company, a member of the Highlawn Methodist Church of Huntington, the Grand Aeries of the Order of Eagles and a member of the AF and AM of Huntington.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Florence Hatfield, Pensacola, Fla.; Mrs. Martha Hagley and Mrs. Margaret McCulgan, both of Huntington; and Ella May Ritchie, at home; a son, D. Wallace Ritchie, Huntington; three brothers, John L. and Robert R., both of Lonaconing, Md., and David Ritchie, McKeesport, Pa.; four sisters, Mrs. Isabelle Williams, Cumberland, Md.; Mrs. Alex Gowans and Mrs. Alban Bishop, both of Baltimore, Md.; two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

MRS. ISABEL CARNELIA BERG

BURLINGTON — Mrs. Isabel Carnelia Berg, 40, of Burlington, died Tuesday night at Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, where she had been a patient for four weeks. She had been in ill health for several years.

She was a daughter of Mrs. Ina Victoria (Rotruck) Hughes and the late Charles Hartman. She was a member of the WSCS of Markwood Methodist Church and a member of Knobley Church of the Brethren.

Survivors include her husband, Robert Edward Berg, Burlington; her mother, Mrs. Hughes; her stepfather, Charles R. Hughes Sr.; a son, Moncelle Larraine Berg, Burlington; two sisters, Mrs. Geraldine Sullivan, Antioch, and Mrs. Helen Baker, Keyser; a brother, Theodore Hartman, Miami, Fla.; two half-brothers, Charles R. Hughes Jr., with the Navy in Africa, and Eugene Hughes, Antioch, and a half-sister, Alreda Whittaker, Philadelphia.

Services will be conducted tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. (DST) at the Knobley Church of the Brethren with Rev. Norman L. Harsh, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. Lowell R. Rogers, Burlington. Interment will be in Knobley Cemetery.

LAWRENCE W. KASECAMP

FROSTBURG — A funeral service for Lawrence W. Kasecamp, 41, of 131 Centre Street, who died Tuesday, will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. in the Congregational Church.

Rev. J. F. Zimmerman, will officiate and interment will be in Frostburg Memorial Park. The body is at the residence.

Keyser Plans Conference On Swimming Pool

$65,000 Available For Construction

KEYSER — Robert T. Regester, Baltimore engineer, will meet Friday at 1 p. m., with Mayor John C. Freeland and members of council in a special session in the council chamber, when the Recreation Board and members of the Citizens Committee will be present to discuss plans for the proposed municipal swimming pool in Keyser.

The city received a check yesterday from the State treasurer's office, in payment for the $45,000 swimming pool bonds which were recently purchased by the West Virginia Board of Public Works.

This sum, together with approximately $20,000, that has been held for several years by the state from a former bond issue voted on by Keyser citizens for a swimming pool, will be combined in the plan for the pool construction.

The local groups and the Baltimore engineer will discuss steps to be taken now preparatory to starting construction work.

Miss Root Is Bride Of Lt. McClean

PARSONS — In a double ring ceremony solemnized in the U. S. Naval Academy chapel in Annapolis, Md., June 20, Miss Freda Alice Root, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Root of Douglas became the bride of Lieut. John Howard McClean, U.S.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McClean of Brooklyn N. Y.

Rev. Father Vincent J. Lonergan, chaplain at the Academy, read the service before an altar decorated with white gladioli, white carnations and lighted with tall white tapers in branched candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white ballerina length gown of nylon tulle over taffeta. The strapless fitted bodice was of sweetheart lace, and fitted to a full skirt of nylon tulle with a wide sweetheart lace inset and finished with a wide nylon pleated hem. She wore a sweetheart lace jacket buttoned down the front with self covered satin buttons and long sleeves which ended in lily points over the hands. Her finger tipped veil of nylon tulle was fastened to a juliet cap of seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade corsage of white carnations centered with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls and pearl earrings.

Miss Marion Jones, secretary to Congressman William H. Harrison of Wyoming, was maid of honor, and Miss Patricia Murray of Rawlins, Wyoming, was bridesmaid.

Donald McClean of Brooklyn, N. Y. served his brother as best man. Ushers were Ensigns Arthur Cornell, Charles Kruse, Charles Mumford, Peter Walker, and Gene Ward, and Lieut. Theodore Black of the U. S. Marine Corps.

At the reception held in the Naval Academy Alumni House, the bride and bridegroom cut the wedding cake in the traditional military fashion, using the bridegroom's sword.

Mrs. McClean, a graduate of Thomas High School in 1947 has been employed for several years in Washington, in secretarial work.

Lieut. McClean, a graduate of Brooklyn Technical High School, served for three years with the U. S. Marine Corps and was graduated in June from the U. S. Naval Academy, commissioned and assigned to the U. S. Air Force at Malden, Mo.

The couple left for a two week honeymoon in Canada.

Reds Release Private Sites

The official list of American war prisoners freed yesterday in Korea by Communists contained the name of a former Pendleton County, W. Va., soldier.

Released was Cpl. Paul T. Sites, son of James M. and Mary Katherine Sites, formerly of Kline, who have moved to Gainesboro, Va.

Cpl. Sites was reportedly captured in June, 1951 while serving with the Second Infantry Division. Six months later the Reds notified United Nations forces he was being held in Chiang-Song Prison Camp.

After enlisting July 27 1949 Cpl. Sites received basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. and advanced instructions at Fort Bragg, N. C. before going overseas with the 23rd Infantry Regiment.

Cpl. Sites is the fifth area serviceman to be released since the signing of a truce July 27. A brother, Cpl. James Samuel Sites, who also enlisted in July, 1949 is attached to a communications unit with the 24th Infantry Division in Korea.

Keyser Plans Conference On Swimming Pool

$65,000 Available For Construction

KEYSER — Robert T. Regester, Baltimore engineer, will meet Friday at 1 p. m., with Mayor John C. Freeland and members of council in a special session in the council chamber, when the Recreation Board and members of the Citizens Committee will be present to discuss plans for the proposed municipal swimming pool in Keyser.

The city received a check yesterday from the State treasurer's office, in payment for the $45,000 swimming pool bonds which were recently purchased by the West Virginia Board of Public Works.

This sum, together with approximately $20,000, that has been held for several years by the state from a former bond issue voted on by Keyser citizens for a swimming pool, will be combined in the plan for the pool construction.

The local groups and the Baltimore engineer will discuss steps to be taken now preparatory to starting construction work.

Mineral County PMA Elections Are Planned

Community Leaders Will Be Selected

KEYSER—The annual community election of the Mineral County Production and Marketing Administration will be held on August 20, in the seven agricultural committees of the county, according to John S. Arnold, Jr., chairman.

The purpose of the elections is to choose community committeemen to assist the county committee in administering PMA programs. Voters will also select delegates to meet in a county convention August 21, to elect a county committee.

The time and place of the elections follows:

Burlington community, 7:30 p. m. EST, Burlington School house; Elk Garden community, 7:30 p. m. EST, Sulphur City Church; Fort Ashby community, 8 p. m. DST, old school house; Headsville community, 7:30 p. m. EST, Hohn Ed Staggs' store.

Keyser community, 8 p. m. DST, Fountain School house; New Creek community, 8 p. m. DST, Laurin Swisher's store; Short Gap community, 8 p. m. DST, Floyd Umstot's store.

The present chairman of community committee in each community will conduct the election. Farmers will be notified by letter of the place where they are to vote.

Grantsville Briefs And Personals

The annual homecoming of the Maple Grove Church of the Brethren will be held Sunday. Brother George Diling of near Johnstown, Pa., will be the guest speaker. Lunch will be served at noon.

The Eppley sisters of Manchester, Pa., will be at the Maple Grove Church on Saturday at 7:30 p. m. to hold a gospel and song service.

Miss Mary Stanton of Bittinger has returned home from Meyersdale (Pa.) Community Hospital after having been a patient there nine days. She is now recuperating at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Stanton.

The annual Bittinger picnic will be held Saturday in Brenneman's Grove.

Miss Root Is Bride Of Lt. McClean

PARSONS — In a double ring ceremony solemnized in the U. S. Naval Academy chapel in Annapolis, Md., June 20, Miss Freda Alice Root, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Root of Douglas became the bride of Lieut. John Howard McClean, U.S.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McClean of Brooklyn N. Y.

Rev. Father Vincent J. Lonergan, chaplain at the Academy, read the service before an altar decorated with white gladioli, white carnations and lighted with tall white tapers in branched candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white ballerina length gown of nylon tulle over taffeta. The strapless fitted bodice was of sweetheart lace, and fitted to a full skirt of nylon tulle with a wide sweetheart lace inset and finished with a wide nylon pleated hem. She wore a sweetheart lace jacket buttoned down the front with self covered satin buttons and long sleeves which ended in lily points over the hands. Her finger tipped veil of nylon tulle was fastened to a juliet cap of seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade corsage of white carnations centered with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls and pearl earrings.

Miss Marion Jones, secretary to Congressman William H. Harrison of Wyoming, was maid of honor, and Miss Patricia Murray of Rawlins, Wyoming, was bridesmaid.

Donald McClean of Brooklyn, N. Y. served his brother as best man. Ushers were Ensigns Arthur Cornell, Charles Kruse, Charles Mumford, Peter Walker, and Gene Ward, and Lieut. Theodore Black of the U. S. Marine Corps.

At the reception held in the Naval Academy Alumni House, the bride and bridegroom cut the wedding cake in the traditional military fashion, using the bridegroom's sword.

Mrs. McClean, a graduate of Thomas High School in 1947 has been employed for several years in Washington, in secretarial work.

Lieut. McClean, a graduate of Brooklyn Technical High School, served for three years with the U. S. Marine Corps and was graduated in June from the U. S. Naval Academy, commissioned and assigned to the U. S. Air Force at Malden, Mo.

Reds Release Private Sites

The official list of American war prisoners freed yesterday in Korea by Communists contained the name of a former Pendleton County, W. Va., soldier.

Released was Cpl. Paul T. Sites, son of James M. and Mary Katherine Sites, formerly of Kline, who have moved to Gainesboro, Va.

Cpl. Sites was reportedly captured in June, 1951 while serving with the Second Infantry Division. Six months later the Reds notified United Nations forces he was being held in Chiang-Song Prison Camp.

After enlisting July 27 1949 Cpl. Sites received basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. and advanced instructions at Fort Bragg, N. C. before going overseas with the 23rd Infantry Regiment.

Cpl. Sites is the fifth area serviceman to be released since the signing of a truce July 27. A brother, Cpl. James Samuel Sites, who also enlisted in July, 1949 is attached to a communications unit with the 24th Infantry Division in Korea.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 12 (INS)—Tony Curtis is a happy happy boy. He had his option picked up by Universal-International with a big increase in salary and that's news these days.

No longer will Tony have to worry about the financial end of his deal, so by way of celebrating he bought himself a new sports model car. He's been unhappy about his salary for a long time.

Judy Holliday, who's been lingering on and on at Malibu even though her picture, "A Name For Himself," has been finished for some weeks, may stay until late September.

That's when "A Nice Place To Visit," the Garson Kanin film starts, and, in addition to starring in that picture she'll also open at Las Vegas in an act with Peter Lawford.

She also is booked for a Broadway play which I would think should take her to New York before late September.

Joan Bennett's trip to Italy is by no means off but Joan won't leave until the financing for the picture is set.

Meanwhile, she goes to Allied Artists Monday to join Richard Conte and Wanda Hendrix in "The House By The Sea," in which she plays a lady photographer. It's Joan's first movie in two years. She's been on the road in "Bell, Book and Candle" and also doing summer stock in Dallas.

Oddly enough, the strangely titled "House By The Sea" starts shooting in the desert resort of Apple Valley—about as far from any sea as you can get.

A story that makes me very happy to print is the good news that my goddaughter, my namesake, and my niece, Louella Rehfield, is expecting a baby in February.

She is married to Jerry Rehfield of "Frosty Frolics" TV show, and head of an ice skating school for children. Louella, herself, is with Young and Rubicam.

I couldn't be more excited if this were to be my own grandchild. In fact, my brother and his wife, the Ed Ettingers, say I'm taking all the bows when it's really their grandchild.

Steve Cochran still hasn't forgotten Chata Wayne. He's been telephoning her from Rome. By the way, Chata has picked up her two checks from John Wayne amounting to $2,200, so I guess we don't have to worry about her starving to death.

Ann Sheridan is having her 16 poodles inoculated before they join her in Mexico City. I am convinced now that she won't be coming back.

Mrs. Sylvia Jolson, wife of Harry Jolson and sister-in-law of the late Al Jolson, is recoving from major surgery.

On Sunday Adela Rogers St. John will deliver a sermon, pinch-hitting for Rev. Ernest Holmes, of Science of the Mind Church. Last year Lt. Governor Goody Knight preached for the vacationing minister.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 12 (INS)—Tony Curtis is a happy happy boy. He had his option picked up by Universal-International with a big increase in salary and that's news these days.

No longer will Tony have to worry about the financial end of his deal, so by way of celebrating he bought himself a new sports model car. He's been unhappy about his salary for a long time.

After he finishes "Beachhead" he'll star in "Johnny Dark," a thriller about a rough, tough young racing driver determined to get to the top of the speed heap no matter how dangerously he drives.

Judy Holliday, who's been lingering on and on at Malibu even though her picture, "A Name For Himself," has been finished for some weeks, may stay until late September.

That's when "A Nice Place To Visit," the Garson Kanin film starts, and, in addition to starring in that picture she'll also open at Las Vegas in an act with Peter Lawford.

She also is booked for a Broadway play which I would think should take her to New York before late September.

Joan Bennett's trip to Italy is by no means off but Joan won't leave until the financing for the picture is set.

Meanwhile, she goes to Allied Artists Monday to join Richard Conte and Wanda Hendrix in "The House By The Sea," in which she plays a lady photographer. It's Joan's first movie in two years. She's been on the road in "Bell, Book and Candle" and also doing summer stock in Dallas.

Oddly enough, the strangely titled "House By The Sea" starts shooting in the desert resort of Apple Valley—about as far from any sea as you can get.

A story that makes me very happy to print is the good news that my goddaughter, my namesake, and my niece, Louella Rehfield, is expecting a baby in February.

She is married to Jerry Rehfield of "Frosty Frolics" TV show, and head of an ice skating school for children. Louella, herself, is with Young and Rubicam.

I couldn't be more excited if this were to be my own grandchild. In fact, my brother and his wife, the Ed Ettingers, say I'm taking all the bows when it's really their grandchild.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Joanne Gilbert, who gets better all the time, sang to Gale Storm and Charlie Farrell and their sponsors at the Mocambo. Danny Thomas was at another table, and the Mo was crowded to the doors.

Steve Cochran still hasn't forgotten Chata Wayne. He's been telephoning her from Rome. By the way, Chata has picked up her two checks from John Wayne amounting to $2,200, so I guess we don't have to worry about her starving to death.

Ann Sheridan is having her 16 poodles inoculated before they join her in Mexico City. I am convinced now that she won't be coming back.

Mrs. Sylvia Jolson, wife of Harry Jolson and sister-in-law of the late Al Jolson, is recoving from major surgery.

On Sunday Adela Rogers St. John will deliver a sermon, pinch-hitting for Rev. Ernest Holmes, of Science of the Mind Church. Last year Lt. Governor Goody Knight preached for the vacationing minister.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY
"The Authority on Authorities"

GRIP YOUR OPPORTUNITY

BRIDGE is much more than a mere matter of grasping the chances to score which are dealt to you in the cards. It also includes seizing the opportunities extended you by the mistakes of your opponents. Some of these come when one of your foes is trying to be extra smart, but succeeds only in outsmarting himself if he finds you ready to make use of the situation he creates.

South hasn't a chance in the world to make that contract if West makes his natural lead of the spade K. But that worthy decided to get "cute," since he was up against Phil Garland, one of the keenest players in and around Tacoma, Washington, and West decided to cross swords with him. It was to his regret that he made the fancy lead of the heart singleton and later followed it with another crucial error.

The heart K took the first trick after East put in the J. West outsmarted himself again when a low diamond was led, the Q winning. Now the club tops afforded discards of two spades and the club J was ruffed. The spade A was led to and the 3 ruffed, taking the last black card out of South's two holdings.

A low heart was then led. If West ruffed with the diamond A, the last little heart could be discarded from dummy. Seeing that, West discarded a spade, then was thrown in with a diamond to his A. With only black cards left, any return was certain to give South a discard of dummy's final heart while the trick was ruffed in the closed hand. That gave South the contract, which could not have been made against a spade lead, or if West had used his diamond A on the first trump lead. He could have avoided the throw-in then by merely returning his other diamond, and South later would have had to give East the setting trick in hearts.

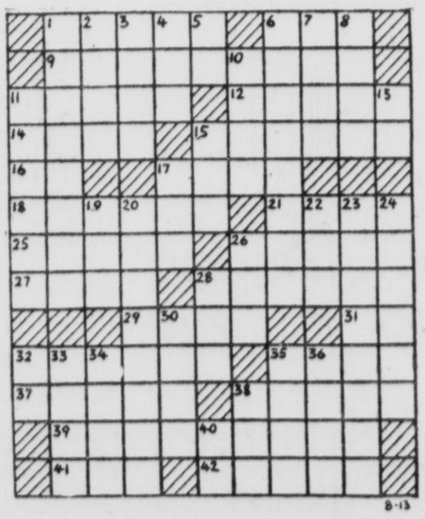
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

YR IPZ DKAP PEAQVP AKOP TZB-UBSQP, KRH KTBUBSN CBB TZBOTC —O Y U C B R.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: SWEET SPRING, FULL OF SWEET DAYS AND ROSES; A BOX WHERE SWEETS COMPACTED LIE—HERBERT.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY
"The Authority on Authorities"

GRIP YOUR OPPORTUNITY

BRIDGE is much more than a mere matter of grasping the chances to score which are dealt to you in the cards. It also includes seizing the opportunities extended you by the mistakes of your opponents. Some of these come when one of your foes is trying to be extra smart, but succeeds only in outsmarting himself if he finds you ready to make use of the situation he creates.

South hasn't a chance in the world to make that contract if West makes his natural lead of the spade K. But that worthy decided to get "cute," since he was up against Phil Garland, one of the keenest players in and around Tacoma, Washington, and West decided to cross swords with him. It was to his regret that he made the fancy lead of the heart singleton and later followed it with another crucial error.

The heart K took the first trick after East put in the J. West outsmarted himself again when a low diamond was led, the Q winning. Now the club tops afforded discards of two spades and the club J was ruffed. The spade A was led to and the 3 ruffed, taking the last black card out of South's two holdings.

A low heart was then led. If West ruffed with the diamond A, the last little heart could be discarded from dummy. Seeing that, West discarded a spade, then was thrown in with a diamond to his A. With only black cards left, any return was certain to give South a discard of dummy's final heart while the trick was ruffed in the closed hand. That gave South the contract, which could not have been made against a spade lead, or if West had used his diamond A on the first trump lead. He could have avoided the throw-in then by merely returning his other diamond, and South later would have had to give East the setting trick in hearts.

A Cryptogram Quotation

YR IPZ DKAP PEAQVP AKOP TZB-UBSQP, KRH KTBUBSN CBB TZBOTC —OYUCBR.

Distributed by King Features Syndicate

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

In Memoriam

In memory of my beloved husband, Ben A. Ritchey, who passed away August 13, 1952.

My dear beloved Benney, how much I have missed you and your sweet smile.
And what I have suffered since you were called away,
And the silent tears I have shed only God knows.
But Benney dear, God saw the road was getting rough and hard for you, so,
He gently closed your loving eyes
And whispered, "Peace be thine",
Your lonely nights are past,
Your ever loving patient soul has found
Sweet rest at last.
I love you still and always will,
And we shall meet again.
Your loving wife,
DAISY RITCHEY

In Memoriam

In memory of my beloved husband, Ben A. Ritchey, who passed away August 13, 1952.
My dear beloved Benney, how much I have missed you and your sweet smile.
And what I have suffered since you were called away,
And the silent tears I have shed only God knows.
But Benney dear, God saw the road was getting rough and hard for you, so,
He gently closed your loving eyes
And whispered, "Peace be thine",
Your lonely nights are past.
Your ever loving patient soul has found
Sweet rest at last.
I love you still and always will,
And we shall meet again.
Your loving wife.
DAISY RITCHEY

Late Rally Sends Prices Upward In Stock Market

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—A late rally brought the Stock Market up vigorously today in sharp contrast with recent apathy.

Railroads, oils and chemicals with a lot of help from individual issues formed a hard core of strength. Only a few divisions were laggard, mainly automobiles and aircrafts. Gains ran to between 1 and 2 points at the best with losses seldom larger than major fractions.

The volume of trading came to 990,000 shares as compared with 940,000 shares traded yesterday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 60 cents, the best so far this month, and closed at $109.50. Yesterday it lost a dime. Both the industrial and railroad components of the average gained 60 cents and the utilities were up to 40 cents.

The list was not very broad with 1,054 individual issues traded of which 483 advanced and 279 declined with 19 new highs and 10 new lows for the year registered during the day.

Merck & Co. topped the list of most active issues unchanged at 20⅛ with 12,800 shares traded. American Cyanamid was second up ⅝ at 50. Richfield Oil was third up 1 at 56½ on total sales of 11,100 including a block of 9,500 shares that went at 56.

Late Rally Sends Prices Upward In Stock Market

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—A late rally brought the Stock Market up vigorously today in sharp contrast with recent apathy.

Railroads, oils and chemicals with a lot of help from individual issues formed a hard core of strength. Only a few divisions were laggard, mainly automobiles and aircrafts. Gains ran to between 1 and 2 points at the best with losses seldom larger than major fractions.

The volume of trading came to 990,000 shares as compared with 940,000 shares traded yesterday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 60 cents, the best so far this month, and closed at $109.50. Yesterday it lost a dime. Both the industrial and railroad components of the average gained 60 cents and the utilities were up to 40 cents.

The list was not very broad with 1,054 individual issues traded of which 483 advanced and 279 declined with 19 new highs and 10 new lows for the year registered during the day.

Merck & Co. topped the list of most active issues unchanged at 20⅛ with 12,800 shares traded. American Cyanamid was second up ⅝ at 50. Richfield Oil was third up 1 at 56½ on total sales of 11,100 including a block of 9,500 shares that went at 56.

Meeting Post

Council Faces Eighteen Cents Increase In 1953-54 Tax Rate

Budget Paring Underway By City Officials

Second Levy Study Meeting Set Monday

The Mayor and Council took one look yesterday at budget requests which would boost the tax rate by 18 cents and spent the next three hours on plans for whittling down the total.

The meeting, the first in a series of budget talks which will end with the setting of the 1953-54 tax levy on or before August 24, was held in City Hall with all members of the Mayor and Council, City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson, City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum in attendance.

Decisions were made at the preliminary meeting for reducing a number of budget requests. City officials will study figures compiled by Gibson and resume the budget paring discussions Monday at 1:30 p.m.

Gibson opened the meeting with a report of 1952-53 expenditures and of requests made by most city departments for the fiscal year which began on July 1.

The totals, Gibson said, show that a great deal more money is involved in the budgets which have been requested.

Object To Increase

To grant the requests, he added, would mean a city tax increase of 18 cents.

Finance Commissioner William V. Keegan reported flatly he is not in favor of raising taxes beyond the amount necessary to pay for the fire truck which has been ordered for South Cumberland. The pumper, which will cost $15,354.18 was ordered last year with the understanding that funds would be provided in the 1953-54 budget.

Keegan said he thought all commissioners should cut budget figures to keep the tax rate down.

Gibson explained there will be increases in all departments to meet the full cost of a 10 per cent increase granted to city employes last year, but paid for only 10 months of the year.

Is Up To Council

Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property, pointed out that the costs of payments to the state pension system will rise $13,000 and added that all must share in the decisions which result in the new tax rate.

Gibson, who in previous years has had to force department budgets down to keep the total below the legal levy limits, told the elected officials:

"It is up to you. You will set the tax rate."

He was referring to the fact that the General Assembly boosted from 95 cents to $1.25 the ceiling under which the city may levy for operating expenses. Several items, such as the fire truck, had to be omitted last year when the full 95 cents was used.

Gibson suggested the budget job could be attacked in one of two ways — to adopt at least a tentative idea of what the tax rate should be, and work down to that point, or to go through the requests, item by item, and decide after further study.

He added that all budget requests appeared justifiable but the council must decide on how high to set the rate.

Study Budget Items

Following the preliminary discussions, city officials began a study of specific items.

The first request was for $3,000 for accident awards. This is the same as provided in last year's budget, and is about as low as the city can go, Gibson said. He added that the figure is about $500 to $1,000 less than was provided in budgets a decade ago. A total of $1,944 was spent last year, but additional money must be on hand to meet reasonable contingencies.

Requested for the Cumberland Municipal Airport was $32,825. This includes about $10,700 for the repair of 14 hangers which officials said are about ready to fall down, and $2,400 for a building to house the new airport truck. Plans were made to pare several thousand dollars from this budget.

Pension Costs Up

The City Employes Pension fund, paid into the state retirement system, will be $65,500 this year, as compared to last year's $53,727.70.

Gibson said the cost is set by the state and payments will not drop for about 20 years, when about $600,000 in accrued liability is paid. The liability consists chiefly from men who were on pension lists when firemen were placed in the state pension system.

Requests for appropriations for City Hall and City Hall Annex were up about $2,000 from that spent last year. Included were requests for improvements, termite extermination, lighting and minor remodeling.

One item which was questioned is glass doors proposed for the front entrance to City Hall. Objections were raised to the expense of glass of that type; but it was agreed something would have to be done. An air conditioner for City Hall was also discussed, but no decision reached.

Road Relocation To Begin

Work on the relocation, resurfacing and widening of the Winchester Road is expected to get underway next week. In preparation for the work some of the homes in that section are being moved back from the highway. Shown above is the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lewis. They have occupied the home for nearly half a century. The work is being done under the supervision of Don McGill and the two workmen in the picture are Peter Myers and John Grabenstein.

Hazelwood Will Begin Road Job

Work on the relocation, resurfacing and widening of Winchester Road will get underway next week, according to an announcement last night by G. Bates Chaires, district Engineer for the State Roads Commission.

The George F. Hazelwood Company has been awarded the contract since it submitted a low bid of $787,388 to the SRC.

Chaires noted that the project is one of the largest undertaken in Allegany County in recent years. The work will begin in the vicinity of the Potomac Drive-In Theater. Winchester Road extends from the Six-Mile House on U. S. Route 40 to U. S. 220 at Van Meter's Store in Cresaptown.

Work on the project is expected to get started about Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, Chaires added. Preliminary work toward relocation of the road is already underway as some private citizens are moving their homes.

One of the oldest residences along the route is now in the process of being moved. It is the property of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lewis, former residents of Frostburg. They have occupied the home for nearly a half century.

The moving of the house is being done under the supervision of Don McGill. McGill and his workmen have already moved a smaller home and razed another in that area.

Fashion Show Set Today At Playlot

A fashion show will be held at 2 p.m. today at West Side Playground according to Eve Hogan, director.

Prizes will be awarded for the most beautiful, most original, best in sports wear and beach wear. Movies will be shown at the playground at dusk.

A bus, supplied by the West Side Playground Association, will leave the playlot at 9:30 a.m. for the intra-city picnic tomorrow at Constitution Park. Each person is to bring his lunch.

W. Va. Veterans Get $66,000,000 In Bonus Claims

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 12 (AP)—West Virginia paid more than 66 million dollars for approximately 239,000 veterans' bonus claims in "Operation Bonus," State Veterans Affairs Director T. H. (Pat) McGovran said today.

In a statistical report on the state bonus program, McGovran said 238,602 claims were processed and paid and an additional 6,563 were denied for reasons of ineligibility. Less than 400 claims still must be processed, having been held up for lack of necessary papers.

The state made bonus payments to veterans of both World Wars. First claims were filed Jan. 2, 1952. The extended deadline expired last June 30.

Payments were made to West Virginia veterans in each of the state's 55 counties, every state in the union and 33 foreign countries, McGovran said.

A total of 199,978 veterans of World War II were paid $60,855,600, and 27,776 veterans of World War I received $2,988,600. Survivors of World War II dead, numbering 7,276, received $1,879,945.84, and 3,572 survivors of World War I veterans collected $424,785.

The total amount paid by the state amounted to $66,148,030.83.

Luke Mill Will Fete Legislative Council

When the Legislative Council visits Western Maryland next week the legislators will be guests of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at a luncheon Thursday, August 20, at the Westvaco Club, according to Delegate Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., who made the arrangements.

Besides the Allegany County Delegation, guests also will include the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and the Garrett County Delegation.

The Legislative Council will be in this county August 18 and 19.

Six Oak Wilt Areas Found In This Area

Six new areas in Allegany County where oak wilt has been found have been pinpointed by ground crews, according to District Forester William H. Johnson.

The areas first were spotted from the air some weeks ago by Dr. A. H. Jones of the Ohio State University faculty. Ground crew cut sample and specimen cultures were sent to Dr. Walter F. Jeffers, professor of botany at the University of Maryland, who definitely confirmed certain samples as victims of oak wilt.

Places where oak wilt has been found include two spots on McCoole Hill, near McCoole; one point on the west side of Dan's Mountain near Westernport, two areas on Franklin Hill north of Westernport and one point on Piney Mountain north of the Six Mile House.

Three new locations in Washington County also have been discovered. They are just south of Route 40 on Fairview Mountain, on the west side of Tonoloway Ridge and on the Woodmont Rod and Gun Club property on Sideling Hill, about three miles south of Route 40.

Dr. Jeffers, Dr. L. O. Weaver, plant pathologist at the University of Maryland; Dr. Curtis May, plant pathologist for the United States Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, and State Forester H. S. Buckingham examined the 18 areas in Allegany County where oak wilt was found last year and eradication measures have been completed. Dr. May favorably commented on the eradication work, Buckingham has reported to Johnson.

Eradication steps are being started this week in the six new oak wilt areas in this county. Meanwhile, Johnson plans to travel in a plane over the area in the next two weeks to see if additional areas of infestation can be found.

Kiwanians To Meet At Sunshine Camp

Instead of having their regular weekly dinner meeting at Central YMCA this week at 12:15 p. m. the Cumberland Kiwanis members will meet at Sunshine Camp.

Invited to attend are members of the Sanitarium Board, Miss Jeanette Bonig and her associates of the Associated Charities and Miss Jean Reinhard, secretary of the Allegany County Chapter of the Tuberculosis Association.

Film On Workshop For Blind Stresses Skills, Activities

Del. Charles M. See, representative of the Cumberland field office of the Maryland Workshop of the Blind, is now scheduling appointments to show a film and lecture on the activities of blind people.

See, who has already shown the movie in Washington and Frederick counties, said the film will be available on request by local civic, fraternal, church, PTA, or other groups. Schedules may be arranged by contacting Del. See in the Union Street County Building or by calling 929.

Tells The Blind's Story

See pointed out that the lecture and film is not for soliciting funds but to acquaint the public with the fact that blind persons can take care of themselves, and that they can hold down a job if given the opportunity.

The film is a series of pictures showing the activities, teaching and learned skills of blind people at the Maryland Workshop for the Blind in Baltimore. See explained that the workshop was established on April 8, 1908 when the General Assembly passed a law setting up a non-profit making agency of the state which conducts a workshop for the adult blind of Baltimore and the 23 counties.

It is for men and women, white and colored, 18 years of age and over. The present enrollment of blind clients in the building at 601 North Fulton Avenue, is 103. The workers do not live at the workshop, but come from their homes daily. In addition, five home teachers who visit the blind in their homes and give instruction in Braille and occupational training, are employed. Mrs. See is a home service teacher in Washington, Garrett and Allegany Counties.

The state workshop is the distributing agency for the U. S. Government Talking Book Machines for the blind in the state, and is also the designated licensing agency for the establishment and maintenance of vending stands for federal, state, county and municipal buildings. The workshop now has 25 blind individuals operating confection and newspaper stands in the state.

Workshop Activities

Highlights of the film shows the workshop's mop department where blind persons make different size mops, and the broom department which manufactures brooms from the house type to the warehouse and factory sizes.

It also features the blind working at chair caning and making rush chairs. These are only a few of the skills that blind individuals in the state may learn without cost. Other skills which are taught are piano tuning and radio repairing, secretarial work, telephone operators, typing, braille reading and writing and amusements, etc.

Doub Sworn In U. S. Attorney Of Maryland

Judge W. C. Chestnut Adminsters Oath

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP) — George Cochran Doub, 51-year-old Baltimore attorney, was sworn in today as U. S. attorney for Maryland.

He succeeded Bernard J. Flynn, 65-year-old Democrat who retired after 19 years in office.

More than 100 persons watched Doub take the oath in federal court from Judge W. Calvin Chesnut, who commented later that Doub's reputation as a trial lawyer is a "prima facie showing of competence."

Doub, in a short talk, pledged to fulfill the duties of the office with "vigor and honor . . . and, above all, to protect the civil rights of the individual."

Flynn hailed his successor as "an able lawyer, good citizen, and a man of high reputation."

"I solicit for him the same cooperation I have received over the years," Flynn continued. "He will need it. I have."

Regarding his own return to private law practice, Flynn said simply: "I expect to be lonesome."

Flynn's long service in the office was praised by Doub, Judge Chesnut and Chief Judge William C. Coleman. The latter said: "This community, I believe, is a better place to live in as a result of his service."

Flynn had tried to resign from the job since last January, following the Republican victory at the polls. However, there was a political battle over who would succeed him and he had to serve on until his successor was finally agreed on by the Republicans.

Cumberland Fair Receives First Hereford Entry

The Cumberland Fair was assured of having Hereford beef cattle entries for the first time in several years when A. F. O'Brien of Manns Choice, Pa., informed Assistant County Agent Joseph M. Steger, beef cattle superintendent, that he will exhibit about 10 head of that breed.

O'Brien this week has some of his Herefords on display at the Bedford Fair. Some years ago he showed Jersey dairy cattle at the Cumberland Fair.

The fair has received some criticism in recent years for having only Aberdeen Angus entered in its livestock department. More beef cattle men in Allegany County have Hereford than Angus stock, critics argued.

Meanwhile, Edgar H. Reynolds, general manager of the 36th annual Cumberland Fair, which will run from Monday, August 24, through Saturday, August 29, announced that Somerset County (Pa.) Agent C. C. McDowell will judge the maple products entered in the fair. Maple products are included in a new department at the fair.

Allegany County 4-H Club boys are being urged to get their entry blanks in now for the tractor driving contest, which will be held Thursday, August 27, at the fair. Entry blanks must be returned to Steger by August 18. Clubs which plan to have a booth exhibit at the fair must return their entry blanks by August 20.

Wheat Growers Referendum Is Set For Friday

Tomorrow is "Election Day" for 14 Allegany County wheat growers, the only ones eligible to vote in the nation-wide referendum on wheat marketing quotas for the 1954 crop.

The farmers may cast their ballots at the County PMA office, 37 Washington Street, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. tomorrow. The eligible voters—those who planted 16 acres or more in wheat the past three years—include five from Little Orleans, three from Oldtown and two each from Flintstone, North Branch and Potomac Valley.

If growers disapprove wheat marketing, price support loans for the 1954 crop wheat will be greatly reduced. If quotas are approved, and it takes a two-thirds majority to approve, wheat loans to cooperators will be at 90 per cent of parity. If the vote is unfavorable, the loan to cooperators will be 50 per cent of parity. Parity as of June 15 was $2.42 a bushel.

The Weather

Temperature continued to climb yesterday in Cumberland, and the Weather Bureau predicts even higher readings for today. Weather today is expected to be partly cloudy and rather warm with high between 85 and 90 degrees. The Bureau said there is a possibility of scattered thundershowers in this end of the state. Maximum reading yesterday was 89 according to Constitution Park weather station; low was 60, and at 8 p.m. mercury stood at 78 degrees. Humidity at 6 p.m. was 56 per cent.

2 More Area POWs Are Released

Hyndman Youth Freed From Red Korean Prison

Cpl. Harry K. Fichtner, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fichtner, of String Town, near Hyndman, Pa., was released by the Communists yesterday.

Cpl. Fichtner, according to his parents, has been a prisoner of the Reds for about two and a half years. They heard the good news from a neighbor, John Pfeiffer, who heard the report over the radio.

Mrs. Fichtner was overjoyed and happy and said "this is news I have been looking forward to for a long time."

Mrs. Fitchner learned that her son was a POW the first part of January in 1951 when she received a telegram from the War Department. Since then she has received letters from her boy and his writing shows he is in good health.

He would comment of the food he was getting and new clothes issued to him. He was active in playing baseball and often said he had just finished washing clothes down at the river.

In 1948 Cpl. Fichtner served a year in the U. S. Army and was discharged. In October of 1950 he was recalled as a member of the Army Reserve and after a refresher in basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., was sent to Japan and Korea where he was reported taken captive in January of 1951.

He attended Hyndman School and later was employed at the Amcelle here before going to the Army. A younger brother Roy is at Fort Knox now serving in the Army. He has been in the service for about seven years, with 14 months in Korea.

During World War II an older brother, Ray, served in the Army and was stationed in Germany. Cpl. Fitchner has two sisters, Hazel Browning, Fairmont, W. Va., and Miss Jean Fichtner, Corriganville.

Two Men Jailed For Stove Theft From Old School

Two Morantown men accused of stealing an old stove from the abandoned Dutch Hollow School were sentenced to 15 days in the County Jail by Magistrate Howard R. Stevens of Mt. Savage.

Jailed were Armel Sweene and Walter Harden. A third man also charged with larceny, Thomas Lynch of Mt. Savage, was paroled for 90 days. Magistrate Stevens said that the theft occurred last winter. The three were arrested Monday by State Trooper First Class William F. Baker.

The small Dutch Hollow School has not been used since June, 1952. Children from that area are now transported to the new Mt. Savage School.

Chest Group To Meet

The executive committee of the Cumberland Community Chest will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Chest Office in the Liberty Trust Building.

Robert L. McGreevy Local Athlete Is In Exchange Group

The second Cumberland POW was released by the Communists yesterday according to an official list of American prisoners freed yesterday in the ninth day of the Korean armistice POW exchange.

He is Cpl. Robert L. McGreevy, 22-year-old son of Patrick O. and Agnes C. McGreevy, 240 North Mechanic Street, who was captured by the Reds November 2, 1950.

Cpl. McGreevy's mother last night said, "we have been praying for him all this time and now our prayers are answered." She excitedly told NEWS reporters that he was a private first class when she last heard, but now she understands he is a corporal. His release is the "best news we could get," she said.

Cpl. McGreevy, who has been in the service for 39 months now, enlisted in the U. S. Army May 8, 1950. Following basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., he was sent to the west coast and shipped to Japan. After several days he was sent to Korea with Company L, 8th Regiment, First Cavalry Division.

Mrs. McGreevy said she did not hear from her son for over a year after his capture. "We didn't know whether he was alive or dead," she added.

Then a little over a year ago in 1951, Mrs. McGreevy received her first letter. She received several more shortly afterward.

Mrs. McGreevy said that a wounded soldier released in the first exchange in May wrote her a letter from a hospital in Fort McClellan, Ala., and said he had talked with her son in a Red prison.

Cpl. McGreevy had asked the wounded POW to write his mother in Cumberland and tell her he was all right.

The last letter that Mrs. McGreevy received from her soldier son was written in April this year and she received it the last week

Liberated Cumberland POW Tells Experience In Red "Death Room"

A Cumberland POW released in Korea by the Communist last week related to newsmen at Freedom Village how he was put in a Communist "death room" and was left to die.

Pfc. William H. Rhodes, 31, son of Mrs. Mary Jane Rhodes, 180 Wineow Street, related his experience in the "death room" where Communist put sick prisoners and left them to die without any attention whatever.

He told of how he cheated the "death room" and scared a Chinese woman doctor out of her wits when he emerged shakily from it long after she thought he should have been dead.

Will To Live

"I was nearly dead, but I knew why they took me to that hut we called the death room, Rhodes said. "They put me in there to die. But I told myself I was going to live.

"I was there for nine days. On the eighth day I finally crawled to the door and put my head out in the sunshine. That was as far as I could get.

"A Chinese guard kicked me back inside and closed the door. I pushed the door open again and looked at the sun. I was not going to die, I kept telling myself. He kicked it closed again."

The local soldier then told newsmen of how he crawled around the room to build up his strength.

PFC. WILLIAM H. RHODES

"Finally I pulled myself up on my knees, and then on my feet, by holding to the wall," he said. "A Chinese woman doctor came in and looked surprised to see me alive, because most people did not last one day in the death room.

"She told me to lie back down but I said no; I wanted to live. Finally I crawled outside, and they let me stay in the sunshine. I knew then I was all right."

He said the Chinese doctors would make a tour of the camp every day. "They would pick out all the very sick and put them in the death room to die", he added.

"There was no medical care in that room."

Captured In 1951

Rhodes, a Red prisoner since April, 1951, was released Saturday. Mrs. Rhodes, who is now hospitalized with an arthritic ailment at Sacred Heart Hospital, said she received several letters from her son, the latest in September 1952.

The local mother received new hope of her son's release when Pfc. Robert C. Stell, of Batlimore, who was freed by the Reds in May, sent word that he had talked with the local POW and related he was well.

A few weeks before the local prisoner was released local groups were working to provide a new home for him and his mother. Through the aid of the Allegany County Chapter of the Red Cross and the cooperation of the local Housing Authority were readying an apartment in the Benjamin Banneker Homes on Frederick Street for Rhodes and his mother.

Just two days before Pfc. Rhodes was released by the Comnunists, Mrs. Rhodes signed the final lease for occupancy of the new home.

Council Faces Eighteen Cents Increase In 1953-54 Tax Rate

Budget Paring Underway By City Officials

Second Levy Study Meeting Set Monday

The Mayor and Council took one look yesterday at budget requests which would boost the tax rate by 18 cents and spent the next three hours on plans for whittling down the total.

The meeting, the first in a series of budget talks which will end with the setting of the 1953-54 tax levy on or before August 24, was held in City Hall with all members of the Mayor and Council, City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson, City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum in attendance.

Decisions were made at the preliminary meeting for reducing a number of budget requests. City officials will study figures compiled by Gibson and resume the budget paring discussions Monday at 1:30 p.m.

Gibson opened the meeting with a report of 1952-53 expenditures and of requests made by most city departments for the fiscal year which began on July 1.

The totals, Gibson said, show that a great deal more money is involved in the budgets which have been requested.

Object To Increase

To grant the requests, he added, would mean a city tax increase of 18 cents.

Finance Commissioner William V. Keegan reported flatly he is not in favor of raising taxes beyond the amount necessary to pay for the fire truck which has been ordered for South Cumberland. The pumper, which will cost $15,354.18 was ordered last year with the understanding that funds would be provided in the 1953-54 budget.

Keegan said he thought all commissioners should cut budget figures to keep the tax rate down.

Gibson explained there will be increases in all departments to meet the full cost of a 10 per cent increase granted to city employes last year, but paid for only 10 months of the year.

Is Up To Council

Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property, pointed out that the costs of payments to the state pension system will rise $13,000 and added that all must share in the decisions which result in the new tax rate.

Gibson, who in previous years has had to force department budgets down to keep the total below the legal levy limits, told the elected officials:

"It is up to you. You will set the tax rate."

He was referring to the fact that the General Assembly boosted from 95 cents to $1.25 the ceiling under which the city may levy for operating expenses. Several items, such as the fire truck, had to be omitted last year when the full 95 cents was used.

Gibson suggested the budget job could be attacked in one of two ways — to adopt at least a tentative idea of what the tax rate should be, and work down to that point, or to go through the requests, item by item, and decide after further study.

He added that all budget requests appeared justifiable but the council must decide on how high to set the rate.

Study Budget Items

Following the preliminary discussions, city officials began a study of specific items.

The first request was for $3,000 for accident awards. This is the same as provided in last year's budget, and is about as low as the city can go, Gibson said. He added that the figure is about $500 to $1,000 less than was provided in budgets a decade ago. A total of $1,944 was spent last year, but additional money must be on hand to meet reasonable contingencies.

Requested for the Cumberland Municipal Airport was $32,825. This includes about $10,700 for the repair of 14 hangers which officials said are about ready to fall down, and $2,400 for a building to house the new airport truck. Plans were made to pare several thousand dollars from this budget.

Pension Costs Up

The City Employes Pension fund, paid into the state retirement system, will be $65,500 this year, as compared to last year's $53,727.70.

Gibson said the cost is set by the state and payments will not drop for about 20 years, when about $600,000 in accrued liability is paid. The liability consists chiefly from men who were on pension lists when firemen were placed in the state pension system.

Requests for appropriations for City Hall and City Hall Annex were up about $2,000 from that spent last year. Included were requests for improvements, termite extermination, lighting and minor remodeling.

One item which was questioned is glass doors proposed for the front entrance to City Hall. Objections were raised to the expense of glass of that type, but it was agreed something would have to be done. An air conditioner for City Hall was also discussed, but no decision reached.

Road Relocation To Begin

Work on the relocation, resurfacing and widening of the Winchester Road is expected to get underway next week. In preparation for the work some of the homes in that section are being moved back from the highway. Shown above is the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lewis. They have occupied the home for nearly half a century. The work is being done under the supervision of Don McGill and the two workmen in the picture are Peter Myers and John Grabenstein.

Hazelwood Will Begin Road Job

Work on the relocation, resurfacing and widening of Winchester Road will get underway next week, according to an announcement last night by G. Bates Chaires, district Engineer for the State Roads Commission.

The George F. Hazelwood Company has been awarded the contract since it submitted a low bid of $787,388 to the SRC.

Chaires noted that the project is one of the largest undertaken in Allegany County in recent years. The work will begin in the vicinity of the Potomac Drive-In Theater. Winchester Road extends from the Six-Mile House on U. S. Route 40 to U. S. 220 at Van Meter's Store in Cresaptown.

Work on the project is expected to get started about Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, Chaires added. Preliminary work toward relocation of the road is already underway as some private citizens are moving their homes.

One of the oldest residences along the route is now in the process of being moved. It is the property of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lewis, former residents of Frostburg. They have occupied the home for nearly a half century.

The moving of the house is being done under the supervision of Don McGill. McGill and his workmen have already moved a smaller home and razed another in that area.

Fashion Show Set Today At Playlot

A fashion show will be held at 2 p.m. today at West Side Playground according to Eve Hogan, director.

Prizes will be awarded for the most beautiful, most original, best in sports wear and beach wear. Movies will be shown at the playground at dusk.

A bus, supplied by the West Side Playground Association, will leave the playlot at 9:30 a.m. for the intra-city picnic tomorrow at Constitution Park. Each person is to bring his lunch.

W. Va. Veterans Get $66,000,000 In Bonus Claims

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 12 (AP)—West Virginia paid more than 66 million dollars for approximately 239,000 veterans' bonus claims in "Operation Bonus," State Veterans Affairs Director T. H. (Pat) McGovran said today.

In a statistical report on the state bonus program, McGovran said 238,602 claims were processed and paid and an additional 6,563 were denied for reasons of ineligibility. Less than 400 claims still must be processed, having been held up for lack of necessary papers.

The state made bonus payments to veterans of both World Wars. First claims were filed Jan. 2, 1952. The extended deadline expired last June 30.

Payments were made to West Virginia veterans in each of the state's 55 counties, every state in the union and 33 foreign countries, McGovran said.

A total of 199,978 veterans of World War II were paid $60,855,600, and 27,776 veterans of World War I received $2,988,600. Survivors of World War II dead, numbering 7,276, received $1,879,945.84, and 3,572 survivors of World War I veterans collected $424,785.

The total amount paid by the state amounted to $66,148,030.83.

Luke Mill Will Fete Legislative Council

When the Legislative Council visits Western Maryland next week the legislators will be guests of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at a luncheon Thursday, August 20, at the Westvaco Club, according to Delegate Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., who made the arrangements.

Besides the Allegany County Delegation, guests also will include the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and the Garrett County Delegation.

The Legislative Council will be in this county August 18 and 19.

Six Oak Wilt Areas Found In This Area

Six new areas in Allegany County where oak wilt has been found have been pinpointed by ground crews, according to District Forester William H. Johnson.

The areas first were spotted from the air some weeks ago by Dr. A. H. Jones of the Ohio State University faculty. Ground crew cut sample and specimen cultures were sent to Dr. Walter F. Jeffers, professor of botany at the University of Maryland, who definitely confirmed certain samples as victims of oak wilt.

Places where oak wilt has been found include two spots on McCoole Hill, near McCoole; one point on the west side of Dan's Mountain near Westernport, two areas on Franklin Hill north of Westernport and one point on Piney Mountain north of the Six Mile House.

Three new locations in Washington County also have been discovered. They are just south of Route 40 on Fairview Mountain, on the west side of Tonoloway Ridge and on the Woodmont Rod and Gun Club property on Sideling Hill, about three miles south of Route 40.

Dr. Jeffers, Dr. L. O. Weaver, plant pathologist at the University of Maryland; Dr. Curtis May, plant pathologist for the United States Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, and State Forester H. S. Buckingham examined the 18 areas in Allegany County where oak wilt was found last year and eradication measures have been completed. Dr. May favorably commented on the eradication work, Buckingham has reported to Johnson.

Eradication steps are being started this week in the six new oak wilt areas in this county. Meanwhile, Johnson plans to travel in a plane over the area in the next two weeks to see if additional areas of infestation can be found.

Kiwanians To Meet At Sunshine Camp

Instead of having their regular weekly dinner meeting at Central YMCA this week at 12:15 p. m. the Cumberland Kiwanis members will meet at Sunshine Camp.

Invited to attend are members of the Sanitarium Board, Miss Jeanette Bonig and her associates of the Associated Charities and Miss Jean Reinhard, secretary of the Allegany County Chapter of the Tuberculosis Association.

Film On Workshop For Blind Stresses Skills, Activities

Del. Charles M. See, representative of the Cumberland field office of the Maryland Workshop of the Blind, is now scheduling appointments to show a film and lecture on the activities of blind people.

See, who has already shown the movie in Washington and Frederick counties, said the film will be available on request by local civic, fraternal, church, PTA, or other groups. Schedules may be arranged by contacting Del. See in the Union Street County Building or by calling 929.

Tells The Blind's Story

See pointed out that the lecture and film is not for soliciting funds but to acquaint the public with the fact that blind persons can take care of themselves, and that they can hold down a job if given the opportunity.

The film is a series of pictures showing the activities, teaching and learned skills of blind people at the Maryland Workshop for the Blind in Baltimore. See explained that the workshop was established on April 8, 1908 when the General Assembly passed a law setting up a non-profit making agency of the state which conducts a workshop for the adult blind of Baltimore and the 23 counties.

It is for men and women, white and colored, 18 years of age and over. The present enrollment of blind clients in the building at 601 North Fulton Avenue, is 103. The workers do not live at the workshop, but come from their homes daily. In addition, five home teachers who visit the blind in their homes and give instruction in Braille and occupational training, are employed. Mrs. See is a home service teacher in Washington, Garrett and Allegany Counties.

The state workshop is the distributing agency for the U. S. Government Talking Book Machines for the blind in the state, and is also the designated licensing agency for the establishment and maintenance of vending stands for federal, state, county and municipal buildings. The workshop now has 25 blind individuals operating confection and newspaper stands in the state.

Workshop Activities

Highlights of the film shows the workshop's mop department where blind persons make different size mops, and the broom department which manufactures brooms from the house type to the warehouse and factory sizes.

It also features the blind working at chair caning and making rush chairs. These are only a few of the skills that blind individuals in the state may learn without cost. Other skills which are taught are piano tuning and radio repairing, secretarial work, telephone operators, typing, braille reading and writing and amusements, etc.

Doub Sworn In U. S. Attorney Of Maryland

Judge W. C. Chestnut Adminsters Oath

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP) — George Cochran Doub, 51-year-old Baltimore attorney, was sworn in today as U. S. attorney for Maryland.

He succeeded Bernard J. Flynn, 65-year-old Democrat who retired after 19 years in office.

More than 100 persons watched Doub take the oath in federal court from Judge W. Calvin Chesnut, who commented later that Doub's reputation as a trial lawyer is a "prima facie showing of competence."

Doub, in a short talk, pledged to fulfill the duties of the office with "vigor and honor . . . and, above all, to protect the civil rights of the individual."

Flynn hailed his successor as "an able lawyer, good citizen, and a man of high reputation."

"I solicit for him the same cooperation I have received over the years," Flynn continued. "He will need it. I have."

Regarding his own return to private law practice, Flynn said simply: "I expect to be lonesome."

Flynn's long service in the office was praised by Doub, Judge Chesnut and Chief Judge William C. Coleman. The latter said: "This community, I believe, is a better place to live in as a result of his service."

Flynn had tried to resign from the job since last January, following the Republican victory at the polls. However, there was a political battle over who would succeed him and he had to serve on until his successor was finally agreed on by the Republicans.

Cumberland Fair Receives First Hereford Entry

The Cumberland Fair was assured of having Hereford beef cattle entries for the first time in several years when A. F. O'Brien of Manns Choice, Pa., informed Assistant County Agent Joseph M. Steger, beef cattle superintendent, that he will exhibit about 10 head of that breed.

O'Brien this week has some of his Herefords on display at the Bedford Fair. Some years ago he showed Jersey dairy cattle at the Cumberland Fair.

The fair has received some criticism in recent years for having only Aberdeen Angus entered in its livestock department. More beef cattle men in Allegany County have Hereford than Angus stock, critics argued.

Meanwhile, Edgar H. Reynolds, general manager of the 36th annual Cumberland Fair, which will run from Monday, August 24, through Saturday, August 29, announced that Somerset County (Pa.) Agent C. C. McDowell will judge the maple products entered in the fair. Maple products are included in a new department at the fair.

Allegany County 4-H Club boys are being urged to get their entry blanks in now for the tractor driving contest, which will be held Thursday, August 27, at the fair. Entry blanks must be returned to Steger by August 18. Clubs which plan to have a booth exhibit at the fair must return their entry blanks by August 20.

Wheat Growers Referendum Is Set For Friday

Tomorrow is "Election Day" for 14 Allegany County wheat growers, the only ones eligible to vote in the nation-wide referendum on wheat marketing quotas for the 1954 crop.

The farmers may cast their ballots at the County PMA office, 37 Washington Street, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. tomorrow. The eligible voters—those who planted 16 acres or more in wheat the past three years—include five from Little Orleans, three from Oldtown and two each from Flintstone, North Branch and Potomac Valley.

If growers disapprove wheat marketing, price support loans for the 1954 crop wheat will be greatly reduced. If quotas are approved, and it takes a two-thirds majority to approve, wheat loans to cooperators will be at 90 per cent of parity. If the vote is unfavorable, the loan to cooperators will be 50 per cent of parity. Parity as of June 15 was $2.42 a bushel.

The Weather

Temperature continued to climb yesterday in Cumberland, and the Weather Bureau predicts even higher readings for today. Weather today is expected to be partly cloudy and rather warm with high between 85 and 90 degrees. The Bureau said there is a possibility of scattered thundershowers in this end of the state. Maximum reading yesterday was 89 according to Constitution Park weather station; low was 60, and at 8 p.m. mercury stood at 78 degrees. Humidity at 6 p.m. was 56 per cent.

"There was no medical care in that room."

Captured In 1951

Rhodes, a Red prisoner since April, 1951, was released Saturday. Mrs. Rhodes, who is now hospitalized with an arthritic ailment at Sacred Heart Hospital, said she received several letters from her son, the latest in September 1952.

The local mother received new hope of her son's release when Pfc. Robert C. Stell, of Batlimore, who was freed by the Reds in May, sent word that he had talked with the local POW and related he was well.

A few weeks before the local prisoner was released local groups were working to provide a new home for him and his mother. Through the aid of the Allegany County Chapter of the Red Cross and the cooperation of the local Housing Authority were readying an apartment in the Benjamin Banneker Homes on Frederick Street for Rhodes and his mother.
